

Five newly-elected Homecoming Hostesses pose on the brick wall in the women's quadrangle. From left to right they are: Mary Joy Ham, Chi Omega; Martha Thorsland, Pi Beta Phi; Nancy Gloor, Alpha Phi; Joan Williams, Delta Gamma; and Dawn Carson, Delta Delta Delta.

UO President Slated to

President Harry K. Newburn will

the Salem Business and Professional Women in Salem Monday. Theme of the meeting is "Let's work together for a better community."

Dr. Newburn while in Salem.

as a topic for his talk.

Dr. Newburn will use this subject

Speak in Capital City

NOT A BRICK OUT OF PLACE . .

The Hostess . . . Who?

Finalists Say Hello

Names of the five beautiful finalists who were selected by judges from 23 candidates in the Homecoming Hostess contest were announced Friday by Sue Schoenfeldt, chairman of the contest committee. The girls are Martha Thorsland, Pi Beta Phi; Joan Williams, Delta Gamma; Nancy Gloor, Alpha Phi; Dawn Carson, Delta Delta Delta; and Mary Joy Ham, Chi Omega.

The winning girl, who will be selected by popular vote, will be the official "welcome girl" during Homecoming weekend and will act as hostess for many of the social events such as the rally dance on Saturday, October 19.

Polling will take place all day Monday in the Co-op to choose the "Homecoming Hostess of 1946." Students must present their educational activities cards in order to vote.

The final selection of Homecoming Hostess will be announced at the rally October 18.

Miss Thorsland, an English major, is from Eugene. Political science is the major for Miss Williams who comes from Portland. Miss Gloor, a social science major is from Berkeley, California, and Miss Carson is majoring in business administration. Her home is in San Francisco. Miss Ham is majoring in business administration at the University while deciding whether to make the United States or British Columbia her home. She will have a choice of citizenship when she becomes 21.

The girls were notified of their selection Wednesday night when Sue Schoenfeldt called each girl to arrange for their group picture. They were asked to keep their identity secret until official announcment was made.

VOLUME XLVIII

UNIVERSITY OF OREGON, EUGENE, SATURDAY, OCTOBER 12, 1946

Campus Cuties Given Opportunity Piggers To Strut Stuff At Homecoming

By JUNE GOETZE

Choice of five of the most beautiful girls on campus will be given University students Monday when the five finalists for Homecoming hostess are voted upon at the co-op. Announcement of the winner of the contest will not be made until the official Homecoming hostess is introduced at the rally following the noise parade and the frosh bonfire

Oct. 18. Joan Williams of the Delta Gamma house is a native of Eugene having lived here all her life except during her senior year in high school when she attended Washington high in Portland. At the end of that year she was named queen of the Portland Rose Festival.

Majoring in political science, Joan is president of Kwama, sophomore women's honorary. Brownhaired and brown-eyed Joan is 19 years old and five feet seven inches tall. Last year she was treasurer of her class.

Mary Joy Ham, sophomore in susiness administration, has made her home in British Columbia. Given her choice of citizenship in the United States or Canada when she is 21 years old, she decided to attend the University of Oregon to help her make her decision.

Skiing and swimming are among the hobbies of the petite blue-eyed blonde, a member of the Chi Omega Dawn Carson of the Tri-Delta house is a graduate of Lowell high school in San Francisco. Five feet seven and one-half inches tall, she has brown hair and eyes. Dawn is now in her third year attending the University and is majoring in liberal arts.

Nancy Gloor, senior in social science, is five feet five inches tall with blonde hair and green eyes Just last Tuesday she celebrated her 21st birthday. A member of the Alpha Phi house, Nancy is a native of Berkeley, California.

Martha Thorsland, senior in English, is the choice of the Pi Beta Phi house. Tapped last Junior Weekend (Please turn to page eight)

To Show Nov.1

Number 17

Definite announcement that the 1946-47 "Piggers Guide" will be available on November 1 was given by Editor Olga Yevtich, Friday. Although the student directory will be twice as long as the issue of last year, it will be essentially the same.

Work on the publication will be facilitated by the use of an IBM machine from the registrars office. The cover designed by 'Scotty' Mindolovich is now in the process of being printed. Laura Olson will edit speak before a luncheon meeting of the feature section.

Jean Johnson, associate editor, stressed that good typists are needed to aid the staff. Those interested may call the University news bureau, extension 252, any evening after 7 p.m.

The University "Pigger's Guide" The school administrators' annual the ASUO office in McArthur court. son said.

Sceptic Hour Slated For Religious Week

13 Noteworthy Speakers to Conduct Forums With Open Discussion Periods

"A Sceptic's Hour" has been added to the program of Religious Emphasis week, to be held on the campus October 27 to November 1, it was announced by Martha Thorsland, student chairman of the event, Friday.

For each of the school days during the week there will be one of the guest speakers present to conduct a question and answer period and a discussion of religious subjects, emphasizing the title of the hour. As the first observance since 1938, when such prominent speakers as T. Z. Koo, Chinese leader, and E. Stanley Jones, internationally recognized Christian statesman, Latest addition to the role of famous speakers scheduled to appear is George Nahas, Paris, travelwork reproduced in the Oregana. ing in the United States under the Acknowledgements will be made for auspices of the World Student Serall material used. Snapshots taken vice fund. Nahas has been decorated last spring term will be acceptable, six times by four of the allied naand all entries must be in the Ore- tions and published a clandestine conference will also be attended by office has recently been moved from gana offices by November 15, Nel- paper in France during the German occupation. He was arrested several times by the Gestapo and by the Vichy police, but escaped to carry on his underground activi-

> Religious Emphasis week is a University of Oregon affair, and has the support of the University Christian mission, with headquarters in New York, who helps universities and campuses throughout the country to hold the event.

With a cast of 13 this year's team has such prominent speakers as the bishop of California for the Episco-

(Please turn to page eight)

Ticket Representatives To Pick Up Allotments

Homecoming - dance ticket representatives who were announced yesterday in the Emerald should pick up their ticket allotment today between 9 and 11 a.m. from Bob Dagget at the Sigma Chi house or from Barbara Patterson at Kappa Alpha Theta.

General admission price is $2.40 per couple and students who cannot contact ticket representatives may obtain tickets at the educational acivities office in McArthur

Snapshot Pages Set

Two pages have definitely been alloted in the 1947 Oregana for informal snapshots, Roy Paul Nelson, editor, said yesterday. He added that additional space might be used if student response to the current appeared, this year's Religious photo contest is sufficiently large. Emphasis week features a galaxy of

Cash prizes of $10, $7, and $5 will well-known religious leaders. be awarded the three winning entrants. A number of honorable mention winners will also have their

Oregon Law Review Editors Named

Bernard, Granquist, Wiener, Norville Selected to Head Technical Quarterly

Editors of the Oregon Law Review were announced by Professor Charles G. Howard editor in chief this week. Appointed were: William F. Bernard, student editor; Alva A. Granquist, note and comment editor; Norman J. Wiener, recent cast note editor; and Gerald Norville, book review and statute editor.

The review is a technical legal journal and the efficient publication of the Oregon Bar association.

The appointments are made as a reward for high legal scholarship with a view to encouraging independent critical study and writing. Both Miss Granquist and Bernard were members of the law review staff last year. All of the members of the editorial board are third year law students, and candidates for the J.D. degree.

Released last year from the Merchant Marine, Bernard is the president of Phi Delta Phi, legal honorary. The author of two recent cast notes published in the Review, his law school record as well as his Law Review work has been outstanding.

Miss Granquist is the author of a note and comment feature (Please turn to page eight)

ALVA GRANQUIST . . . Newly-named note and comment editor of the Oregon Law Review.