

Phi Beta Names New '47 Officers

The election of new officers for the year of 1946-47 was held at the regular meeting of Phi Beta on Thursday, February 28, at the home of Mrs. Edward Gray. The new officers include: President, Patricia Metcalf; 1st vice-president, Patricia Jordan; 2nd vice-president, Sylvia Killman; secretary, Ailene Wendt; treasurer, Roberta Quigley; historian, Berta Reische; reporter, Robbieburr Warrens; assistant reporter, Becky Fish. The newly-elected officers will be installed at the next regular meeting.

A musical program prepared by Janet Shafer and Sylvia Killman was presented following the election of officers. Those participating were: Hazel Northrup, Elizabeth DeCou, Elida DeBortoli, and Joyce Jordan, an alum.

Following the business meeting and music portion of the program, refreshments were served by the alums.

Miss Foreman Visits

Ruth Foreman, '45, last year a journalism major at the University, returned to the campus Tuesday visiting friends. Miss Foreman of Monroe left last year because of ill health, and plans to return next year to complete her education.

43 Prospects

Forty-three prospects turned out for the meeting, including seven pitchers, six catchers, seventeen infielders, and thirteen outfielders. But, so far as Coach Hobson knows, there will be no returning lettermen on the 1946 varsity team, although there is still a chance an Order of the O man may turn out after spring term starts.

Hobby said at the meeting that regular practice would start March 29 and that he would expect all candidates to be in Eugene for the first workouts because there would choices included Washington State's Vince Hanson at center, Glen Warren of Oregon State at the other forward post, and Crandall of Oregon State at the other guard.

So much for the mere names.

Actually there was a number of melon performers who were more than adequate in their parade on the pinewoods. It's hard to eliminate such lads as Kenny Hays, Le Don Henson of Washington, Carbaugh of Idaho, Anderson of OSC, and little Stan Williamson.

It would be a lot of fun to see be only three weeks in which to get into condition for conference play.

In order to prevent players from turning out who are not eligible, Hobby outlined the conference eligibility rules to the men at the meeting. He said if a player is in school this term he must pass at least ten hours of work to be eligible for this season. If a candidate successfully or in other words passed five times the number of hours he has flunked.

A slight change in the schedule of conference games was completed this week to give Oregon a longer time to get into condition. The two games scheduled with OSC for April 12-13 have been moved up to May 24-25 and Washington State will be Oregon's opening opponent for conference play on April 17-18.

Idaho's coach Babe Brown selected the following men on his Northern division team: Dick Wilkins (O) and Fred Quinn (Idaho) at forwards; Red Rocha (Oregon State), center; Bob Hamilton (O) and Len Pyne (Idaho) guards.

The complete Emerald tabulation:

April 17-18, WSC; April 22-23, May 3-4, Idaho; May 6-7, WSC; Idaho; April 26-27, Washington; May 8-9, Washington; May 18-20, OSC; May 24-25, OSC.

Horse to Watch: Tropical Sea, a fine colt that has been showing much signs of life lately. Sired by the immortal Seabiscuit, this high-stepping youngster from Charly Howard's barn is not to be overlooked.
