

Church Notices

By ROY WILLIAMS

Palm Sunday, the religious commemoration of the entry of Jesus Christ into Jerusalem, will be observed by distinctive services in the churches of Eugene.

The First Baptist church, 868 High St., offers the regular University Sunday school at 9:45 a.m., followed by the sermon "Crown or Crucify," by Dr. V. H. Webster at 11 a.m. The University Fellowship group meets at 6:30 p.m., and the evening sermon, "Christ the Good Shepherd," supplemented by a special choir effect, "makes for a message framed in song."

Masses in St. Mary's Catholic church, 1962 Charnelton, are at 6:45, 8, 9:15, and 10:30. During the 10:30 mass there will be a distribution of palms.

The topic of the 11 a.m. sermon at the First Christian church, 1166 Oak St., is "Kingly Christ," by Hugh N. McCallum, pastor. R. D. Millican, associate professor at this University, will speak at the Town and Campus meeting at 6:15 p.m. Mrs. W. Peterson will do a "Devotional chalk drawing," accompanied by the singing of Miss Miriam McCallum. The evening sermon, 7:30 p.m. is "Smiting the Shepherd."

"What is the Christian Life" will be the topic of discussion in the Wheeler room of the Congregational church College fireside under the direction of Miss Mary Grubbs. The discussion is an outgrowth of the Congregational conference for college students held at Oregon State college last weekend. Rev. W. G. Nicholson will speak on "Palm Sunday Truth" at 11 a.m. Soloist Mrs. Ione Lewis, soprano, will sing "Open the Gates."

St. Mary's Episcopal church 166 13th E., holds the holy communion at 8 a.m. in the chapel. The 11 o'clock service will consist of prayer and sermon. There will be a distribution of palms. E. S. Bartlam is the rector.

Rev. Charles E. Fogg, First Evangelical church, 834 Monroe, has for his 11 o'clock sermon topic "Triumphal Entry"; the evening service, 7:30 p.m., is "Passion." The director of the choir is Guy Delamarter, history major, of this University.

Miss Alice Carlson, missionary from Columbia, South America, is to speak at the Lighthouse Temple, 1209 Olive, at 11 o'clock Sunday morning. An outstanding musical program is planned by the choir and orchestra.

Palm Sunday is reception day for new members at the Methodist church, 1185 Willamette. Rev. L. O. Griffith has chosen "Palm Sunday Meditation" for his 11 o'clock sermon. Doris Helen Calkins, harpist, will play.

"The Lord of All" is the topic of the 11 o'clock sermon to be given by Rev. J. L. Sawyer at the United Lutheran church, 315 13th E. Students are cordially invited to Church School at 9:45 a.m.

The Church of the Nazarene, 812 Madison, offers services at 11 a.m. and 7:30 a.m. The 11 o'clock sermon is entitled "Behold Thy King Cometh!"

The Palm Sunday sermon by the Rev. Donald D. Dod at the Fairmount Presbyterian church, 15th and Villard, is to be "The Character of the Crowd." Students living on the east side of the campus are urged to make this their church home.

Jam for Breakfast

dred, not Buster) will like her new Crown album, and can hunt for it. Les Brown is turning out consistently clean Columbia things, and, if someone could inject a bit more life, might easily turn into this year's "Band of the—." Les' newest: "Doctor, Lawyer." Still the finest kick in said band is Ted Nash and his "stratospheric" tenor. Pete Brown, rotund, subtle, pleasing, jovial altoist just made two sides for Savoy. Personnel sounds terrible, but Brown himself is enough. George Williams is the big man behind Krupa's "Harriet," "Yesterdays," etc. A good arranger.

Widmer On Variety

Herbie Widmer will handle the music for next Wednesday eve's "Campus Variety Show." Time: 9-9:30 p.m. Stations: KOAC or KEX.

Understand that things were jolly as could be Thursday night at the Holland. Idea behind the merry doings: men and women would line up, facing each other; first woman to rush at her opposing male partner, disrobe him to the waist, secure his undershirt, received a pair of nylons. What is this elder generation coming to? Huh?
