Can You Sell, Clean-up, Shave? Need 'Whiskerino' Committees

Sophomore class officers are requesting petitions for committees for the "Sophomore Whiskerino," to be held some time in November. Petitions should be referred to Reid Grasle, Kappa Sigma; Cliff James in Sigma Hall, or Margery Weeks, Delta Zeta.

The "Sophomore Whiskerino" was one of the big events last year as Phyllis Kiste and Dick Williams, alias Betty Coed and Joe College, and Bob Hoffman, winner of the Whiskerino contest, will agree. This year, with a greater student body, the informal dance will be one of the main social events.

Committees to be petitioned for are: decoration, clean-up, tickets, entertainment, publicity, patrons and patronesses, Betty Coed-Joe College contest, and the famed Whiskerino contest. All petitions should be turned in by October 18 at the latest. Any sophomore is eligible to be on the committees.

Students can get petitions from either the dean of women or the dean of men, but must be sure that they are turned in to either Grasle, James, or Miss Weeks by October 18.

University Theater Offers Guest Night

Impetus for the current sale of University Theater Guild season tickets is a promised "night" at the coming production.

Any living organization making a 75 per cent sale of the tickets among its members is entitled to the full courtesies of the University theater come show time. This privilege will entitle each ticketholder to bring a guest and have choice seats for that one production.

Each living organization is asked to make a list of all students interested in buying season tickets, announces Alan Foster, Theater Guild publicity chairman. These lists and the money for the tickets will be collected next week. Further announcements as to the collection date will be made later.

Reserved seats for the production are offered to all season ticketholders. They may be picked up the day before the box office opens.

Dates Scheduled For House Hops

The following schedule of house dance dates was released by the dean of women's office Tuesday. Living organizations received preferred dates whenever possible.

Any house which has not scheduled dates for house dances should do so at once. A check should be made at the dean of women's office to get a list of the dates still available.

New Mark Set; 5682 Enrolled For Fall Term

3137 Veterans End Manpower Shortage

By BILL YATES

The University's enrollment has soared to an all-time high, as final figures released Tuesday by C. E. Avery, registrar, show a total registration of 5682 students for this term—a 104 per cent increase over fall term last year.

Three thousand one hundred thirty-seven male veterans have completely changed the man-shortage aspects found on the campus a year ago. Although 7 per cent more women are registered this year, including 124 veterans, the big increase is in the figures for male students.

Males

A total of 3689 men now enrolled here gives registration an increase of 302 per cent over last fall in this department. If one night all women students were to each date a male student, 1696 men would find themselves without feminine companionship.

Proof that marriage is no hindrance in the quest for an education is to be found in the following figures: 862 men and 162 women attending the University are married.

Major Breakdown

Liberal arts students head the list in the breakdown by majors. Next to these, of which there are 2094, are 1391 students in business administration. This is the largest University school and figures for it show a 223 per cent increase over those of last year.

The number in the law school jumped from only 24 in 1945 to 150 this year—an increase of over 600 per cent. Three hundred two more aspirants are listed as pre-law students.

Other Schools

Enrollment figures for other University schools are: architecture and allied arts, 704; journalism, 417; physical education, 224; music 219; and education, 161.

With a total of 2126 men and women, the freshmen lead as the largest class in the University, but the largest increase over last year's fall term was shown by the seniors. Many returning pre-war students have undoubtedly helped to bring about the large senior class, which registered 657 students.

Sophomore students total 2059, while the smallest of the four is the junior class, which has only 363 registered. Three hundred twenty-one graduate students and 156 special students were listed in the figures released by the registrar.

Two thousand two hundred sixty-one of the men and women at the University this fall are here for the first time, and 3421 have been here before and are coming back for more.

Rush Lists Requested

Fall term fraternity rushing cannot be re-opened until all fraternity presidents have submitted house lists to his offices, it was announced Tuesday by Virgil D. Earl, dean of men. All those who have not yet sent in these lists should do so as soon as possible.

Deane Seeger, Eugene city manager, stated Monday evening that the city streets committee has conferred at length with Dr. Harry K. Newburn, University president, and that a special, three-step plan to alleviate the Webfoot traffic problem will be recommended to the city council in their forthcoming meeting next Monday night.

It will be requested that permission be given the University to block Thirteenth by means of either lights or barricade, on the east side of its intersection with Kincaid Street, and on the west side of its intersection with University Street. The streets are to be blocked off for ten minute periods each hour, according to the plan, beginning at 7:50 a.m., and ending at 5 p.m. on all school days. It was pointed out that there was little necessity of blocking the streets all day because the majority of students are either in class or off campus except for the periods when classes change.

It will also be suggested to the city council that suitable signs be erected on Thirteenth to warn motorists of the ten minute closed periods, and that through trucks be prohibited from using Thirteenth. It was on this score that Seeger felt there would come the strongest protest.

Representatives of logging interests in the community have been complaining of the existing restrictions. What attitude they will take towards further restrictions is problematical, he felt.

Panel Will Decide Tonight On 'Welcome Girl' Finalists

Five finalists for the "Homecoming Hostess" of 1946 will be chosen tonight when candidates from living organizations appear before judges for the initial selections of Oregon's "welcome girl." Judging will take place at 8 p.m. in Alumni hall of Gerlinger hall.

The finalists will be voted on Monday by the student body. Voting will take place in the co-op.

Educational Movies Scheduled Tonight

World War II will be the theme when "Japan Surrenders," "Pledge to Bataan," "Manila," and "A Gallant Poll" are shown in 207 Chapman tonight.

The movies, sponsored by the Educational Activities committee, will begin at 7:30 and 9 p.m.

Candidates should wear heels and short silks for the judging tonight, Sue Schoenfeldt, Hostess committee chairman, announced Tuesday. Judges who will pick the five finalists tonight are: Les Anderson, alumni secretary; Tom Kay, ASUO president; Benny DiBenedetto, Homecoming chairman; Dick Williams, educational activities manager; and Sue Schoenfeldt.

Chinese Student Relief Worker To Hold Discussion at YWCA

Student relief in China will be discussed by Miss Chang Shen, Chinese student relief worker, at an open meeting and discussion at the YWCA bungalow tonight at 8.

After graduation from the University of Shanghai, Miss Shen began her work for the Y which eventually led to her interest in student relief. She has since served on the faculty of several Chinese colleges and directly for the national student service organization.

It took Miss Shen 33 days to get from Chungking to Shanghai where she boarded a plane for the United States. She arrived in Eugene at 5:15 last night.

Guide Dope Requested

All students whose addresses or telephone numbers have been changed since registration and want the correct information to appear in the student directory may contact Olga Yevfich at the University News Bureau after 7 p.m. on Wednesdays or Thursdays or telephone 3300, extension 252.

Year's Speech Work To Be Planned in Meet

Students interested in speech work will discuss plans for the year's activities, including contests in inter-collegiate competition in oratory, after dinner speaking, and extemporaneous speaking, at 4 tonight in 107 Friendly.

Experience in speech work is not necessary, according to Kirt E. Montgomery, assistant professor of speech.

Mr. Montgomery urges students who are interested in this program, but cannot attend the meeting, to see him in his office at 107 Friendly, this week.
