

Student Delegates to Attend International Relations Meet

Delegates from the University of Oregon with those of forty other colleges will attend the annual regional conference of International Relation clubs of the Northwest on November 15 and 16 at Marylhurst College, near Portland, Oregon. Student round table discussions will center on the topic, "Does United Nations Organization Provide Means and Machinery to Solve the Problems Confronting World Peace."

Mrs. Malcolm W. Davis, representative of the Carnegie Endowment of New York will preside over the opening session at 10:00 a.m. Friday. Formerly an editor of the "Delineator" and "Outlook" magazines, her semi-autobiographical account of her European experiences, "Peace Takes a Wife," will be published next year.

"The United Nations From Within" is the topic of Dr. Frank Munk, professor of political science at Reed college, Portland, who will speak Friday evening. This session will be open to the public.

Dr. Munk organized training centers of the United Nations Relief and Rehabilitation administration in England, Egypt, Greece, Italy, and other countries during the crucial months of the war. Thus he was able to study the economical, political, and relief problems of Europe and the near east. He also appointed director of training for UNRRA throughout the world.

A social calendar to enable delegates to become acquainted is being planned. Members of the Marylhurst college, I.R.C. will arrange housing and transportation.

UO Bible Group to Meet

The weekly Bible study hour for the UO fellowship will be conducted as usual from 8 to 9 a.m. today in the men's lounge of Gerlinger hall. Rosalind Rinker will preside.

Druids Request Lists

Tom Hazzard, Druid president, requests that all living organizations turn in their lists of junior men to the Druids as soon as possible.

The Emerald got its name because Joaquin Miller called Oregon the Emerald state.

Wesley House to Form Drama, Choral Groups

Two new groups are being organized at Wesley house by Rev. David Seamen, house adviser.

One of the organizations will be the "Wesley Players," a dramatic society, and the second will be a choral singing group.

Mr. Seamen invites all students who are interested in these groups to please attend the meetings scheduled for tonight which will be at 7 and 8 p.m. respectively.

Dr. Newburn to Speak Before Portland Groups

President Harry K. Newburn will speak tonight at the family night dinner of the Portland Westminster Presbyterian church in Portland. Thursday noon he will address a luncheon of the Portland Lions club at the Heathman hotel.

Dr. Newburn will speak on "International Understanding and the Community" at both meetings.

Civil Service Exams Given

The state civil service commission has announced in a letter received by Harry K. Newburn, president of the University, that examinations are now being given in the clerical and caseworker series.

Many vacancies exist in the state agencies. The unemployment compensation commission, the public welfare commission, the board of health, and the crippled children's division of the University of Oregon medical school, are in need of clerks, typists, caseworkers, and stenographers.

To qualify, applicants must be citizens of the United States and residents of the state of Oregon. Educational qualifications depend on the different types of positions.

They range from high school graduation to college degrees.

Pay runs from $125 to $175 a month. Advancement will depend upon length and quality of service.

Application forms may be obtained from the civil service commission at 444 Center street, Salem, or 620 Mead building, Portland; or any office of the public welfare commission, unemployment compensation commission, or employment service.

Examinations will be held at various centers throughout the state. All application forms must be filed on or before November 18, or post-marked before midnight of that date.

Saturday Classes Out

University classes on Saturday of this week will be dismissed to enable students to attend the UCLA-Oregon football game in Portland.
