Newquist, Bell, Reynolds, Koch Score in 34-0 Win

After punching out a convincing 34 to 0 win over University of Montana Saturday, University of Oregon's undefeated Webfoots headed back to the practice grind that will lead them to a Saturday engagement with Washington State College. Webfoot stock soared to new heights Saturday after completely outclassing "the strongest team in Montana's history." From the opening kickoff the Ducks were in the driver's set. Within 1 minute 55 seconds of the opening quarter the Webfoots had tallied their first touchdown, and from there on it was all Oregon.

Oregon started their scoring after Montana had fumbled the initial kickoff. Ball hawking Hymie Harris first captured the free ball, but lost it. Guard Tony Novacic, in his first starting role at right guard, however, picked up the bounding oval on the Montana 32-yard line, and Oregon was on the way.

Score in Five Plays

In five plays the Webfoots had scored. Right half George Bell and fullback Bob Koch alternated in carrying down to the Grizzly 1-yard line, where Koch boomed over right guard for the score. Oregon's automatic converting machine, Jim Newquist, added the extra point via placement.

Oregon's line backing center, Brad Ecklund, set the Webfoots up for their second score by intercepting a first down Montana pass on the Grizzly 44 and lugging it to the 32-yard stripe. From there, jack-of-all backfield chores, Jim Newquist, floated a pass to Bell on the Montana 11, and Bell scored unmo- lested. Newquist failed to convert after an Oregon holding penalty added 15 yards to the kicking distance.

Coach Oliver's Webfoots were held scoreless in the second quarter but managed to rack up two more touchdowns in the third period. Left Half Newquist climaxed a drive from the Oregon 34 to score on a sweep around right end. Newquist again added the extra point from placement.

Big Bob Koch, who had a fine day at fullback for Oregon, scooped in a Montana pass late in the quarter on the Oregon 49-yard line, and from there rambled untouched to score. Newquist tipped his conversion total by place kicking the point after touchdown.

Final Score in Fourth

Final Webfoot score came in the fourth quarter after Coach Oliver had cleaned the bench of substitutes. Webfoot hard luck man, Bobby Reynolds, finally scored a touchdown that was not nullified by an Oregon penalty.

Montana punted to the Oregon 28-yard line, and from here the Webfoots moved to the goal. Featured plays of this drive were two 10-yard passes thrown by Reynolds, one to quarterback Bill Abbey, and the other to end Darrel Robinson. Tricky Bob clinched the score with a 12-yard dash around right end. Newquist kicked his final extra point of the day to make the final total of 34 points.

Only serious Oregon casualty of the game was halfback Bell, who bruised a hip and may not be ready for WSC. All-American Jake Leicht and guard Jim Berwick,

Kahananui Tops With Nine for Ten

The Emerald pigskin experts raised their heads to look about the world again after a week of hiding, as the October 12 predictions re-established them as "fair" even if not "experts" in the field of prognosticating.

Tops for the week was Johnny Kahananui with nine out of a possible ten correct. His only miss was the Indiana-Illinois game.

Missing two predictions but still leading the field in the season's totals was Larry Lau. He ran into trouble in the Hoosier-Illini tilt and the Washington-WSC game as well.

neither of whom saw action Saturday, are both expected to be ready to go against the Washington State Cougars.

WSC Big Test For Webfoots

The most severe test yet this season awaits the Oregon Webfoots in their homecoming game against Phil Sorboe's Washington State Cougars Saturday. Although the Cougars have dropped two games to USC and Washington, their second place team of the 1945 season is almost intact.

The Cougar line, although comparatively light, is considered one of the better defensive lines on the coast, boasting such outstanding linemen as Center Andy Lazor, Tackle Laurie Niemi, and End Francis Bacoka.

The Ducks will probably field a superior backfield, but Coach Sorboe has a talented combination in Fullback Dick Abrams, Quarterback Dean Eggers, and Halfbacks Bill Lippincott and Darroll Waller.

Since the two teams commenced their rivalry in 1901, the Cougars have won 11 and the Webfoots 8. Four games have ended in deadlocks.

Oliver coached teams hold a 3-2 edge over WSC, with one tie. Last year the two teams split a home and home series, Oregon winning 26 to 13 on Hayward field and the Cougars taking the second game at Pullman 20 to 13.

Sorboe, who is coaching his second year at Washington State, is a former WSC athlete who played pro ball with the Boston Redskins, Chicago Cards, and Brooklyn. He is considered the outstanding young mentor in the Pacific Coast conference this year.

THE HIGHLY REGARDED Oregon offensive broke out in full bloom Saturday as the Webfoots roared to a 34-0 win over the Grizzlies of MSU. The contest was settled in the first two minutes of play, when the Oliver eleven recovered a Montana fumble on the opening kickoff and punched over a score in five plays.

Packing the ball in this action shot is Bob Reynolds, flashy halfback who shortly after this picture was taken stepped across the goal for his first touchdown of his varsity career. Also in the above action are Chuck Elliott (39), Montana's Darrell Wardien (90), and in the foreground, Duke Iversen in the process of blocking a would-be tackler. (Courtesy the Register-Guard.)
