'Noise-Parade' Plans, Committee Announced; Representatives to Meet

Five Named to Assist Wally Johnson In Annual Homecoming Feature

Wally Johnson, Homecoming "noise-parade" chairman, announced tentative plans Wednesday for the parade, October 18, and the names of his co-working committee. Those who will aid in planning the parade are Lucille Queen, Evelyn Dana, Bob Kingsbury, Dick Kramer and Bob Miller.

Each living organization will be limited to $5 in expenses for their float which will be judged entirely on the amount of noise that it makes. Judges will be from the executive board of the alumni association.

There will be a meeting today of all house representatives for the "noise-parade" in the Alumni room of Gerlinger hall at 4 p.m. They will at this time draw for partners and position in the parade. Houses not represented will be disqualified.

The parade will be led by the University of Oregon band and will start at 18th street and Potter behind the Theta Chi house at 7 p.m. It will progress snowball-fashion, attempting to pass every living organization on campus. The floats will join the parade as it proceeds to the bonfire on 19th street.

Alpha Gamma Delta, Alpha Omicron Pi, Gamma Phi Beta, Kappa Kappa Gamma, Chi Omega, and Pi Beta Phi were 100% in membership.

Dr. Little Appointed Architecture Dean

Sidney W. Little, ex-OSS Lt. Col. in China and Burma, will be the new dean of Oregon's school of architecture and allied arts, the state board of higher education has announced. Dean Little has attended the University of Florence and Ecole des Beaux Arts in Paris. Since his arrival at the University from his home town of Auburn, Alabama, where he was teaching architecture in a local school, the new dean has purchased a home in Eugene and intends to move into it with his wife "as soon as it is finished."

During the war Mr. Little served with the office of strategic services in Ceylon and Kandi. He helped build up the personnel of station 101, large OSS post that was hidden in the midst of the Jap-surrounded Burma jungle, to a strength of 1400 men.

This is the first time that Mr. Little has been in the Pacific Northwest. "We drove up the long way from Alabama," he said, "—a thrilling ride. What impressed me on the trip to Oregon was the radical changes of climate."

Voting Registration At Co-op Store Today

Student voters may register for the November elections at official registration booths in the campus Co-op open throughout Thursday, October 3.

Marty Pond, Druid secretary, announced Wednesday that any eligible veteran who has been back in the United States for six months or more may register to vote this year. "We desire that all citizens 21 years of age or over will avail themselves of this opportunity to register for the fall elections," Pond asserted.

Lloyd Howe, Lane county deputy clerk, has notarized Druidmen Tom Hazzard, Ed Marshall, and Marty Pond to act as registrars. Assisting them will be Phil Dana and Harry Glickman. Druid sponsorship of this activity is in line with their policy of dedication to civic service.

University Traffic Problems Considered by Authorities

Municipal and Campus Officials Work To Relieve Thirteenth Street Congestion

By BILL YATES

University officials, together with officials of the city, are busily working out plans to alleviate the congested traffic situation created on the campus this year by the increased auto and foot traffic, Dr. E. W. Pallett, assistant to the president, said in a statement Wednesday.

At present, one of the most serious problems to be confronted is that of parking. There are three University-owned parking spots on the campus. One of them, located near the music school has no restrictions. The lot next to Johnson hall and the one behind Friendly hall are reserved for faculty members who work in the immediate vicinity, and for persons coming to the University on official business.

As these areas are not large enough to take care of all University automobiles, an attempt is being made to secure several more large lots near the campus.

Dr. Pallett praised the efforts being made by the Emerald in regard to this problem. "We feel that the suggestion originally initiated in the Emerald that students living in any quarters adjacent to the campus refrain from bringing cars to the campus would be a real help," he said.

Another plan—to eliminate traffic on thirteenth street during the changing of classes—was discussed by President Harry K. Newburn and city officials in a two-hour session Monday. The street committee will refer a plan to the city council October 14 whereby two stop lights would be installed on the busy thoroughfare.

Dr. Pallett urged that all students cooperate in the present situation, and voiced the assurance that everything possible would be done to solve the difficult problems now confronted by students, University officials, and Eugene alike.

District Publishers Set Forest Grove Meeting

Publishers of six Oregon counties will gather at Forest Grove Saturday for a meeting of the Oregon Newspaper Publishers' association, according to Carl C. Webb, manager of the association.

Prof. Webb is the only campus representative attending.

Buzz Sigma Chi 'For Hair Beauty'

During the past three weeks students on this campus who have tried to call the Sigma Chi house received a shock when they dialed the number published in the Welcome book, which was given as 565. Hopefully dialing this number, the guy or gal would listen attentively for the answer, when all of a sudden a nice feminine voice would say, "Gibson's, for hair beauty."

Letting their curiosity get the better of the shock, callers immediately asked if that was the Sigma Chi house, showing evident lack of distinction between a beauty shop and a fraternity. According to the operator of Gibson's, one belligerent co-ed insisted that Gibson's was Sigma Chi and kept insisting until the owner of the place hung up. Sigma Chi's number is 5471, not 565.

Emerald Large Again After Short Editions

This is the first regular Emerald of the term to come out on the full-sized paper. Newsprint of a slightly smaller size was borrowed for the last few issues after the last year's supply of paper was destroyed in the fire at the University press last June 27.

Last night the University press and Emerald shack held open house featured by guided tours.
