

Don Hunter Gains Audio-Visual Post

Don L. Hunter of Eugene, former technician and assistant in the physics department of the University, is head of the newly formed audio-visual department of the library.

Mr. Hunter earned his bachelor of science degree in electrical engineering at the University of Nebraska, and since his discharge from the army last spring, has been working as electrical engineer with the Eugene Water Board.

The audio-visual department has been formed to make available to students and faculty, films, film stripe, micro-films and slides. As soon as possible the films and materials will be catalogued in a card index to make them more easily obtainable.
