

IFC Delegates Iron Problems In Seattle Meet

University fraternities were represented at the Western Regional Inter-Fraternity Council conference at the University of Washington in Seattle last week by Byron Mayo, president of the Oregon Inter-Fraternity council, and Richard Savinar, secretary-treasurer of the council.

Twenty-five Western universities and colleges were represented at the meet held October 31, and November 1 and 2. In all-day sessions, the representatives split into small groups in which various problems confronting inter-fraternity councils and individual houses were discussed.

Hazing Substitution

No longer considering "hell week" a problem, the fraternity men expressed favor toward the plan used on the University of Oregon campus where an informal working period has been substituted.

In the relations of fraternity men with non-fraternity men it was agreed that there are no gaping differences between the two. Both follow the same principles and aims of the institution they are attending.

Many Problems Discussed

It was urged by the conference that each council attempt to further in any way possible, the friendly relationship that should exist between all college men.

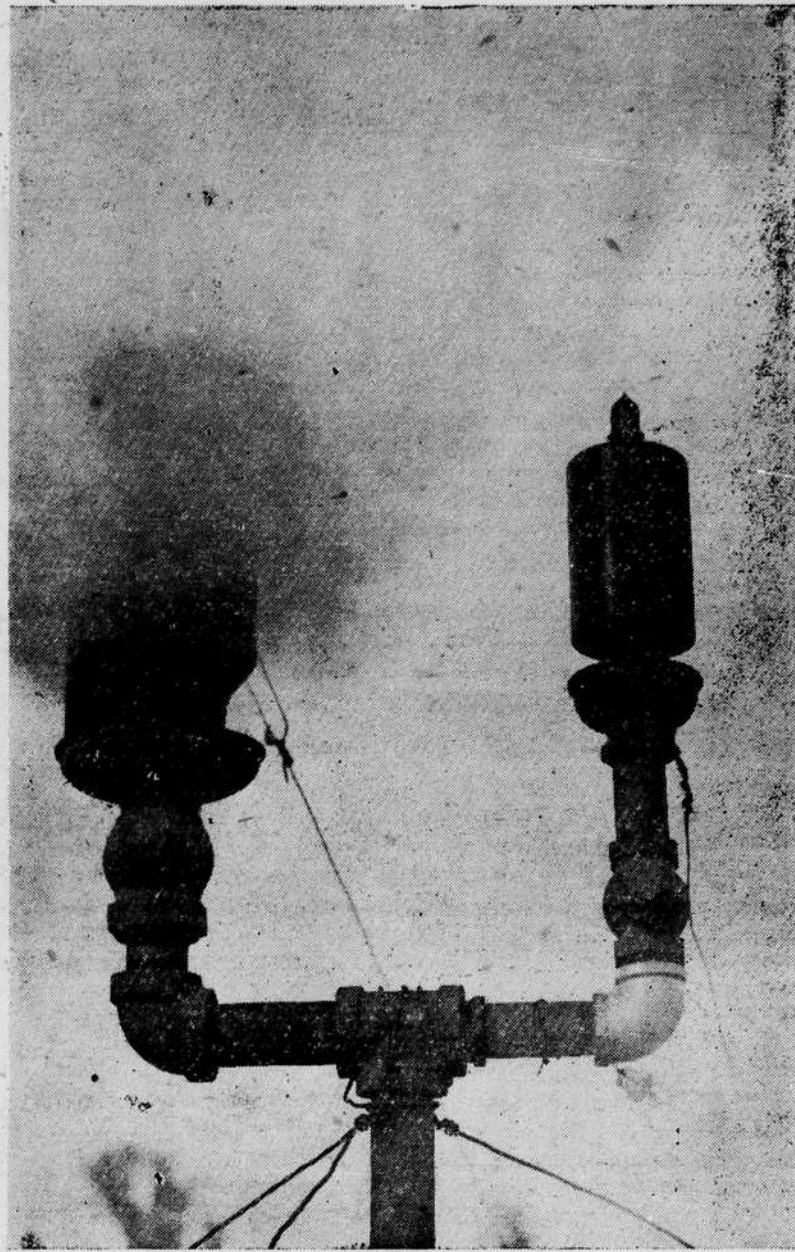

Also discussed at the conference were matters pertaining to rushing, public relations, and pledge training. Dr. G. Herbert Smith, president of Willamette university and national president of Beta Theta Pi, spoke at a banquet Friday night.

George Hall, assistant dean of men, attended the conference in place of Virgil D. Earl, dean of men.

Art Director Here

Karl S. Bolander, national director of the high school art shows, was present at a tea given by Maude I. Kearns, associate professor of art, Monday afternoon, where he invited the University to take part in scholarship awards given to winners of these contests.

Bolander was very impressed with the art exhibitions in the art school, stating that it was gratifying to view such achievements. He stated that $11,000 is given out in cash prizes every contest and 70 art schools and University scholarships go to winners of the art shows. He hopes Oregon will be among the schools giving scholarships during the 1948 season.
