YWCA Group Plans Garden Tour Sunday

A tour of Chase Gardens greenhouses Sunday, March 10, will terminate Town and Gown's activities for winter term. The YWCA group will be shown through the Gardens in the afternoon and will have the chance to see many types of flowers including orchids being raised.

This will provide not only a social, but also an educational opportunity for all those interested.

Any "Y" member wishing to attend should contact her Town and Gown house representative or call Shirley Pfaffle, coordinator, at Gamma hall.

Claire Lewis Stars As 'Fascinating Casey'

With green eyes dancing and a voice bubbling with enthusiasm, Claire Lewis needed little or no persuasion to talk of the original drama holding its world premiere on the University stage tonight. Holding down the leading role in the play, the attractive young freshman in music says Casey is "one of the most interesting individuals I've ever known, in addition to being a fascinating person to portray." Her realistic reference to the characters in the play gave further evidence of the clear studies of humanity Elenore Gullion has made in writing this full-length drama.

Graduating from high school in Camas, Washington, last spring Claire entered the University's school of music the following September and immediately began lessons under Sigurd Nilssen. Possessing a deep interest in music, she studied piano since the age of five and began voice work several years ago. While attending Camas high school, she took part in a number of music comedies and also participated in as much dramatic work as was offered. The slender soprano expressed a special fondness for classical music, primarily the opera, and she also likes "good" popular pieces. Evidence of these likings is her rapidly growing record collection.

Claire makes her University home at Hendricks hall, where she was chosen Victory Queen candidate last fall.

A pair of ill-fitting shorts can put you through these setting-up exercises. A pair of Arrow Shorts; never!

If you're the analytical type, you can see why from these facts: Arrow Shorts have no chafing center seam. They're roomy. They're Sanforized-labeled for permanent fit. They're designed strictly for comfort.

P.S. If your Arrow dealer hasn't the one you want, try him again.
