

Hoyt to Give Mellet Lecture

Weekend Ducats On Sale Today

Co-op, Ed Act Office Set for Ticket Sales

Tickets for three of the highlight attractions of the 1946 "State Fair" Junior Weekend go on sale today at the University Co-op, co-chairmen Marilyn Sage and Tom Kay announced Monday. Living organizations, however, should buy their tickets for the All-Campus Sing, the Junior Prom, and the campus dinner in blocks from the educational activities office, they said.

Hours during which unaffiliated students may purchase tickets for the three functions are: today, 1-5 p.m.; Wednesday, 2-5 p.m.; Thursday, 1-5 p.m.; Friday 2-5 p.m.; and Saturday, 8-12 noon.

Prices Listed

Prices for the tickets are: All-Campus Sing, $.50; campus dinner, $.40; and Junior Prom, $2.40. Sing contestants will receive free contestant tickets. Oregon Mothers will be admitted free at the Junior Prom but must have tickets for the Sing and dinner.

All food will be supplied at the campus luncheon Saturday evening. The war-time practice of bringing box lunches will not be followed. Buns for the dinner have been eliminated to conform with the current Druid food conservation drive.

There will be a ticket booth here. (Please Turn to Page Eight)

PALMER HOYT

Journalist to Speak in Music Building At 8 p.m. on 'The Press and the Peace'

Oregon's illustrious journalistic son, Palmer Hoyt, editor and publisher of the Denver Post, will deliver the annual Don R. Mellet memorial lecture at 8 p.m. this evening in the music auditorium. His topic will be "The Press and the Peace."

The lecture is held in honor of Don R. Mellett, editor and publisher of the Daily News of Canton, Ohio, who was assassinated July 16, 1926, after a determined campaign against vice.

A memorial foundation fund was organized by the department of journalism at New York University which sponsors annual lectures in the honor of his memory at different colleges and universities throughout the country.

Sponsors Tell Poetry Deadline English Department Set Kidd, Burgess Contests

Two poetry competitions which will offer cash prizes to winners were announced Friday by the English department. The first is the Julia Burgess prize competition open only to upper-division students, which offers a prize of $25.

The other, the Walter Evans Kidd prize, open only to lower-division students, offers a prize of $15. Rules covering both competitions are as follows:

1. Closing date for both competitions is noon Saturday, May 25.
2. Any type of poem is acceptable. However, if short lyrics are submitted there must be at least three of them and not more than five.
3. All entries must be typed double spaced and submitted in triplicate.
4. Name of the author must not appear on the manuscript but shall be sealed in an envelope on the outside of which the title of the poems submitted by the individual are to be typed.
5. No prize in either competition will be given if in the opinion of the judges no manuscripts of sufficient merit have been submitted.
6. Manuscripts will be received at the English office in Villard hall.

Judges for the contest are Frank Gees Black, Alice H. Ernst, and Ernest G. Moll.

'Dear Brutus' Due Today, Wednesday

"Dear Brutus," James M. Barrie's realistic fantasy of people given a second chance, will be presented only two more times. Performances will be given tonight and Wednesday night by the University theater cast at the University theater in Johnson hall.

The play is well worth seeing for both the play and the cast are well chosen. Those having outstanding parts are Cliff James, Marilyn Wherry, Mary Hoch, Margorie Allingham Jack Miller, Paul Marcotte Roberta Quigley, and Shirley Peters.

"Dear Brutus" is directed by Ottilie Seybolt, associate professor of speech and dramatic arts and the settings were designed by Howard L. Ramey.

Hack-Happy Tradition Men Swing Fatal Paddles Today

Iron "justice" will be meted out today by the goon squads of the Order of the 'O' who will punish Monday offenders against traditions of Junior Weekend. All offenders and 'O' men must appear at 12:45 this afternoon on the steps of Fenton hall. Offenders who do not appear today will be listed Wednesday and will receive an additional hack.

No coed offenders will be listed during the week, Leroy Erickson, letterman president, explained. They will be listed in Saturday's Emerald and receive their punishment during the campus dinner.

"Some students are deliberately trying to get out of observing these traditions," Erickson said.

Offenders who must appear today are: Robert Goffard, Bob Vernon, Ron Campbell, Al Hall, Wonston Carl, Herb Ray, Joe Sweeney, Bud Riems, Tony Molatov, Bill Fagen and Fritz Giesicke.

Traditions which are being enforced are: Saying "Hello" on Hello Walk between Fenton Hall and Deady Hall, staying off the grass in all parts of the main campus, no smoking on the campus. The tradition of freshmen wearing class pants and hats will not be enforced, Erickson announced, due to the shortage of these items. For tradition's sake, however, those freshmen who have these items are asked to wear them. Also all freshmen women should wear green hair ribbons.

Clean-Cemetery Campaign Progressing As Memorial Day Deadline Approaches

"The Cemetery Clean-up Fund" was hitting just below the $1000 mark Saturday according to a report received by Ben F. Dorris, chairman of the Pioneer Memorial Park association from the First National Bank of Eugene. At that time, 128 donors had made their contributions to the clean-up project for a total of $970.25.

According to Dorris, "It will take at least $3000 to do a good pruning and trimming job. . . I want to call attention to the May 15 deadline once more and to remind everyone that we must get this money in and the actual work started by that time if we are going to make any showing for Memorial day."

Masonic Clean-Up
It has also been suggested that the old Masonic cemetery south of Eugene as well as the Odd Fellows cemetery adjoining the campus should be cleaned up for Memorial day. There has been no limit set on the amount of money to be collected. Excess funds will be transferred to start the permanent endowment project administered by the Century Fund trustees.

"... I have suggested to City Manager Deane Seeger that he should start organizing his labor crews and get some of the work under way with the cash on hand. I have no fear that we will not get the required balance," Dorris said.

Water Color Sketch
Eyler Brown, acting dean of the school of architecture and allied arts, is making a water color sketch showing the Odd Fellows cemetery as a beautiful park with "flush" grave markers lawns and trimmed hedges and trees. The drawing also includes a white marble Pioneer Memorial chapel which could be erected sometime in the future when funds permit.

"All I want to show is how beautiful it could be made with very moderate expense," Brown said concerning his drawing.

Faculty members and students are unanimous in their acclaim of the proposed plan. Typical of the remarks was the one made by Karl W. Onthank, dean of personnel administration, "We've been talking about it for 20 years in my personal memory. I'm glad to see that at last there is enough agreement to get something done. It is an excellent idea," he said.

Before he was killed, Mellett had brought about the suspension of one police chief. After the murder, a complete overhaul of the local government took place but the slayers escaped.

After a complete investigation by county and state officers, many of Canton's vice ring were sent to prison for long terms.

There will be a banquet for Hoyt at 6 p. m. at the College Side given by Sigma Delta Chi, national professional journalism fraternity.

The story of Mellett will be told by William M. Tugman, managing editor of the Eugene Register-Guard. Tugman, while on the staff of the Cleveland Plain Dealer, was sent to Canton to cover the aftermath of the Mellett murder.

Ernest Haycox To Speak Here

Assembly to Hear Famous Novelist

Ernest Haycox, distinguished novelist and president of the University of Oregon Alumni Association, will be the speaker at a special assembly for junior and senior students to be held Thursday morning at eleven o'clock. The assembly will be in the school of music auditorium.

Mr. Haycox graduated from Oregon in 1923. He is the author of twenty-two successful novels, two of which were produced as the motion pictures "Stage Coach" and "Union Pacific." A third novel, "Canyon Passage," is being filmed now and is due for release this summer.

The alumni office has not yet been informed as to the subject of Haycox's lecture; however, Miss Doris Hack, alumni secretary, expressed the belief that Mr. Haycox would stress the aims and activities of the alumni association. Miss Hack also pointed out that the assembly has been scheduled so as not to interfere with traditional Junior Weekend events.

The assembly committee members are: Les Anderson, chairman, Margery Skordahl, Bass Dyer, Louise Goodwin, Marge Cowlin, Gil Roberts, Ed Allen, and Bob Calkins.

1946 OREGANAS Ready for Distribution

The 1946 Oregana the University's first postwar annual, will be distributed to subscribers Wednesday, from 8 a.m. to 12 noon, and 1 to 3 p.m. at McArthur court.

Students may pick up their Oreganas during the same hours Thursday and Friday, from 8 a.m. to 12 noon only.

Jean Yoder is editor and Roseann Le'ckie business manager of the 1946 yearbook. J. W. Teter, University photographer, has done all art work for the annual publication.

'Food for France' Drive Starts Box-Filling Today

"Food for France," all campus national relief drive for war victimized children, will officially begin today when men and women's living organizations will be asked to fill two boxes of food and clothing before Tuesday, May 14.

"Nothing is too little to give," will be the slogan of the drive, announced Bob Kyle, chairman of the Oregon French Club and student sponsor of the drive.

Originally organized by the French Club, the YWCA and One World Club are now assisting in the drive.

Campus business organizations were contacted last week and have already made contributions for packages which were mailed May 4. Those organizations which have contributed are Taylors, College Side Inn, Claypool's Drug Store, Westgate Dress Shop, Lemon O, and the Campus Barber Shop.

Donations will be sent directly to schools in France, Belgium and Holland. These schools are the Volksschule in Son, Holland; Ecole Decroly in Bruxelles, Belgium; and the two Centre Scolaire schools, one in Gap, France and the other in Vence, France.
