

Oregon Bombards Idaho Again 13 to 2

Four down and 12 to go.

Washington will try to cut the high flying Oregons down on Friday and Saturday. Then comes the grueling trip through Washington and Idaho. The four games with Oregon State follow in a space of 10 days and then it's all over for 1946.

After leaving here with two losses, Buck Bailey's Washington State crew isn't helping the Ducks a bit. They dropped two at Corvallis and lost both at Seattle. Washington is right in the thick of the battle and that makes the two games here a real attraction.

Idaho also leaves Howe Field with a pair of losses. Nothing would help the Webfoots any more than to have the Vandals get rough with the Beavers and grab a pair today and tomorrow. Even a split would take the pressure off the Ducks.

Big Lyle Pettyjohn's relief performances at Salem and against the Vandals yesterday boosted the stock of the Oregon pitching staff. If that pop-fly-in-the-sun-double had been handled he would have been able to rack up six and a third scoreless innings.

Oregon will need all the pitching it can get for those six games in seven days on the road trip.

The final games with Oregon State, starting May 18 and finishing May 25, may well decide the race for the 1946 crown. A lot can happen between today and May 18, but it could be the decider.

CECILS A PAIR

Ralph Coleman has a pair of Cecils playing for him this season who may prove to be an awful headache for the Oregon nine. Don is a great big righthander with plenty of speed and lots of savvy.

He learned his pitching from three older brothers, Rex, Lonnie and Bill. Coast league and Red Sox fans will remember Rex as the curve ball chucker who burned up the league with the San Diego team in 1944 and finished the season with the Boston Americans.

Don is a veteran of the rough Southern California winter loop. The league is full of double AA ball players and he won his share of games.

The other Cecil is Dorwood. He is a nephew of Don's and handles the first sack. Lefty O'Doul and Pepper Martin call him the finest young prospect they've seen in a long time.

His only weakness, and it's a big one for a first sacker, is at the plate. But in the field he is class personified. Last reports had him signed with the Louisville club in the American Association. Then he turned up in Corvallis.

Don't miss his performance here. Many experts tab him as the greatest fielding first baseman, pro or otherwise, to play on the coast for 10 years.

HYMIE MAY BE BACK

Football fans who watched Tony Crish in action last Friday night may have a chance to see his old running mate in an Oregon uniform again next fall.

Hymie Harris is back in school and his presence at one of the wing spots would go a long way towards solving the problem of good ends—a real nut to crack for any coach. Good ends aren't found every day.

Both Tex Oliver and Bill Hayward agree that while the services may give an athlete a lot of work and may toughen him up, it's all wrong for sports conditioning.

The big problem is getting the pins back in running order. That was the big reason for the cancellation of the game this Saturday—the underpins can't stand the gaff this early in the season.

Rodiger, Crish Hit Homeruns To Lead Rally

Oregon's slugging Webfoots concentrated all their power into the last three innings against Idaho Tuesday on Howe field to win their fourth straight Northern Division game 13 to 2.

For five innings big John Dailey, Vandal right handed hurler turned Duck hitters back with a string of goose eggs, but the Oregons blasted out of their batting lethargy in the sixth frame to collect six runs on five hits and put the ball game safely into the win column.

With the victory the Webfoots maintained their blistering pace in the Northern Division conference play and kept firm hold on first spot.

Idaho took the lead in the game yesterday when they collected the first of their two runs in the third frame on a hit batsman, a pair of fielders choices and a single to right field. Dailey, who was credited with the win over the University of Washington Saturday, apparently had the Duck hitters baffled. He didn't give up a single blow in the first five stanzas. But the bubble burst in the sixth.

Jim Norvell, first batter up for Oregon in that inning, blasted a single to centerfield. Bob Santee followed with a one base blow through third base. Tony Crish attempted a sacrifice and beat out Idaho third baseman Len Pyne's wild throw into the stands. Norvell scored from second and Santee held up at third. Spike Johnson received an intentional walk to fill the bases. Lyle Pettyjohn, who replaced Jim Long on the mound for Oregon in the second inning, was safe on the shortstop's error, Santee scoring to put the Webfoots permanently into the lead. Walt Lozoski popped out to second base for Oregon's first out of the big sixth. Dick Rodiger next up stretched the count to 2-2 and planted one over the left field bank for a homerun and chasing three runners ahead of him. That ended the scoring for the Webfoots in that frame.

The Ducks continued their Howitzer attack in the seventh with Crish pounding one into the shrubbery along the fence in right field. He circled the bases while Idaho's rightfielder searched for the ball.

Again in the eighth inning Oregon had a parade to the plate.

HIS CLUB LEADS

Coach Howard "Hobby" Hobson, whose slugging baseball team is at the top of the Northern Division Pacific Coast conference race with 4 wins and no losses. Hobson's freshman studded lineup defeated Idaho yesterday 13 to 2 on Howe field.

BOX SCORE

Lozoski was the first Duck up in that frame. He lashed a double to left and went to third a few moments later on Linehan's wild pitch. Rodiger walked and stole second. Don Dibble received a base on balls and the Ducks were on the way. Al Cohen hit a long fly to center. Lozoski scored after the catch and Rodiger held up at third. When Dibble started to steal second, Vandal Catcher Viro threw the ball into center field and Rodiger scampered home for run number two. Dibble continued on to third. Santee rapped one to right scoring Dibble. Crish walked. Johnson and Walt Kirsch, who entered the ball game as a pinch hitter for Lyle Pettyjohn, hit singles to left field consecutively to account for three more Oregon runs.

Coach Hobson started Bill Long, converted outfielder, in the pitchers box, but lefty Bill lacking control gave up four bases on balls in one and two-thirds innings. Big Lyle Pettyjohn relieved Long with the bases loaded and retired the Idaho batters without a score. Pettyjohn, except for the one run third inning, had the Vandals handcuffed. He scattered four hits over the six and one-third innings he worked. Homer Bropst pitched the final frame for the Ducks after Pettyjohn left the game at the end of the eighth with a bat handle bruise to his pitching hand.

The highly touted University of Oregon Huskies will invade Howe field Friday and Saturday for a two-game series. The Huskies have won three and lost one in Northern Division competition this season. They split with Idaho and handed Washington State college their fifth and sixth losses 4-3 and 4-1 Monday and Tuesday.

Today in Corvallis, Idaho meets Oregon State's second place Beavers in the first game of their two-game series.
