throw get away for another two-base boot.

The second gift Portland run scored in the second. Carlascio was safe on Walt Kirsch's bobble, moved to second on a bunt, went to third when Clyde Greene was forced to throw Vic LaPorte out after a dropped third strike, and scored when Vince Pesky, who walked, was run down between first and second.

Two more tallies crossed the plate in the fourth. Leo Keppinger was safe on Rannie Smith's boot and moved around on Mario DeChristoforo's single to left, a mis-played sacrifice and Bud Santee's bingle to center.

DeChristoforo was cut down at the plate on the same play by John Jones' fine throw. Pesky followed with another single and Carlascio, who had been safe on an error, scored.

Oregon made a bid in the fifth after Carlascio had set them down in order for four innings. Bob Santee, older brother of Portland's Bud and playing his first game since returning from the service, walked. After two force plays at second, Johnson picked up his scratch hit and both men scored when Bud Santee threw Greene's grounder into the stands.

An error and a walk gave the Ducks another chance in the sixth but Bob Santee popped up and Jim Norvell skied to right.

Another error with two out in the seventh gave Oregon renewed hope, but Pinch-hitter Lou Hlapcich went down swinging to end the ball game.

Don Dibble with three hits, Norvell with a pair, including a triple, and Smith with another brace of safeties, one of which went for two bases, led the Webfoot attack in the first game.

Portland contributed six errors and the Pilot hurlers tossed in a hit batter and 13 walks to do the cause. In fact, Portland couldn't do anything right and the Ducks took full advantage of the situation.

In the sixth Portland gave the fans a chuckle when they picked Jones off first with the bases full. They started to run him down and then picked Johnson off third. Johnson made it back to the hot corner and then they managed to trap Smith off the middle sack. But Smith eluded his persuers and all the runners ended up where they started.

Four hits, three after two were out, pushed across four runs in the second frame. Oregon went scoreless until the fifth and then punched home three runs on five hits and an error. The rally ended with the bases full when Kirsch went down swinging.

Bob Orth went to the hill in the sixth for Portland and was touched for five runs, mainly because he passed four men. Saltzman banged out a couple to right to aid his own cause in the wild frame.

Dick Orth replaced his brother in the seventh and had little more success in getting by the Duck hitters. He hit Johnson and walked four other batters to keep himself in hot water. Three runs scored and the bases were full when

Three Men Lost For 17th Oregon-OSC Relays Today

By AL PIETSCHMAN

Facing Oregon State in the first relay meet since 1943, the 17th running of the Oregon-Oregon State relays is set for Hayward field at 2:30 this afternoon. Spikes sharpened and ready to go, the Duck harriers are prepared to test their combined speed against the Beavers in an effort to even up the record of eight wins and seven losses posted by the Beavers.

An atomic bomb, in the form of ineligibility, hit Colonel Bill Hayward and his track men on the eve of the season's first meet. With the relay teams picked for the big track clash, the dope was that three more trackmen were ineligible for participation this spring.

Runners cut from the squad by crippling announcement were speedy sprinter Carl Maxey, promising half-miler and miler Johnny Joachims and shotputter Curt Deskins. Earlier this week Steve Warren, stocky miler, was disqualified.

The ineligibility of the runners, all ex-servicemen, resulted from failure to be properly briefed on the eligibility rules governing athletics attending Oregon. They know now—but it's too late to remedy the situation, except in Maxey's case. The flashy sprinter sent a special message to Gonzaga university last night urging them to forward his transcripts via air. If the transcripts arrive before his race today and are accepted by the University, he will compete.

Definitely chagrined at the turn in events, Coach Hayward immediately started searching for possible replacements of the men lost. Interrupting runners from their light before-the-meet workouts, Hayward checked on their previous experience and by the end of the day he had men switched and entered in different races.

Kirsch again went down swinging. Norvell's triple in the eighth accounted for the final Oregon run. Norvell's hit drove in Bill Long from first and gave the long-hitting third sacker four RBIs for the day.

Led by Bill Beifuss, member of the record holding team of Les Steers, Jim Harris, and Bud McKee, the high jumping team should pick up points for the Ducks. Returning to school after a long session in the service, Beifuss has been spending the past week regaining his form. The complete team of high jumpers is Fred Hessell, Bill Scrieder, Tom Gerity and Beifuss.

Hayward's shotputters are Chuck Elliot, Jim Sheppard, Mason and Frary. The four strong men can push the iron ball a long ways and their team total should be impressive.

The exciting quarter mile relay is slated after the two field events and should be one of the closest contests of the afternoon. Paced by fireball Jake Leicht, the team consists of Dave Edwards, Paul McCracken and Frank Holmes.

Walt McClure, Paul Smith and converted milers George Hammick and Hugh Stapleton enter the third event as Oregon's strong two-mile relay team.

Next on the schedule is the 880-yard relay with the Webfoot's quarter-mile team listed again.

Booked as the fifth event is the shuttle-hurdle relay. Oregon's entrants are Dave Edwards, Fred Hessell, Gordon Albright, and Larson. Edwards is the senior man on the squad and will lead his teammates against State.

The grueling four mile relay follows the hurdle event and Coach Hayward is still undecided on the men that will run.

Closing the afternoon's action, the mile relay team composed of Dick Shelton, Evans Cantrell, Ernie Schauer and LeRoy Erickson, will pit its speed against that of Doc Swan's group.
