

Druid Food Savers Plan Famine Meal

Famine dinners will be the order of the day on the Oregon campus Thursday evening as a part of the Druid program to promote the nation-wide food conservation drive. Druids, junior men's honorary, is urging all campus living organizations to cooperate in this graphic presentation of famine conditions.

Stations Feature Junior Weekend

Junior Weekend is the theme of the Campus Headline program on stations KEX and KOAC from 9 to 9:30 tonight, according to Marvin Krenk, assistant director in speech and drama.

The script, written by Bob Kirkpatrick, "Ox" Wilson, and Shirley Peters, will follow the adventures of a farmer and his wife visiting their coed daughters on Junior Weekend.

The cast consists of George Watkins, Helen Sigismund, Bob Kirkpatrick, "Ox" Wilson, Barbara Hawkins, and Patricia Metcalf. Floyd Stapp and Claire Lewis will be the featured vocalists, accompanied by Gene Edwards, who will also play solo boogie-woogie. The Omega hall chorus, directed by Jan Kok, and the Alpha Gamma Delta chorus, directed by Marie Peery, and featuring Rose Zena Latta are presenting a preview of the all-campus sing. Floyd Stapp and Bonnie Chappell will also present solo pieces on the program.

Co-chairmen of the weekend, Marilyn Sage and Tom Kay, will appear to explain in detail the activities of the event. The Weekend queen, Pat Metcalf, will be interviewed during the headline production.

Leading off the conservation program Thursday will be guest speaker Clyde L. Walker, executive vice-chairman of jobs for veterans in Oregon, who will speak at an all-campus assembly in McArthur court at 11. Walker will come to the campus as a representative from the office of Joe Carson, state chairman for the food conservation program.

Rex Gunn, freshman in journalism, will give his speech, "Two Hours of Sunshine," at the assembly. Gunn's speech took second prize at the Pacific forensic speech league contest held at Stockton, California.

Menu which Bass Dyer, Druid president, suggested Tuesday for living organizations to follow during their famine dinner is: 1 small dish of potato soup, 1 small corn pone with very little marmalade, and 1 very small piece of cheese. Purpose of this dinner, Dyer explained, is to portray conditions in the famine area.

Charles Howard, professor of law, who is assisting Druids in their campaign, said Tuesday that Walker will speak "from great experience on the European continent where he faced first-hand the problems of famine." Walker, who majored in political science, graduated from the University in the class of '38. While on the campus he was a member of Alpha Tau Omega and Scabbard and Blade and was active in athletics

(Please Turn to Page Eight)

ATO Sweetheart and ATO To Star in 'Dear Brutus'

Marge Allingham To Play 'Caroline'

By Dorothy Thomson
Lady Caroline in "Dear Brutus" is capably played by a busy little junior named Marjorie Allingham. Not content with her many duties as vice-president of Delta Delta Delta, business manager of the University theater, and secretary to Horace Robinson and Otilie Seybolt, she also takes active participation in dramatics. Her current role calls for the characterization of a pampered society woman dripping with affectations.

"Dear Brutus" is the tenth show for which she has been business manager. She has acted in three of the plays, namely "Trojan Women," "The Time of Your Life," and "Dear Brutus" and was assistant director for "Liliom." She has also been active on the stage crews of all the shows this year.

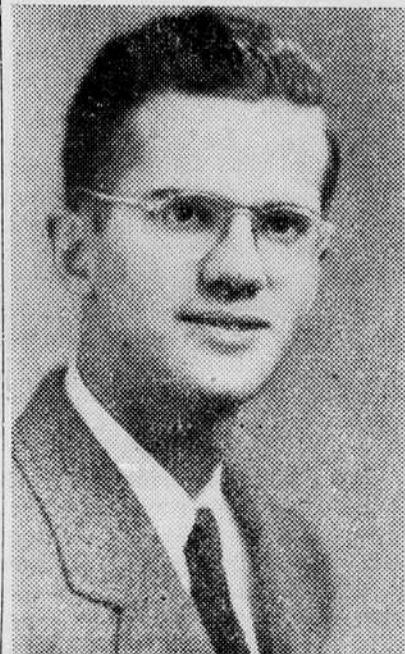

Twenty-year-old Marge is very enthusiastic about mountain climbing and she likes to play tennis with Jack Miller. "He's trying to teach me but I'm afraid it's kind of a slow process," she laughed.

Radio Ham

Marge is also an amateur radio operator or "ham" and has her own transmitter at home in Tigard, Oregon. She is definitely interested in radio work and is employed by Portland's station KGW in the summer. She plans to go into some phase of radio work when she is graduated next year.

She attended Girl's Polytechnic high school in Portland where she was president of the student body.

(Please Turn to Page Eight)

MARGE ALLINGHAM and JACK MILLER

Theta Sigs Tap Top Newswomen; Holbrook to Address Matrix Table

STEWART HOLBROOK

Guest of honor at the Theta Sigma Phi Matrix Table banquet tonight.

Gus Arnheim Spotlited During 'State Fair' Prom

The premiere dance of spring term, the Junior Prom, will feature Gus Arnheim and his orchestra, Dorothy Davis, "State Fair" Prom chairman has announced. The Prom will have the tapping of Druids, junior mens' honorary, during its intermission as well as the presentation of Koyle and Gerlinger cups for the most outstanding man and woman on the Oregon campus.

Gus Arnheim was "discovered" as a piano player in a band at the Coconut Grove, Los Angeles, where he later played an eighteen months' engagement as the director of his own band. He is an acclaimed writer of popular songs and has to his record such hit numbers as "I Cried for You," "Mandalay," "It Must Be True," "Sweet and Lovely," "Was I Wrong," "I'm Gonna Get You," "Put Your Little Arms Around Me," "I Surrender Dear," "At Your Command," "Under the Palms," and others.

When music had its advent on the screen, Gus Arnheim was quickly drafted into service. He was featured in the motion pictures "Street Girl," "Puttin' On the Ritz," "Flying High," "The Cuban," "Her Majesty Love," and many others.

A few years ago Gus Arnheim and his orchestra left for a limited tour of theatres which ended in New York. They then went abroad where they played at the Savoy

GUS ARNHEIM

Hotel in London and Les Ambassadeurs in Paris. Popular acclaim demanded their return to the Savoy for three months and after an engagement at the Royal Hotel in Belgium, the band returned to the United States and appeared at the Coconut Grove, Los Angeles.

(Please Turn to Page Eight)

Annual Banquet Calls 300 Oregon Journalists

Jeanne Simmonds, sophomore in journalism, and June Goetze, freshman in journalism, have been named outstanding women in their classes in journalistic activities by Theta Sigma Phi, women's national professional journalism honorary.

Miss Simmonds, who was named outstanding freshman by the organization last year, is news editor of the Emerald. Miss Goetze works regularly in all phases of Emerald publication and attended the Pacific Northwest College conference.

The two girls will be honored at Matrix table, annual banquet sponsored by Theta Sigma Phi, to be held this evening at 6 p.m. at the Eugene hotel.

Stewart H. Holbrook, outstanding Oregon writer will be guest of honor at the banquet and will speak on the title of his forthcoming book, "Lost Men in American History." Over 300 women in journalism throughout the state and outstanding campus women will be guests at the banquet. Alumni members of Theta Sigma Phi are urged to attend. Yvonne Zeek is chairman of the affair.

Campus Cemetery Center of Campaign

Oddfellows Clean-Up Due Memorial Day

To clean up the old Oddfellows cemetery adjacent to the campus before Memorial day, a city campaign will be conducted by the Pioneer Memorial Park association from now until May 15, according to Ben F. Dorris, chairman of the trustees.

Eyler Brown, acting dean of the school of art, is preparing sketches of the cemetery as it will look after the proposed program is carried out.

At least $1500 will be needed to clean out the cemetery, and there is a possibility that a permanent endowment fund may be established if enough money is contributed.

Among the improvements which will be made are the trimming of trees, keeping a well-kept lawn, and generally cleaning up the cemetery.

Contributions may be sent to the First National Bank of Eugene or to Treasurer Fred Stickels, 117 East Broadway. Checks should be made out to the "Cemetery Cleanup Fund."

The committee would like to have the full names and addresses of donors.

Members of the committee are Ben F. Dorris, chairman; Dr. M. C. Harris, secretary; Fred Stickels, treasurer; and John Pennington and Russell Evans.

Lunch Tickets Due

All money for tickets to the junior-senior luncheon must be turned in to the YWCA bungalow today.