Libe Terrace Trot Begins 'State Fair'

Starting this year's Junior Weekend off with a bang, the informal terrace dance in front of the library will hold the spotlight from 3 to 5 p.m. Friday, May 10. The campus-clothes jam session will feature Ted Hallock's orchestra with Sue Welch Carlton as vocalist.

Although not all information can as yet be revealed, decorations will fit into the Weekend theme of "State Fair" and cokes will be sold, it has been announced.

The informality of the occasion is being stressed by the committee in charge, and if spring weather will condescend to hold over, a good beginning is promised for the gala affair.

Lola Mae Heagney is chairman for the dance with Beverly Brown and Joan Davids in charge of decorations and Shirley Anderson, handling the publicity.

150 Smokechasers Needed by U.S.F.S.

The U. S. forest service needs 150 "smoke jumpers" to fight forest fires during the summer. Though the work is seasonal, the pay rate will be based upon an annual sum of $2320 with subsistence provided while in camp.

No experience is required for the job, as all men will be given one month's training in the use of the parachute and fighting fires. Age limits are 18 through 30. Farther information may be obtained from Mrs. Virginia Hathaway of the University employment office.

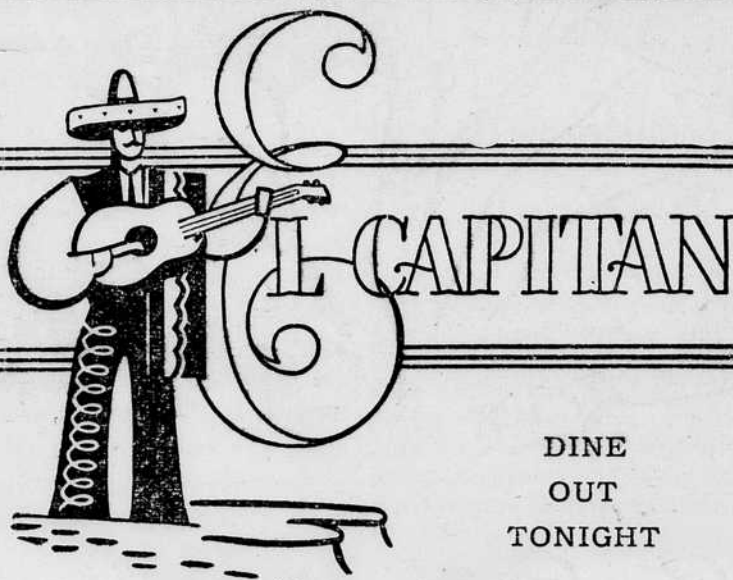

Mrs. Cynthia Darrah, administrator of professional work, of the personnel division of the Girl Scouts, will interview applicants for jobs at the employment office this afternoon.

MUSIC, WRITING, ART

alto; Lowell Chase, tenor; and Earl Anderson, bass. Barbara Gene Ward will be soloist for the number, and accompanist, Sylvia Killman.

Folk Music

"We Are Travelin' to de Grave" will be the second number, with verses harmonized by Sylvia Killman and Beverly Howard. Third will be "Shenandoah," a white spiritual arranged by Jean Paris.

Music in the second group will include "Canticle and Gloria," by Lee H. Young, with Miss Whitfield, first soprano; Miss Ward, second soprano; and Chase, tenor.

Also in the second group is Jan Kok's "Choral Suite" which won first prize in the National Composers' Congress contest in 1944. The suite was written for a small chorus and piano, and introduced a new idea in choral work by having no words. It is written for voices as though they were instruments, but the chorus uses only "ah" and "la" sounds.

Chorus members for the suite are Barbara Eagleson, first soprano; Hildegard Rettig, second soprano; Margaret McAdams, first alto; Dorothy Herbranson, second alto; Bob Wardwell, first tenor; Bud Clark, second tenor; Joe Reznicek, first bass; and Earl Anderson, second bass. Pianist will be Wilma J. Wilson.

The third music group will consist of "Lament" by Margie Folsom, with Jeanette Grant, alto, with Willane Roff at the piano; "Piece for Violin" by Margie Folsom, with violinist Olive Oldfield, and Helen Hudson at the piano; "Sonatina for Piano" by Jan Kok with Kok at the piano; and "Andante lusingando" by Jan Kok, with violinist Janet Shafer, Marion Saltness, viola, Winifred Colton, cello, and Kok, piano.

Modern Dance

In the modern dance groups will be Shirley Cox in "Lament," Dorothy Currier in "Conquest," and Dorothy Currier, Dorothy DeRoss, Geraldine Fett, Grace Edwards, Elaine McClellan, and Pearl Petersen in "Celebration." Mrs. Jesse Whitfield will act as accompanist for the dance groups.

Poetry to be presented on the program is "Carmel" by Gloria Smith; "Idaho Sage" and "To a Valley" by Jean Alexander; "Sphinx" and "Witchwife" by Claudine Biggs; "After Battle" by Caroline Brockway; "Snowbirds in a Winter Field" and "Faithful" by Joan Beckman; and "Old Tree" by Audrey Mathews.

Poetry

This year's poetry presentations will include a group of veteran verse. The group will include "G.I. Return" by Robert I. Doyle, "Appeal" by Francis Mathews, and "Pour un Soldat Mort," "War Sonnets, I and II," and "Andante" by Gene D. W. Edwards.

A satire, "Sex, Ladies and Gentiemen, Must Out!" by Charles Politz, will be read by Bob Calkins.

This year's Odeon is the fourth annual presentation, the first having been given in 1943. The first student creative art show was sponsored by University student Barbara Hampson; Dr. R. D. Horn, professor of English, and W. A. Dahlberg, director of speech and dramatic arts.

Laboratory in a Birch Thicket

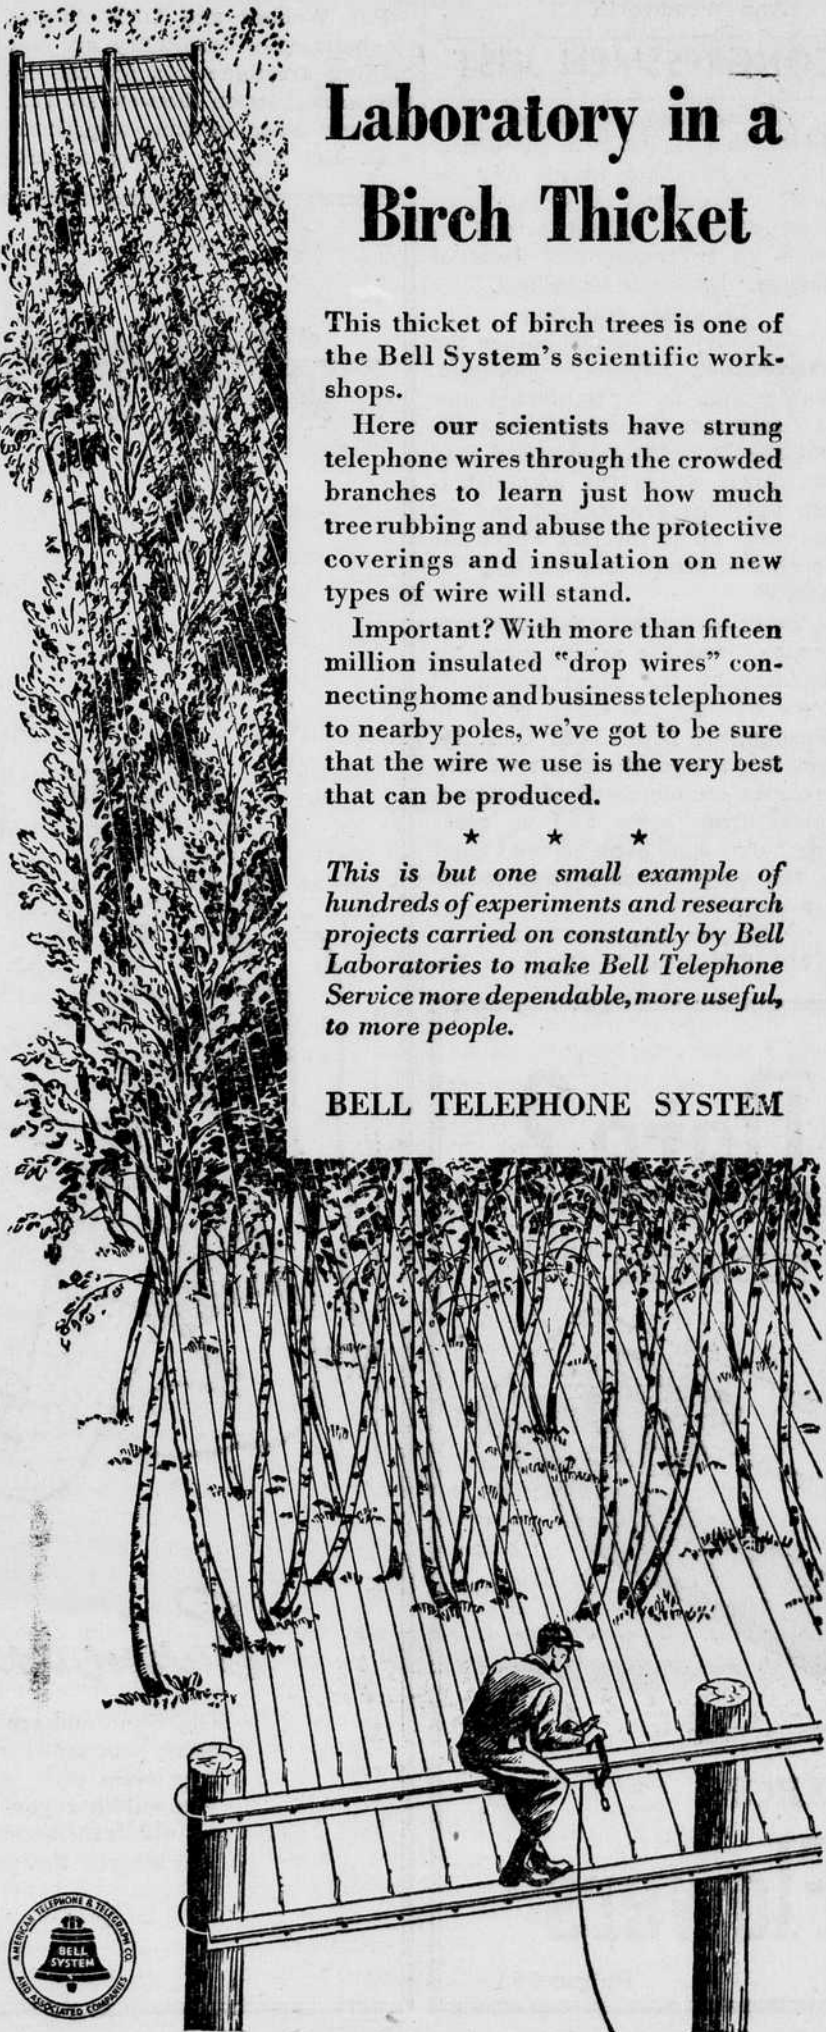

This thicket of birch trees is one of the Bell System's scientific workshops.

Here our scientists have strung telephone wires through the crowded branches to learn just how much tree rubbing and abuse the protective coverings and insulation on new types of wire will stand.

Important? With more than fifteen million insulated "drop wires" connecting home and business telephones to nearby poles, we've got to be sure that the wire we use is the very best that can be produced.

This is but one small example of hundreds of experiments and research projects carried on constantly by Bell Laboratories to make Bell Telephone Service more dependable, more useful, to more people.
