Students Approve Academic Standards

Campus Poll Reflects College Study; 50 Percent Comment 'Very Satisfactory'

By HERB PENNY

Is college study unsatisfactory to Oregon students?

This question has previously been problematical but now, as the result of another campus poll taken by the class in public opinion it has been shown that only to a small minority of Webfoots is their study unsatisfactory.

To the question of "What are your feelings toward your academic work at the University?"

only 1.6 per cent of the 256 students polled answered "Unsatisfactory." In contrast to this 50 per cent answered "Very satisfactory" and 48.4 per cent answered "Partially satisfactory."

The male population has a wider range of feelings toward the question than the female for while more men answered "Unsatisfactory" more men also answered "Very satisfactory."

In the "Very satisfactory" bracket there were 59.2 per cent of the men and 41.2 per cent of the women. Under the "Unsatisfactory" heading were 2.2 per cent of the men and .8 per cent of the women.

The difference was made up in the "Partially satisfactory" answers. Only 38.6 per cent of the men answered the question in this way compared to 58 per cent of the women.

Interesting fact of the survey was in the break-down of the classes. Freshmen men were the largest class which believed that their studies were unsatisfactory. There 7.2 per cent of this class which answered the question in that way.

The only other group which believed that their studies were unsatisfactory was sophomore women with 2.2 per cent answering. Other totals were: Very satisfactory—freshmen men 44.4 per cent, freshmen women 40 per cent; sophomore men 69.8 per cent, sophomore women 34 per cent; junior men 33.3 per cent, junior women 63.6 per cent; senior men 75 per cent, senior women 47.3 per cent; graduate men 66.6 per cent, graduate women 50 per cent.

Phi Theta To Give Three Scholarships

Two three-term tuition scholarships and one $75 scholarship will be awarded to junior women by Phi Theta Upsilon, junior women's honorary, at the regular ASUO assembly Thursday. The names of the winners will remain secret until the assembly, Marge Skordahl, Phi Theta president, announced Tuesday.

The women chosen to receive the scholarships were interviewed by members of Phi Theta, and judged on a basis of scholarship, need, and ambition.

The money for scholarships was earned by the navy-blue-uniformed Phi Thetas by ushering at football and basketball games, concerts, and other all-campus events.

Operatic Concert Tonight Stars Vocalists, UO Chorus

Vocalists under the direction of Sigurd Nilssen, professor of voice, will be presented in a program of operatic music tonight at 8 p.m. in the music school auditorium. Performances will also be given Thursday and Friday nights, and all three of the programs will be free to the public.

Arias from ten operas will be sung in the concert, which will also feature the University chorus under the direction of Donald Allton, assistant professor of music.

Soloists Named

Albert Dunn, baritone and freshman in music, will sing the prologue from "Pagliacci" by Leoncavallo. He will be accompanied by Patricia Metcalf, junior in music. "Ave Maria" from "Othello" by Verdi will be sung by Patricia Brown, dramatic soprano. Irene Bryan will accompany Miss Brown. "Vove di donna" (Angelic voices) from Ponchielli's "La Gioconda" will be given by Lucile Olson, contralto and freshman in music, accompanied on the piano by Emily Rhodes Parker.

Operas Listed

Other selections on the program will be taken from such famous operas as "Aida," "Il Trovatore," "Tannhauser," "Samson et Dalila," "Faust," "LaBoheme," and "Madame Butterfly."

Students besides those already named who will appear on the program are Rose Zena Latta, lyric soprano and sophomore in music; June Johnson, lyric soprano and senior in sociology; Patricia Jordan, lyric soprano and sophomore in music; Claire Lewis, dramatic soprano and freshman in music; Iris Duva, dramatic soprano and senior in business; Sue Welch Carlton, contralto and sophomore in music; Lowell Chase, tenor and sophomore in liberal arts; and James McMullen, baritone and sophomore in music.

Among those who will accompany the vocalists are Mary Margaret Dundore, Sylvia Killman, Betty Bennett Cramer, and Virgene Lindley.

Tom Kay, junior in business administration and Greek candidate for ASUO Number 1 position, won the 1946 student election Tuesday when he polled 1153 votes, as against the 918 for Gil Roberts, Independent candidate. Roberts will hold the Number 2 position during the 1946-47 school year. Marge Cowlin, junior in liberal arts and Greek nominee for the Number 2 position, was voted to the Number 3 post with 688 votes, and Ted Hallock, Independent candidate and junior in journalism, polled 466 votes and will occupy the Number 4 post. Out of 3802 students enrolled in the University, 2145 voted, and in addition to this figure, 22 ballots were improperly marked.

Fancher Prexy

Sweeping the ticket with further Greek elections, 82 juniors named Jada Fancher president of the senior class, with Bill Setser, Independent, in the Number 2, position with 43 votes. Charlotte Wicke, Greek nominee, won the Number 3 spot with 66 votes, while Jerry Mosby will serve in the Number 4 capacity with 17 votes. One hundred forty-one ballots were cast in this election, with 4 improperly marked.

Bob Daggett, Greek candidate for Number 1 junior class position, won with 523 votes, while Cliff Brooks will fill the Number 2 post with 303 votes, Bobbie Fullmer is Number 3 class officer with 288 votes, and Joyce Neidermeyer Number 4 office-holder with 118. Nine hundred ten ballots were submitted, with seven improperly marked.

Independent Victory

Independent candidate Clifton James won the Number 1 spot of the sophomore class with 388 votes, and Reed Grasse the Number 2
