ROY PAUL NELSON

Nelson Named Oregana Editor

Roy Paul Nelson, sophomore in the school of journalism in 1942-43, was appointed editor of the 1946-47 Oregana Monday by the educational activities board.

Nelson is serving overseas with the navy at present but expects to be released about June 1. He applied for the editorship by letter.

Before he was called to active duty in the navy in July, 1943, Nelson was managing editor of the Oregana and an Emerald columnist. He petitioned for a co-editorship of the yearbook with Helen Johnson in the spring of 1943, but the board rejected the co-editorship because of his expected call to duty.

Nelson is a member of Sigma Delta Chi, men's professional journalistic fraternity, and formerly lived in Canard club.

His appointment is subject to the approval of the ASUO executive council.

Gerlinger, Koyl Cups Given at 'Fair' To Marjorie Skordahl, Gil Roberts

Top spot of the 1946 Junior Weekend was the awarding of scholarships and cups to outstanding members of the junior class. Various campus honoraries also tapped new members during the "State Fair" celebration.

Chosen as top juniors and awarded the Gerlinger and Koyl cups were Marjorie Skordahl, junior in journalism, and Gil Roberts, junior in physical education. The cups were awarded during the Junior Prom.

The Gerlinger cup, presented by Mrs. George Gerlinger, former regent of the University, was presented by a committee of faculty, town, and student women to Miss Skordahl as the best all-around woman of the junior class. During the past year she served as president of Phi Theta Upsilon, junior women's service honorary.

The Koyl cup, gift of Charles

W. Koyl, '11, was awarded to Roberts as the best all-around man of the junior class. He is junior representative on the ASUO executive council.

The Schwering scholarship of $300, given in the memory of the late Hazel P. Schwering, former dean of women, was awarded to Pearl Peterson, junior in liberal arts. Additional awards of $50, made by anonymous donors, went to Norma Granstrom, junior in liberal arts; Myrl Sykes, junior in liberal arts; and Jean Alexander, junior in liberal arts.

Mortar Board

At the campus dinner Mortar Board, senior women's honorary, led the tapping ceremonies. Those picked for the honorary were Marguerite Wittwer, junior in journalism; Martha Thorsland, junior in liberal arts; June Johnson, junior in liberal arts; Gay Edwards, junior in liberal arts; Marilyn Sage, junior in journalism; Mar-

UO Opinion Poll Forecasts Large Summer Enrollment

By HERB PENNY

Results of a scientific poll of campus opinion show that more students will be attending the University during the 1946 summer session than ever before, Warren Price, associate professor of journalism, reported Thursday. Mr. Price is conducting the poll as a part of his class in public opinion.

Twenty-one per cent of the students polled intend to return to the University during the summer, he said, which would give an estimated enrollment of 777. This figure, however, is obtained on the basis of students now present in the University and during normal times only half of the summer enrollment come from the regular students. This fact would double the above figure to 1554.

The question asked students polled was "Do you plan to attend the 1946 summer session?" Of the 229 polled 48 answered "yes" and 181 answered "no." Of those answering "yes," 39 were men and 9 women. The "no" answer came from 71 men and 110 women.

Estimate Low

"The estimated figure is apt to be low," Mr. Price said, "because the present ratio of special and graduate students at Oregon is low. Returns show that they make up the bulk of the summer session enrollment." Only 14 of the 229 polled were special and graduate students.

The public opinion class broke down the structure of the University in accordance with Gallup control methods, Mr. Price ex-

Phi Theta Offers Two Scholarships

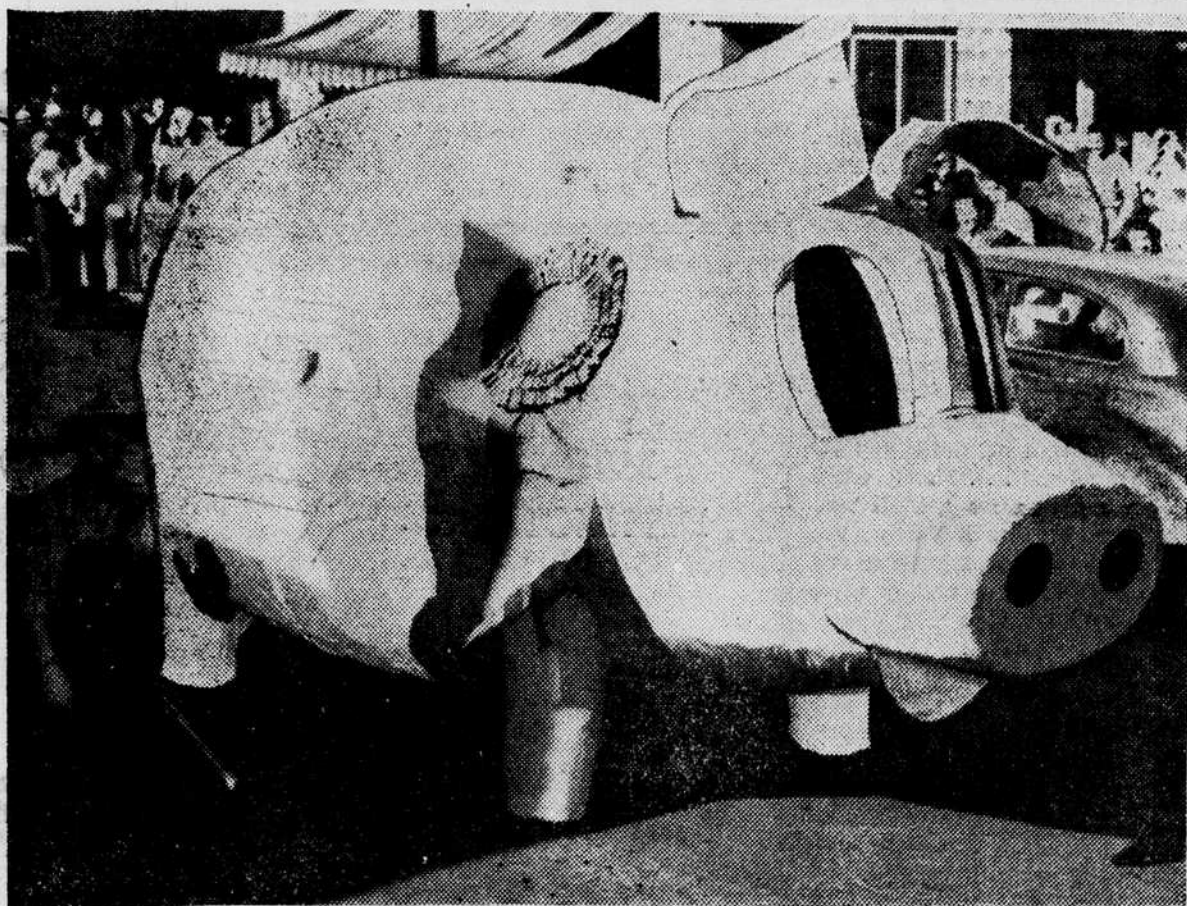

Phi Theta Upsilon, junior women's honorary, is offering two three-term scholarships to eligible junior women who will be seniors next fall. These scholarships will provide the tuition costs for the senior year of each recipient.

"Phi Thetas are providing these scholarships with the hope that they will enable two worthy juniors to complete their scholastic requirements for graduation who otherwise might not be able to finish school," Marge Skordahl, president of the honorary, said in announcing the awards.

Petitions for the scholarships must be submitted to the dean of women's office before 5 p.m. Friday, May 17. Blanks to be filled out by petitioners are obtainable at the office of the dean of women.

There will be a meeting for all Phi Thetas at the Side Monday at
