

AWS to Hold Annual Bargain Day; Big Surprises Promised for Webfoots

Bob Moran, Dick Savinar To Auction Lost Items

Bargain day comes to Oregon today, when AWS presents its annual auction to raise money for scholarships and to give Webfoots an opportunity to retrieve diamond rings, cigarette cases, or comp books they are missing. The event will take place at the Side today at 4:00.

Dorothy Davis, general chairman, promises a big surprise. "Something will be auctioned that all you fellows will want to buy for your girls, and all you girls will be 'simply mad' to own—you simply can't miss this opportunity."

Articles to be auctioned will be displayed in the Side windows today.

Oregon's own Bob Moran and Dick Savinar will be the auctioneers, and have planned a complete program of surprises and specialties. The boys will display all articles collected by the lost and found department during the year. These include 70 pens and pencils, and more than 125 books. Accounting, English composition, and social science books predominate in the collection. A few "hard to get" texts as American Gov't, Trigonometry, and Elementary Journalism are included. There are the usual four dozen bandanas, rings, pearls, pins, and other costume jewelry, compacts, umbrellas, coats, a badminton racquet, and even a black fur neck-piece. Gloves

(Please Turn to Page Eight)

Watch for further developments... Faculty to Get Lowdown On Birds, Bees, Flowers

(Editor's note: Faculty members who wish further information may contact the Odeon committee.)

The committee for faculty enlightenment announced Wednesday that they have been able to obtain a world renowned authority who has consented to prepare an address for the sexual enlightenment of the faculty.

"It was with great difficulty," the chairman said, "that the committee was able to obtain the services of this noted expert."

This famous authority is at present holding down a chair in one of the nation's institutions of higher learning. He is librarian emeritus of the Krafft-Eping room at the University of Vienna and is author of the standard classic, "An Investigation of Normal and Abnormal Sexual Manifestations Among the Natives of the Cameroons, as Observed by the Author, With Special Regard to Their Eating Habits."

This eminent figure has held chairs in three universities on the continent and received four honorary degrees.

Students See Light

The committee for faculty enlightenment was formed recently after the love and marriage lecture series which was given for the benefit of the students.

Preceding these lectures, some eminent authority on love and marriage, usually a consultant of

Veteran-Studded Band To Give Concert Tonight

Rose Zena Latta, Soprano, Scheduled To Solo On Aria From Bizet's Carmen

A veteran-studded band will present the annual spring concert in the music school auditorium tonight. Directed by John H. Stehn, the program begins at 8 p.m. and will be free, and open to the public.

Rose Zena Latta, sophomore in music, will be the featured soloist on the program. A soprano and student of Sigurd Nilssen, Miss Latta will sing Micaela's aria from the third act of Bizet's "Carmen."

JOHN STEHN
Director of the University band appearing in concert tonight.

Among the numerous members of the band who served in the war is Shirley Baldwin, clarinetist. A member of the Women's Marine Corps reserve, Miss Baldwin played solo clarinet in the band at Camp LeJeune.

Students Played

Several students played in the University band before entering the service. Among those who have returned and who will play tonight are Don Scott, Dan Forbes, Albin Sundsten, Howard Haugland, Henry Howard, Eugene Hebrard, Edward Keefe, Robert McFayden, Wally Martin, Robert Wiseman and Leo Lohikoski.

Tonight's program will present a combination of light, symphonic, and typical band numbers. First of the selections will be the "Jubilee Overture," a gay march written by Weber for a royal anniversary of King Ludwig of Bavaria.

Band Will Play

Departing from the usual type of band number, the band will play the Minuet and Finale from the "Piano Sonata in E Flat," by

(Please Turn to Page Eight)

Program By Loud To Be Aired At 4

"Cancel the Call, Central," a psychological drama written and produced by Ted Loud, is being presented by the University workshop players on station KOAC at 4 today.

According to Loud, it is the story of a man who kills his invalid wife by constant telephone calls.

Cast Includes

Members of the cast includes Paul Marcotte, Virginia Woods, Lynn Renick, Pat Powell, John MacDonald, and Bill Donaldson.

At 4:30 the vesper choir under the direction of Johnette King and accompanied by Wilma Jean Wilson, are featuring a group of Negro spirituals. Paul Marcotte is announcing. The program consists of "Joshua Fit De Battle Ob Jerico" arranged by Noble Cain, "The Ole Ark's A Moverin'," arranged by Cain, "Now Rest Beneath the Night's Shadows" by Nathaniel Dett, and "Gonna Ride Up in De Chariot?"

Carlton Soloist

"Something for You" from 4:45 to 5 is being produced by Fred Beckwith. Sue Welch Carlton is the soloist, accompanied by Norman Domnies.

Ellsworth To Speak At ASUO Assembly

"How I Put In My Time As A Congressman" Topic Representative Chooses for Speech

The ASUO assembly in McArthur court at 11 today will feature Harris Ellsworth, Oregon's representative from the fourth congressional district, in a talk entitled "How I Put In My Time As a Congressman." This assembly will take the place of the originally scheduled, all-student assembly which has been postponed until May. Ed Allen, ASUO president, will conduct the assembly.

HARRIS ELLSWORTH
Oregon congressman appearing at the assembly today.

Ellsworth has the distinction of being the first representative from Oregon's fourth congressional district which was created after the 1940 census showed that Oregon was entitled to more representation. Before beginning his career as congressman in 1943, Ellsworth was publisher of the Roseburg News-Review and director of radio station KRNR, the first newspaper-owned radio station in Oregon outside Portland. He also served as senator from Douglas county in the 1941 session.

Secretary-Manager

Ellsworth has also held other responsible positions in Oregon during the last few years. He has served as the first secretary and field manager of the Oregon State Editorial association in 1928 and 1929, was president of the Oregon Newspaper Publishers association in 1943, president of the 1940 Oregon Press conference, and vice-president of the Oregon Wild-Life federation in 1940 and 1941.

(Please Turn to Page Eight)

Career of 'Later Stravinski' Subject of Lecture April 30

"The Later Stravinski," will be the subject of a program slated at the school of music auditorium April 30 at 8 o'clock. In what promises to be a significant event in local music circles, Dr. Arnold Elston, assistant professor of music, will discuss the new aesthetic theories of Stravinski, and will illustrate these with impressions of the Russian composer's more recent compositions.

Dr. Elston and Mrs. Louise Robson will play Stravinski's "Sonata for Two Pianos," written in 1943-44, and George Boughton, assistant professor of violin and Mrs. Saga Collin Boughton will perform on the same program two movements from the "Duo Concertante for Violin and Piano," another work distinctive of Stravinski's new style of neo-classicism.

Music Accepted

According to Elston, the general public has not accepted the music which Stravinski has produced since the change of style in his composing technique began to take place in the early twenties. He explained that the public, while still fascinated by the composer's first successes, such as the ballets "The Firebird," "Petrouchka," and the "Rites of Spring," has not learned to appreciate the new Stravinski.

who has broken from the old school.

Modern Leader

The purpose of Dr. Elston's lecture April 30 is to introduce this Stravinski of today, relatively unknown, and at the same time the undisputed leader of the modern movement in music.

(Please turn to page eight)

'State Fair' Lunch Scheduled May 11

Blue carnival skies are hoped for by the "State Fair" campus luncheon committee, Dorothy Rasmussen, committee chairman, said Wednesday. The dinner will take place on the old campus Saturday, May 11, immediately following the float parade down Willamette street.

Spotlighted during the dinner will be the crowning of Queen Patricia Metcalf and the seating of the members of her court, Princesses June Johnson, Marilyn Rackow, Mary Dixon, and Doris Spearow.

Punctuating the festivities will be the punishment of tradition offenders by the heavy-handed Order of the "O" men. Tapping of various honoraries will also take place at the dinner.

Tickets for the picnic dinner are priced at 40 cents a person and will be sold through the living organizations. The University Coop will also have tickets for sale.

Assisting Miss Rasmussen on her committee are Delores Ray, food; Marion Fong, tickets, and June Clayton, publicity.

Committee of 100 Sets $300 Goal

A goal of $300 has been set by the campus committee to aid The Committee of 100, Harriet Tozier, committee chairman announced Wednesday. The Committee of 100 is soliciting funds for bail and legal defense for persons involved in a riot in Columbia, Tennessee. The campus committee hopes to reach this goal by Saturday, May 4.

There will be a meeting of the campus committee at 4 p.m. today in Room 6 Journalism building. Other students who wish to attend are invited, Miss Tozier declared.