

Reader Poll Tells Best-Read Stories

A readership poll of the March 1 issue of the Emerald, taken of approximately two per cent of the enrolled students early this week, indicated that the best-read story was the one about Governor Earl Snell's explanation of the proposed Klamath Falls school for veterans. About 69 per cent of those interviewed had read that story.

Best read item on the sports pages of Friday's paper was "Duck Tracks" written by Leonard Turnbull, noted by 48.5 per cent. Next was "A Duck Sez—Sez He" by Lynn Smith, followed by the Frosh basketball game and Larry Lau's, "A Tout's Report."

The stories about the constitution election held March 6 and the opposition of the Independent Students association to the proposed constitution was read by 47 per cent.

Letters to the editor and the Klamath Falls project received the second largest readership, nearly 25 per cent. It was noted by those who conducted the interviews that nearly every veteran read the Snell conference story, the letters to the editor, and the editorial, all of which discussed the Klamath Falls proposal.

The editorial placed sixth on the list with 45.6 per cent reading it.

Although hidden under a new name, the gossip column was studied by 54 per cent. Interviews of Bob Weston and Estelle Shimshak, who are playing two of the leading roles in the Theater Guild's latest production, "Out Flew the Web," attracted the attention of an even half of those interviewed.

Interviewers noted that almost everyone looked at the pictures and read the captions underneath, even though they read nothing else on the page.

Some interviewees, particularly those living off campus, complained that enough Emeralds are not distributed and that they receive their copies irregularly.

Among those assisting with the survey were Jean Patterson, Christine Christian, Charles Herring, Dick Shelton, Marilyn Sage, Roberta Brophy, June Goetze, Jeanette Grant, and Laura Olson.

UO STUDENTS VOICE

(Continued from page one) ganized, and more and better assistance.

Charles Cinnamon, veteran, old student: I have a lot of dislikes. They should break it down to the different schools in which people are majoring instead of having so many different places to register. Betty Holeman, old student: It's very unorganized, and there are too many unnecessary details.

WRITERS NECESSARY

Once again the beginning of a term finds the sports staff of the Emerald under-manned. Men are needed to cover the varied fields of athletics here at the University. All men interested are urged to contact either Fred Beckwith or Leonard Turnbull or come to the sports room of the Journalism building any evening after 7:30.

Paul Hillar, veteran, old student: It was very orderly disorder in Johnson hall. I thought the navy was fouled up, but at least they had men to keep things in order.

Ray Straub, old student: Registration is swell. Things went pretty smoothly for me.

Vivian Hodes, veteran, transfer: I think it's all fouled up. It doesn't move fast enough, and there should be more people to help.

Jim Newquist, veteran, old student: It's well-organized. It took me about 15 minutes to complete my registration.

Jan Morrison, veteran, returned student. I don't believe it's any worse than before I left. It could be made a lot clearer. The directions are too vague.

VACCINATIONS

(Continued from page one) seven years, every student who has not received a vaccination within the last five years should do so at once.

Recent reports from epidemic areas on the coast say that the disease is the virulent type, consequently the health service can not assure complete protection even when vaccination has been given within the last few years. It is assumed, however, that a general measure of immunity should exist.

EYLER BROWN

(Continued from page one) Brown saw service in France. He is married and has one child, an 11-year-old boy.

The appointment of Brown as acting dean became effective March 15 and is subject to confirmation by the state board of higher education.

MRS. G. WICKHAM

(Continued from page one) of a sabbatical leave for Horace Robinson, assistant professor of speech and dramatic art, and former acting manager of educational activities.

Drama Professor Plans U S Survey

Horace Robinson, assistant professor of speech and dramatic arts and acting educational activities manager, has received leave from the University and left March 25 on an extended tour of college dramatic schools throughout the United States. Robinson was accompanied by two of his students, Jim Davidson and Bob Weston.

According to Robinson, the group will first travel across the northern part of the country, visiting such universities as Iowa, Wisconsin, Minnesota, Northwestern, Indiana and Ohio, among others. This portion of the trip will be culminated by six weeks in New York, during which they will see and study the Broadway plays.

The return trip will be through the southern states, stopping at the universities of North and South Carolina, Texas, Louisiana, etc., and returning to this campus about June 15. During the trip they will investigate the equipment, procedure, and methods of the various schools and of the professional stage.

"The main purpose is for our own education, although we hope to pick up some valuable suggestions for the University theater," Mr. Robinson said.

Editor Petitions Due

Candidates for the positions of Oregon editor and Emerald editor must turn in their petitions at the educational activities office in McArthur court by 5 p.m., Thursday, April 4.

The educational activities board will interview applicants at 7 p.m. Monday, April 8.

Petitions for business manager of the Emerald and Oregon must be filed at the office by 5 p.m., Thursday, April 11, and candidates will be interviewed at 3 p.m., Monday, April 15.

Southern Positions Available for Graduates

Good jobs are available with the Southern company of Jacksonville, Florida, according to Mrs. Jeanette Hahner, who is in charge of graduate employment at the University.

Mrs. Hahner was informed of the openings by Doug Milne, graduate of '38 and former president of Phi Delta Theta. He stated that a few men are needed as food brokerage businessmen. The applicants must be experienced in the field of food products, preferably wholesale. Persons with retail grocery experience, however, will be considered. These positions pay a salary of $4800 a year plus commissions.

Any persons interested in a position with the Southern company should get in touch with Mrs. Hahner at the University employment service office.

HOUSE OF BONDED DIAMONDS

Forester JEWELERS

756-760 Willamette EUGENE, OREGON Telephone 3131

For all three ABC

ALWAYS Milder BETTER TASTING COOLER SMOKING

All the Benefits of Smoking Pleasure

Always Buy CHESTERFIELD

RIGHT COMBINATION—WORLD'S BEST TOBACCOS—Properly Aged

The sight of this make you hungry?

OUR CAKES, PIES, ROLLS, SALADS

will appeal to you

You'll come back for more at the . . .

HOME BAKERY AND DELICATESSEN

86 E. Broadway

Phone 4118