Oregon Diamondeers Start Workouts For Crucial OSC Encounter Friday

Oregon's baseball team will re-new workouts today in preparation for the crucial game with Oregon State on Howe field Friday afternoon at 3 p.m.

The Ducks need but one win to wrap up the fourth straight Northern Division championship. Oregon State, victor in the first two games of the 1946 season, is still faced with the tremendous task of sweeping the series to capture the pennant.

The Beavers were in the money in 1943, when they tied for the flag with the Ducks and wartime conditions prevented a playoff for the title.

The two aces of the two hurling staffs will probably enact chapter two of their 1946 duel Friday afternoon. In the first encounter, Lefty Chuck Sauvain bested Hal Saltzman, 4 to 3, in a game decided by errors.

In the first two games the Beavers have managed to have one hitter who made the Oregon State attack click. In the first game Dick Kohler banged out a single, double and a triple to lead the Staters and in the second game the classy first sacker, Dorwood Cecil, was the big gun at the plate.

The games this weekend will wind up the 1946 conference schedule for both teams. After Friday's encounter here, the two teams will meet again at Corvallis on Saturday.

Oregon's nine is expected to concentrate on infield drills, batting practice and intra-squad workouts.

Phi Delts Ace SAE Netters

The tennis team of Phi Delta Theta yesterday completely swamped the tennis team of Sigma Alpha Epsilon by taking all of their three matches.

The second doubles team of the Phi Delts overpowered the second doubles team of the SAEs, losing but one game.

Today the Phi Gamma Delta tennis team will tangle with the Kappa Sigmas.

Results of yesterday's matches: Singles—Thoburn, Phi Delts, defeated Dekeater, 6-2, 6-1; doubles—McGowan and Tausing, Phi Delts, defeated Popp and Romsos, 6-4, 6-4; Stanton and Schick, Phi Delts, defeated Browne and Adams, 6-1, 6-0.

UO CONTINUES

(Continued from page four) get back in the groove when notified that he was OK to run again and has been knocking his time off every week.

Wynn Wright will be the only hurdler representing the yellow and green. Wynn has improved fast the last two weeks and is getting his old shape back that he had in the Southern California circles. With a bit of luck and fast skirting of the sticks, Wynn is liable to give the top hurdlers of the league from Washington a big surprise.

Salvation boy Frank Dienz is packing his pogo stick up to the meet as our pole vaulter. Frank has been practicing strenuously the last two days trying to get higher in the air. Frank was informed that he could participate in meets just a few days ago, journeyed over to OSC, won the pole vault there, and hopes to bring home a place for Oregon this week.

Bill Kydd, Lou Robinson, and Dick Shelton, the heaving trio, are set to knock over all opposition in the javelin contest. Kydd has the best toss of the spear in the conference, and Robinson and Shelton are probable placers in the meet.

Only OSC's Martinson has a better throw than Robinson, and Washington State's Culley has just beaten Shelton's tosses.

Taking care of the high jump and the broad jump are bounding Bill Beifuss and Tom Garrity. Beifuss has the best hop credited to him in the conference with a 6 foot 5 inch leap. WSC's Vince Hansen is supposed to have hit the same height, but the dope from the Cougars hasn't been very authentic, toss their white hope out the window. Garrity has been rolling over the bar in the 6 foot vicinity all year and is counted on to pick up a place.

The track and field men leave for Seattle early Friday morning and are set for their trip to the northern city. The 13-man squad, small as it is, might throw a monkey wrench into the two top favorites Washington and Oregon State's title contention hopes.

Dr. Cressman to Speak

Dr. L. S. Cressman, head of the anthropology department, will speak before the initiation of Sigma Xi, national science honorary, at Corvallis this evening.

The subject of his speech will be "Oregon's Pre-History."

Duck JV Nine Defeats SOCE

The University of Oregon junior varsity baseball team downed the Southern Oregon College of Education nine 8-6 in a close contest on Howe field yesterday afternoon.

The visitors went into the lead in the first inning when they picked up one run off the deliveries of Webfoot hurler Lyle Pettyjohn. Their big inning was in the third when they combined base hits with a pair of Duck bobbles in the field to score four runs.

The Webfoot nine picked up their tallies one and two at a time except in the fourth inning when they combined their efforts for three tallies.

Starting chucker for the JVs was relieved midway through the contest by Al Paulsen.

Leading the visitors' attack was centerfielder Chuck DeAutremount, former University high star from Eugene, who connected for a single, double, and triple in four trips to the plate.

The next JV game will be held at Howe field Saturday afternoon at 1 against the Franklin high school nine from Portland.

WS Racket Tourney Set For Ducks

Now that the dual conference is over and won by the University of Washington, all attention is being centered upon the all-schools elimination meet scheduled this weekend, may 24 and 25, at Pullman, Washington. This contest will determine the singles and doubles champions of the six schools represented.

Each school is to enter four players, and their respective coach has the privilege to enter his players in both singles and doubles or to enter them or part of them in only one event.

Eight players are to be seeded; one from each school upon recommendation of the coach with the additional seeded players selected through vote of the coaches present.

For the doubles series, the coaches will vote on the seeding of four teams.

The rankings of both seeded singles players and seeded doubles teams will be determined by a vote of the coaches.

All matches except the finals shall be the best two out of three sets. Finals may be either the best two out of three or best three out of five at the discretion of the coaches and players concerned.

All rules are in accordance with the United States Lawn Tennis Association, except those concerned with byes and with placing players or teams from the same schools in such a manner that they will not meet early in the tournament.
