son rapped a solid ball into center which Dalthorp let get by him. Johnson circled the bases, but was called out for not tagging first. The shut-out win gave the Webfoots a clean sweep of their first six conference games and showed them two full games ahead of the second place Oregon State college Beavers and made them odds-on favorites to successfully defend their Northern Division title.

Saturday's appearance was the last for Howe field until the Ducks face Oregon State here May 18.

squad tilt and should go far. Also looking good at the left half post are Bob Fauteck, reserve from the 1945 Webfoot eleven, and George Redden of Bend. Heading the list of fullback aspirants the past week has been big Glen Wilson, transfer from Sacramento J. C. Wilson caught the eye of Backfield Coach Mike Mikulak the first week out and has shown up very well. He has been playing second string to last year's starter Walt Donovan, but Donovan has turned out for track and may not be back in grid uniform this spring. With Donovan in moleskins, however, Coach Oliver has two fine fullbacks. Wilson is large, yet fast, and hits the line hard. Donovan, who tied for top honors in last year's PCC scoring race, is rather light for the fullback post, but more than make up for his lack of weight by his speed.

Another letterman from last year, slippery-hipped Bobby Reynolds, has also been working out at fullback during the past week. Reynolds is a versatile back and Oliver has tried him at several positions already this spring. In the first intra-squad tilt he gave an outstanding performance at left half, but was moved to fullback because of a temporary shortage in that spot.

Bob Oas, 175-pound speed merchant from Portland, has given several good performances at the fullback position and along with Chuck Hopkins, 185-pounder from Portland, may see plenty of action.

that he'd begun to sprout horns) as a colt, and millions came from afar to stare and marvel, and to leave in his feedbox (which Ah-Poo-Poo had wisely fitted with a false bottom) special gifts of rubies, pearls, Dentine and cashew nuts.

By the time he was a yearling, he'd tired of living with the other horses (who regarded him as queer) and began to moo outside the Maharajah's bathroom window. Ah-Poo-Poo, weary of milk baths and gin fizzes, and bored with adultery, took a paternal interest in Ali-Ben-Gay and decided that he

Organization's Picnics Need Dean's Approval

Social chairmen should note the regulation in the University Rulebook, made by the Student Affairs committee, reading: "Picnics of organizations are to be scheduled in the office of the dean of women, with proper chaperonage, under the same procedure as for a dance."

Victor P. Morris Presents Program

Victor P. Morris, dean of the school of business administration, will present his World in Review at 4 p.m. today on station KOAC during the University Hour.

Virgene Lindley, pianist from the school of music, is playing "Guirlandes" by Godard, "Danse de Puck" by Debussy, "At the Concert" by Borodine, and "Danse Negre" by Scott on the Campus Recital beginning at 4:15, produced by Roberta Quigley. At 4:30 p.m. Jean Paris, mezzo soprano from the school of music, accompanied by Dorothy Schaer, also of the school, is singing Youmans' "Through the Years," Brohe's "Bless This House," deRose's "I Heard a Forest Praying," Manazucca's "The Big Brown Bear," and O'Hara's "The Ballad of Little Billee."

The senior editing class is presenting the University Journal of neighborhood news produced by John MacDonald, from 4:45 to 5.

Mortar Board Ball Will Turn Tables

Mortar Board, senior women's service honorary, has declared an open season on men on the campus until May 25, date of the Bachelor Catchers' ball.

The coeds who schemed for the men of their dreams will flaunt their prey at the annual girl-date-boy affair and collect a bounty in the form of a sample of Revlon's new Bachelor's Carnation lipstick and powder. On the other hand, it will be the woman who pays the bills, sends flowers, takes her date to dinner, and performs all the other gallantries usually expected of the male.

A limit of one man to each woman has been set by the sponsoring organization, but each coed can stalk her prey according to her own tactics, members of Mortar Board announced.

This year's ball will be formal, and the theme, Bachelor Catchers' ball, will be carried out in the decorations as well as in the reverse dating procedure.

might be fleet enough to race. This was the turning point in the colt's meteoric career.

Under the skillful guidance of the Royal trainer, an ascetic named Ack-Ack, Ali-Ben-Gay was trained and conditioned vigorously. At the urging of his shrewish wife, El-N-Or, Ack-Ack secretly used Ali-Ben-Gay to plow his rice paddy at nights, a fact which racing experts claim accounted for his unusual stamina.

Prom Behind-Scene Men Transform Igloo for Fete

Hammer-pounding for the "State Fair" Junior Prom is sounding heavily in the Igloo now, according to June Johnson and Liz Gilmore, who are directing the decorations committee for the gala fete. Decorations for the Prom will follow the carnival atmosphere of the Weekend "State Fair," the co-chairmen declared.

Details and effects for the Prom will be more elaborate than any Weekend since the post-war era, they said. The committee will be calling on all campus living organizations to aid in these decorations, the co-chairmen stated, and it is expected that one or two persons will be sent from each organization. Living organizations should excuse persons working on Prom decorations from other duties.

Doing the art work for the "State Fair" carnival production are Charlie Heimann, Gamma Phi Beta, and Mike Miksche, Phi Gamma Delta. All the walls of the Igloo are being decorated by the art workers. Leo Benveniste will assist them in this work.

Ron Harris, Phi Kappa Psi, has been ordering paint and brushes and other material for the decorations. All things from wire to lumber and lawn furniture have been gathered by the ace purchaser.

The committee worked several days last week preparing the gala event and all day Saturday. Many more days of work are ahead for them before the Igloo blooms in its "State Fair" finery.

Assisting the committee in its work of paper cutting and sticking scotch tape in strategic places, have been:

Virginia Givnan, Dorothy Clausen, Sue Imrie, Betty Clark, and Dottie Habel, Alpha Omicron Pi; Bob Powell, Bud Becktel, Alpha Tau Omega; Ralph Eastman, Raymond Burk, and Bob Bennett, Phi Kappa Psi; Jean Merrifield, Nancy Peterson, Alpha Phi; Margo Gammill, Norma Berg, Hendricks hall; Bob Welsh, George Bell, and Bob Oas, Kappa Sigma.

High School Music Contest Will be Held on UOCampus

Approximately 1700 high school students from all parts of Oregon will gather on the campus this weekend as the University plays host to a regional music contest Friday and Saturday.

According to John H. Stehn, music school professor in charge of the contest, students from over 40 Oregon high schools will compete in the meet, which is one of four such contests to be held in this region.

Entries on the two-day schedule will include 30 girl and 15 boy soloists, 25 small vocal groups, 30 large choruses, 75 instrumental soloists, 15 small instrumental groups, 15 bands, and five orchestras. All participants have gained the right to appear here by winning "superior" ratings in the various district meets held recently throughout the state. Region I, of which this district is a part, is made up of Oregon, Washington, Montana, Idaho, and Wyoming. Other contests for the region are being held in Seattle, Spokane, and Billings. Solo contests will be held Friday in the music school auditorium, Gerlinger hall, and University high. On Saturday bands and orchestras will compete in McArthur court, and the groups and choruses will hold their contests in Roosevelt junior high school. Contests will be judged by 15 music experts from colleges in Oregon, Washington, and California, professional musicians, and supervisors from city music systems. The regional contests this year are the first to be held since 1942, when they were suspended for the duration of the war.
