

Hoyt Plays Censorship In 'Press, Peace' Talk

Alum, Ex-Oregonian Publisher, Tells Campus Uninformed World Doomed

By OLIVER LARSON

"This world cannot continue to exist half informed and half uninformed," declared Palmer Hoyt in summing up a frank and hard-hitting lecture given last night in the music school auditorium in connection with the annual Don R. Mellett Memorial Lecture series.

Speaking on the subject "The Press and Peace," the former Oregonian editor and publisher did not view the present situation with optimism. He painted a black picture about press

Chancellor Urges $700,000 Salary Increase to State Board

By The University News Bureau

Dr. Frederick M. Hunter, retiring chancellor of the Oregon state system of higher education, in his report Monday to the finance committee of the state board, recommended a $700,000 increase of the budget to take care of the heavily increased enrollment of returning war veterans in the several insitutions of the system.

Upperclasses To Assemble

Alum Ernest Haycox To Speak At Igloo

Ernest Haycox, novelist and graduate of Oregon in the class of '23, will be the speaker at a special assembly for junior and senior students in the music school auditorium at 11 a.m. Thursday. Hay-cox, who became president of the University of Oregon Alumni as-sociation last December, is coming to the campus under the spons-orship of this organization in order to acquaint upperclassmen with the alumni group and give them an opportunity to meet its head.

Journalism Major

A native Oregonian, Haycox studied at the University school of journalism. He began writing while he was attending Oregon and sold his first stories at that time. According to Haycox they were very elemental stories "the villain constructed of solid rock and the stormy waves at sea never being less than 40 feet high."

On the basis of an estimated en-rollment of 5500 to 6000 in Oregon State college, 4600 in the Uni-versity and proportionate increases at other schools in the state system, Chancellor Hunter recommended an increase of 140 in the combined staffs and 802 increases in salary, averaging $371.75. Salaries will re-quire a total increase of $298,145.27 in the budget.

President's Increase

Hunter recommended an increase in the basic salaries of the presi-dents of the major institutions (University and state college) to $12,000 a year—the advance to be made in steps of $1000 each year until the maximum is reached. The salaries of deans, now at $5000 level, were placed at $6000 to $7500 in the chancellor's recommenda-tion, and the compensation of heads of departments moved up to $5500. "In face of the present deficit of highly qualified personnel in schol-arly and technological fields," said the chancellor, "these increases are highly necessary."

March Meeting

When the rush of the war veter-ans back to college began last fall the budgets for all the institutions and activities of the state system of higher education totaled $3,-628,355.25. This was raised for the 1946-47 year to $5,166,820.18. Of this the University is allotted $1,-571,075.22.

R.C. Swank Heads Libe

Position Vacated By Douglass Filled

Named to the position of librarian of the University li-brary was Dr. Raynard C. Swank, of the University of Minnesota. Dr. Harry K. New-burn, president of the Univer-sity, announced Monday. The ap-pointment was confirmed by the state board of higher education.

Dr. Swank fills the position of the late M. H. Douglass, librarian emeritus. Following Douglass' re-tirement, Willis Warren, assistant librarian, filled the position tem-porarily, and when Warren joined the military service, Miss Clarice Krieg, catalog librarian, main-tained the position.

Dr. Swank is in charge of tech-nical processes in the library of Minnesota, and carries the title of chief catalog librarian. He will re-ceive a professor rating at the University. He received his bac-calureate degree from the College of Wooster, Wooster, Ohio, in 1934, and a bachelor of science in library science at Western Reserve uni-versity, Cleveland, Ohio, in 1937. The graduate library school of the University of Chicago conferred his doctoral degree on him in 1944.

Dr. Swank is a member of the American Library association, the Bibliographical Society of America, the Association of College and Reference Librarians, Special Libraries association, Minnesota Library association, and the Twin City Cataloguer's Round Table. He has had a number of articles pub-lished in library journals.

Oregana Distribution To Start Today

Sure to receive campus ap-proval, previewers predict, the 1946 Oregana, bright with photographs of the campus in technicolor, will be distributed to subscribers today at Mc-Arthur court from 8 a.m. to 12 noon and 1 to 5 p.m.

Oreganas will also be avail-able during the same hours Thursday, and Friday from 8 a.m. to 12 noon.

Shakespeare Film Tonight In Chapman

The English film, "Eng-land's Shakespeare," a trav-elogue on the Shakespeare memorabilia at Stratford-on-Avon, will be featured tonight in 207 Chapman hall from 7:30 to 10:30 p.m. Also included on the program, are two Japa-nese-American films, entitled "Go for Broke" and "Challenge to Democracy," and a March of Time edition on the "Na-tion's Capitol."

There will be two contin-uous showings of these films, and students, faculty members, and townspeople are invited.

A typical enforcement scene on the steps of Fenton hall of former days, shows tradition offenders the punishment that awaits them during the "State Fair" week.

Tradition Offenders Meet Doom Under O-Men's Paddles Today

The second batch of Junior Week-end tradition offenders will go un-der the paddle today, Leroy Erick-son, president of the Order of the "O" which is policing the regula-tions, announced Tuesday. Names of Tuesday offenders who must ap-pear at 12:45 p.m. on the steps of Fenton hall are: Larry Neer, Al Putnam, Art Litchman, Don Coran, Dick Shelton, Tony Malatau, Dan Benveniste, and Don Malarkey.

No women are being punished during the week, Erickson stated, but they are being watched and will be punished during the all-campus dinner. The campus has co-operated well during this fun-mak-ing tradition enforcement, he said.

The tradition musts which should be followed during the "State Fair" week are: no smoking on the cam-pus, no walking on the grass, say-ing hello on the "Hello Walk" be-tween Fenton and Villard halls. During the campus dinner, women and men must not speak to one another.
