For better or for worse.

Tuesday ayem—column time—here it is, read it with your morning coffee and cigarette.

Back together, through stormy weather, are Delta Zeta Mae Bignell and Sigma Chi Cam Mallory . . . A pin-planting wasn't enough so ATO Don Closson and Theta Charlotte Gething upped and got engaged last week . . . Chi O Phyll Roach married Norman Austin Sunday afternoon. Seen at the wedding was Chi O alum Carolyn McKinley, soon to be married herself . . . Add combos: Gamma Phi Diane Mead and Sigma Nu Walt Donovan . . . Probably one of the longest pin-plantings in history was that of Pi Phi Wanda Shaw and Beta Ken Jackson. Seems the strings are broken.

Ah . . . Spring

Spring is here: Hal Dove has discovered the charm of a Kappa in sleek Mary Lou Hill . . . Those sharp tans around the millrace area belong to Kappa Sig Reed Grasle and Alpha Phi Patty Newton . . . One of our buddies, Tri-Delt Flora Kibbler buzzed into town the other day. She's been teaching school of late, but enrolls in Stanford this summer . . . Also back for a visit was ATO John Lauc, lookin' fit-as-a-fiddle after those three years in the service . . . Fiji Luke Bacelleri is making the rounds of Alpha hall . . . SAE Gil Pease went on a fishing trip the other day, but didn't do so well, cuz he fell in the McKenzie . . . Chuck Beckner and Bill Williams kinda flopped in their initial try as bouncers out at Willamette Park.

A Duck's Luck

Loose-leaf leakings: Alpha Phi Dottie Wightman assisted Beta Bill Yates to enjoy picnic-time Sat eve. . . Alpha Xi Delta Shirley Sisley and Phi Psi Larry Lau were cheek-to-cheeking at one of the better known roadspots over the weekend . . . Peggy Finnell, Pi Phi, is still agog over the recent visit of Johnny Wheeler, who trained up from California to see her . . . Theta Dagmar Shanks fainted at the eight ayem Easter service at the Episcopal church Sunday . . . Poor Alpha Chi Lois McConkey is sufferin' from a bad case of poison oak . . . Gamma Phi Jo Anne Preble celebrated Easter morn by accepting Bill Scheer's Beta pin . . . Chi O Barbara Lee Cheney went home for the weekend, so Beta Jack Morrow spent Saturday night playing bridge at the Chi O house. . . A comely couple cuttin' confusin' capers is Kappa Sig Don Wingate and Delta Zeta Joanne Utz. Both of their houses are having big events on ditto nights; which will win out?

No, Not That!

Clippings for the kids: "Captain" Jim Benhay, Fiji, has several fish-hooks in his back and the lines all lead to the Delta Gamma house and to the hands of pretty Jeanne Long . . . We're wondering if it's a thing of the past for Tri-Delt Jane Corchran and Fiji Paul Smith. . . Honored at a formal Sunday Easter dinner at Phi Kappa Psi were Beaver Wittwer (Sigma Kappa), Kay Schneider (Chi O) and Molly Claire (Alpha Phi). each guest was presented with a red rose corsage. Typically Phi Psi was the hot dogs and potato chip picnic that followed . . . SAE Fletcher Shillern was here on leave with his time being taken up by Gamma Phi Joan Pogson . . . Theta Janet Davis returned from Portland with a 1942 baby-blue Cadillac. Bob Powell squired her over the weekend up north . . .

Criminy!

Crime department: Someone swiped Lena Little, (Alpha Chi freshman car) from a service station, punctured its gas tank, delivered it to the front of the Alpha Chi house Friday evening on its side. A Sigma Alpha Epsilon auto was seen near the crime . . . Add pairings: Theta Louranna Preston and Fiji Francis Thorn . . . Don Leedom waited one week after receiving his Beta pin before bestowing it upon Pi Phi Marylou Kelper . . . Tri-Delt Janet Watts is still tellin' her pals 'bout the good time she had with Fiji Chuck Taylor the other night . . . Wanted: a movie projector. Kindly contact Peggy Ziegler, Pi Phi, who has some smashing reels of Hawaii, that she's dying to screen . . . The Sis Scott league comes up with still another entry. This time it's George "I'm glad I Waited For You" Watkins. Hiya, J. B. . . DU Frank Dilling has been picnicing with Chub Watson of late.

Ad Department

Coralling the chatter: Paid advertisement—Poor Bob Sullivan, Phi Delt, has been trying his darndest to meet Gamma Phi Jo Anne Knight, but she continues to go out of her way to avoid him . . . Lee Eden, brother of the Sig Ep's Doug, paid a visit the other day and wound up with a date with B. J. McKenzie . . . The Milt Sparks Fan Club held a regular meeting at a recent DU-Chi O picnic. Each of the honored Chi O lassies wore a sign on her back indicating membership to the Sparks club . . . Kappa Sig Bob Welch and Sigma Kappa "Johnny" Johnson are getting along famously . . . Phi Psi Jim Longwood is despondently resigning himself to studying on

Clips and Comments

Washington State College— "What Madness" is the theme of the 1946 Junior Review. Singing, dancing, beautiful girls and election of the Junior Prom queen highlight events.

University of Indiana—facing an unprecedented mounting tide of applications for admission next fall, upped the free for out-of-state students from $62.50 to $153.75 a semester.

Southern Cal—Paying a penny a vote, SC students will choose their "ideal man" from a group of six stalwart contestants to rule at their Amazon-Blue Key Trojanality dance. The man with the greatest financial backing will be the victor and all proceeds from this collection will be turned over to the World Student Service Fund. The "ideal man" will receive a perpetual trophy.

Stanford University—New scholarship regulations have been announced at Stanford, indicating the swing towards higher academic standards. Every student will be required to keep a closer check on his grade point average than he has in the past.

UCLA—Bruins writer will attempt to solve the problem of man's inheritance differences when they compete in a current essay contest based on the theme "Are all men created equal?" Silver cup and plaque are offered for winning essays.

Saturday evening. Apparently a little Theta is not shedding any tears over the deal . . . Add faces-that-light-up-dept: Fiji Don McSweeney after those phone calls from former Kappa Mary Barnett now at Dominican college.

Late But Still Here

Too Late To Classify: A gang of Chi O's went on a two mile hike in the rain and mud to attend a Beta picnic . . . Glad to see AD Pi Marilyn Fanelli back in school. She changed her mind about staying in California . . . Fiji Uncle Bert George "Sportin' Life" Cox is trying to ease the pain of his loss in the Gamma Foo house . . . Add combos: DU Forrest Kjemhus and Chi O Pat Davies . . . DU Jim Young ran into a wall Friday eve. Perhaps he found what he was lookin' for . . . Chi O Mary Patten has a black eye . . . Some men strike out every once in a while, but Hank Kavanaugh fanned three times Saturday . . . Ho hum . . . One of the best passers we've seen in years is varsity halfback Bill Behrens. He really looked good last Friday night on the gridiron. Didja know that Edgar Buchanan, the movie star, is a brother of the Miss Buchanan who teaches English at Oregon? . . . Jack Donovan is booking space well in advance at the Gamma Phi house . . . Ken Hume is still lookin' for greener pastures. Phi Delt Tommy Kay had a wonderful time Sunday with Gamma Phi Joanie Hibbs.

In Closing: Grab that last doughnut and scam off to class. We'll be back (it's inevitable) Friday morn with more rumors and light stuff about YOU, dear readers.

Royal Expenses . . .

The honor of being chosen as a member of the Junior Weekend court has a catch to it. Her royal highness and her princesses will be billed for part of the prices of the royal gowns.

Gowns fit for the queen and her court may cost from $20 to $50 if the example set in other years is followed. The budget allows $10 for each dress, and the members of the court foot the rest of the bill. Since last year's budget allowed only $5 apiece, the increase to $10 is a step in the right direction.

The system is not altogether unfair. This year, the court, the coronation chairman, and the Junior Weekend chairmen will select the style of dress. They plan to find a pattern that will be a suitable formal for other occasions as well as for the Weekend festivities.

However, like bridesmaids' dresses, the gowns will not be the choices of the individuals, and they may be very unnecessary additions to their wardrobes. And the junior coeds should not be charged for the honor of being royal personages for the Weekend.

Two things can be done this year. If there is anything left in the "slush" (incidental) fund, the committee can appropriate an equal share to the queen and princesses to cut their expenses. Or, if there is any profit after the junior class has received its customary $200, part of it can be used to reimburse the members of the court.

In the future, the committee may be able to budget enough to pay the complete price of the gowns. Otherwise, some future court may be chosen for ability to pay.

nization" attempting to get Mac court for a Friday night dance, this weekend. Evidently they might not be able to raise the desperately-needed $100, as their share of the Van Doren fund, and want a money-making affair to clinch the contribution. Noble motive, if faculty factions let the Igloo out for any cause other than fur-lining a class bank account.

Summer Settings

Personal survey notes: The Bungalow at Seaside, the dance-hall at Rockaway, possibly Willamette Park, Jantzen Beach and the Palais Royale, all plan a helluva summer. Short and sweet: they'll all be open from July to September.

I will admit having read the April 8 issue of Down Beat completely. For one reason: Mike Levin's great review of Woody Herman's Carnegie concert. Our chips have never seen a more completely sympathetic treatment of a difficult job; writing of a difficult job. Though often overly biased (NY critics have had only two chances during the year, thus far, to hear the Herd in person), they have not resorted to mass panning the moment Woody stepped into the hinterlands for popularity-creating one-nighters. Nor did they pick apart the band's performance of Stravinsky's obviously near-impossible score.

Mostly Good

Levin's only adverse comment, and certainly not a caustic one at that, concerned Ralph Burns' often tiresome use of high register trumpets, plus rhythmic interpolations which have been criticized as being "too much" for a four-man section to cut.

Jam for Breakfast

By Ted Hallock

We were just musing over what happened to Johnny Richards all of a sudden. John, you recall, had the great outfit which played at Hermosa's Zucca's for so long, then at the Hollywood Club, one of LA's less elite clippers. Had good arrangements (evidence: "Jealousy," "Musicraft"), and good men. Please inform if whereabouts known.

McElroy's and KGW-NBC's Van Hoomissen is filling odd Monday and Sunday nights at J. Beach. Chalk up one more error for Hue-depohl, and NBC. Al Donahue currently at J. B. on live nights. Reading the Oregonian radio schedule, we came across Barnet Nover on W at 10:15 p.m. nightly. Spent three hours trying to figure whether a smart music ed had coined a new word for ork, or Nover was Latin for Charlie. Turned out the guy is a very sad commentator of sorts. KALE has initiated a full hour of fairly hep disc music each and every eve. Time. 11-11:30 p.m.

Saturday Sessions

Word received that J. Brorby, of the Side Brorbys, has finally nailed an 88, which should appear during this week and contribute to lively sessions from now on. Original plan stands: Clambakes each Saturday afternoon from 2-5. All campus musikers invited.
