

Blue Skies Top Off 'State Fair' Festival

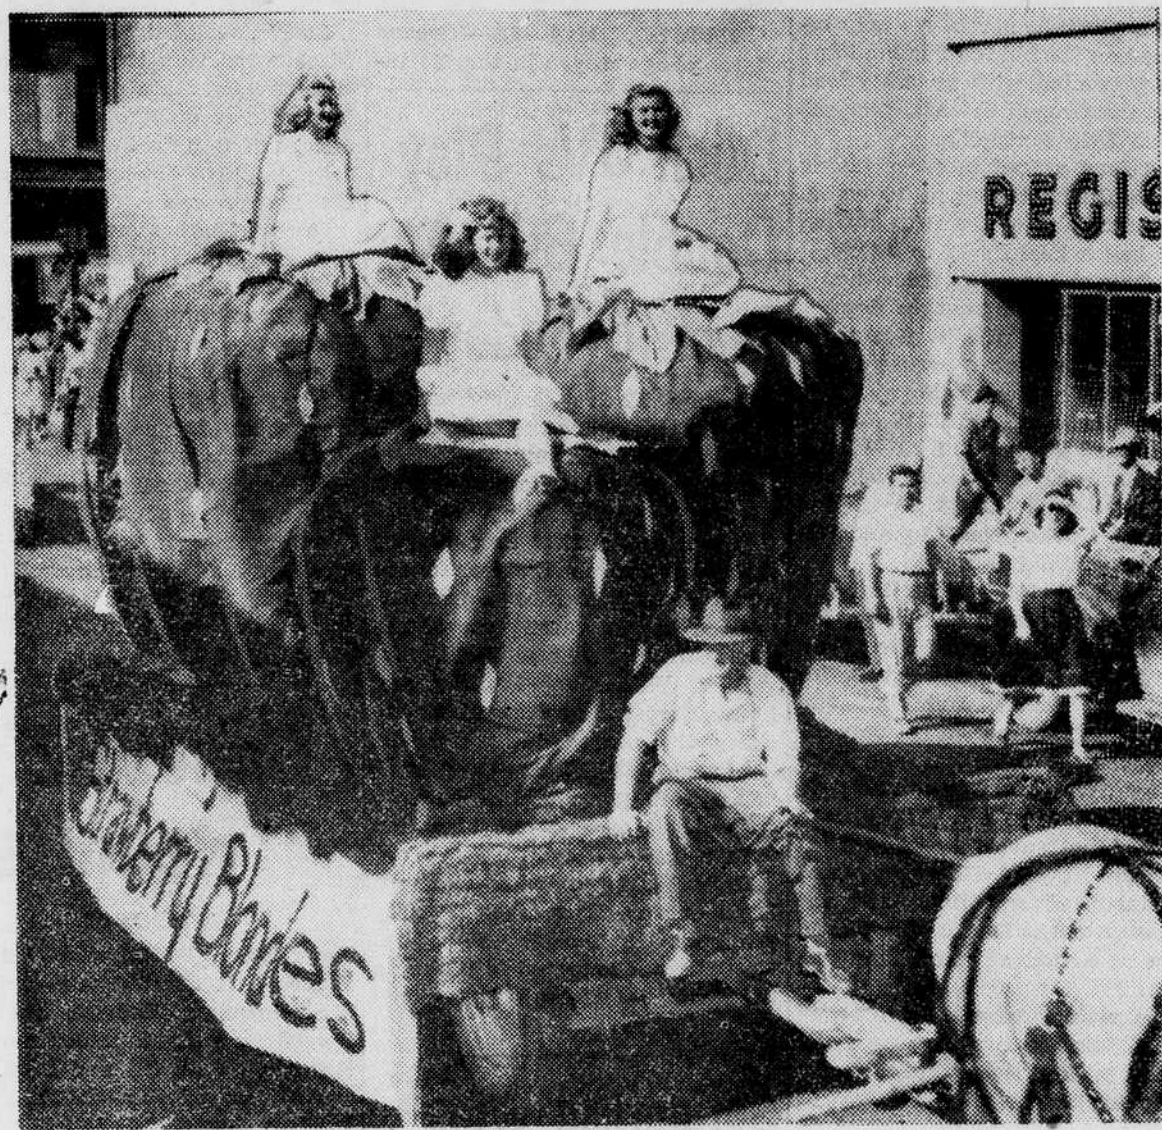

—Courtesy Eugene Register-Guard

THE QUEEN FLOAT

Built by Druids, junior men's honorary, carried "State Fair" Queen Pat Metcalf, and her four princesses, June Johnson, Mary Dixon, Marilyn Rakow, and Doris Spearow, to the scene of the coronation on the old campus.

Below: Gamma Phi Beta and Sherry Ross hall built the horse-drawn "Strawberry blondes" float. —Courtesy Register-Guard.

Student-Business Meet To Discuss Job Training

The fifth annual student-business conference, the first to be held since before the war, will hold its first meeting today at 2 p.m. in Room 105 Commerce.

According to Victor P. Morris, dean of the school of business administration, the various speakers will discuss such questions as, "Where are the best opportunities in business?" "What personal qualifications are needed?" and, "What college training is most important?"

Fifteen businessmen from Portland, Salem, and Eugene, representing a wide range of commercial fields, will lead discussion groups in their particular fields.

The program for today will include:

2:00-3:15 Governmental Accounting. Percy Brown, Eugene accountant, speaker. 105 Commerce.

Industrial Accounting. Thomas Winn, Eugene accountant, speaker. 105 Commerce.

Exporting, Importing and Shipping. K. C. Conyers, of Pope

& Talbot, Portland, speaker. 107 Commerce.

Real Estate. Wilbur J. Falloon, Portland, speaker. 106 Commerce.

3:15-3:30 Coffee will be served in the YMCA Lounge by Phi Chi Theta, business administration fraternity for women.

3:30-4:45 Airlines. C. A. Eberhardt, United Air Lines, Eugene, speaker. YMCA recreation room.

3:30-4:45 Advertising. Arthur House of House and Leland, Portland, speaker. YMCA lounge.

The schedule of tomorrow's conference will be in Wednesday's Emerald.

Ex-GI's to Answer Another Query

In a few days a vitally important questionnaire will be sent to all veterans under Public Law 16 or Public Law 346 in attendance at the University. It should be completed, signed, and returned to the veterans' administration guidance center, Room 114, P.E. building. This questionnaire contains important statements regarding changes of address which must have prior approval of the veterans' administration.

Any veteran who does not receive or complete the questionnaire by May 25 is requested to report in person to the guidance center, Room 114, P.E. building.

WASHINGTON, May 13.—(UP)—The senate and house completed action on President Truman's emergency housing bill and sent it to the white house for signature.

Fete Satisfaction Expressed By Co-Chairmen Sage, Kay

Blue skies shone over the Oregon campus in response to Buck Buckwach year's old editorial imploring Jupe Pluvius to hold off for the Junior Weekend festivities. Co-chairmen Marilyn Sage and Tom Kay expressed themselves as "pleased" with the results of the annual event.

Beginning with the outdoor tempo of Ted Hallock's straw-hatted combo on the library terrace Friday afternoon, the "State Fair" celebration rolled into high Friday night with the presentation of the all-campus sing at McArthur court. Winners of the sing were Chi Omega and Omega hall, who were awarded cups for their choral work by Dave Fortmiller, chairman of the affair.

Simultaneously with the "State Fair" the annual Mother's Day was celebrated on the campus. Jean Watson was chairman of the Mom's day events.

'O' Painting

Led off by painting of the "O" atop Skinner's Butte and cleaning of the Oregon seal in front of Villard hall, traditions continued into the tug-of-war Saturday between the freshmen and sophomore class.

Prior to the Weekend, an all-campus clean-up was carried out with University and Sherry Ross hall winning the prizes in records for doing the best job.

Float Parade

Trailing down Willamette street, the float parade opened the second day of the fete. The prize-winning float, a huge pig, was built by Alpha Xi Delta and Sigma Phi Epsilon. Dick Savinar, float committee chairman, awarded trophies to the winning organization at the outdoor dinner.

Ruling over the entire Weekend was Queen Pat Metcalf and her court of four princesses. The princesses were Mary Dixon, Marilyn Rakow, Doris Spearow, and June Johnson.

At the outdoor dinner Queen Pat was crowned by Prime Minister "Little Ox" Wilson. Tapping of various honoraries was carried through at the dinner and at other functions.

Junior Prom

To the music of Gus Arnheim and his orchestra, the Junior Prom was presented to a packed audience at McArthur court. During the intermission, the Gerlinger and Koyl cups were awarded to Marjorie Skordahl and Gil Roberts. Dorothy Davis was chairman of the dance committee.

Assisting Miss Davis in cleaning up the court was a committee headed by Toby West as chairman. On the committee was Betty Lou Dunday, Sally Eaves, Dona Mularkey, Georgia Moscript, May Bignell, Marbeth Stranahan, Shirley Crump, Betty Simmons, Marty Jennings, Bev Slaney, Marge Weeks, Tommy Tompson, Pat Thomas.

Fran Budo, Nancy Harlein, Bill Field, Cam Mallory, and Jack Ruble. The committee did the "best job that's ever been done," Miss Davis said. "I wish to express my appreciation to all who helped in this job, including the administration and physical plant employees."

Delta Tau Delta Fetes Noted Alum at Luncheon

Delta alumnus Ernest Haycox, Oregon author and 1923 University graduate, was guest of honor at a luncheon given by members of Delta Tau Delta fraternity Thursday noon at the Westgate Inn.

Haycox gave an informal talk to the members after the luncheon, which was presided over by Paul Eckleman, president of the fraternity. George Hall, assistant dean of men, was also a guest.

UO OPINION POLL

(Continued from page one)

plained, taking the right number of students from each class and major.

Check

An interesting check on the scientific poll of the public opinion class is afforded by an informal survey by Dan E. Clark, director of the summer session, during winter term. At that time Dr. Clark took a cross section of everyone attending the ten o'clock classes and about 20 per cent of those asked intended to return. This checks favorably with the 21 per cent figure obtained by the public opinion class.

A definite preponderance of men during the summer session is predicted by Mr. Price on the basis of the student poll. Of the 110 men polled 27 said they would return and 71 said they would not. This is a percentage of 35.4 who intend to return during the summer.

Coeds Low

The coeds on the campus fall far below this figure. Of the 119 women polled 9 said they would return and 110 said they would not. This percentage is only 7.6 of the women polled.

Last year's total enrollment was only 543 from all sources, Mr. Price stated, whereas the present estimate is based on those students on the campus now. Dr. Clark has informally stated that the summer enrollment figure may go to 1250 and that "he would not be surprised" if it went much higher.

All returns have not yet come in, Mr. Price said. It is difficult to reach an accurate cross-section of the students as the total enrollment is comparatively small. An error of 7.5 per cent may be expected from the student poll because of this fact while in a Gallup poll an error possibility of only 3 per cent is permitted.

The summer session question is only one of a number of questions asked by the public opinion class. Tabulations from other questions will be reported in future editions of the Emerald.

NELSON NAMED

(Continued from page two)

At Monday's meeting, the board named Olga Yevitch, freshman in liberal arts, as editor of the 1946-47 student directory, and decided that Gamma Alpha Chi, women's advertising honorary, should be in charge of advertising in the directory.

The board also awarded the contract for portrait work on the Oregon to Kennell-Ellis, appropriated travel funds for Dick Williams, educational activities manager, to attend a managers' conference in Victoria, B.C., and directed Williams to investigate available speakers for next year's all-campus lecture series.

Graduating List Posted At Registrar's Office

The list of seniors whose applications for bachelor's degrees have been received is posted at window 8 of the registrar's office on the second floor of Johnson hall. Clifford L. Constance, assistant registrar, asks that all seniors check to see that their applications have been received.