

Registrar Announces Early Registration

New System Planned to Eliminate Congestion Existing in Previous Enrollment Periods

By BILL YATES

Complete plans for the University's first experiment in advance registration, December 2 to 21, were disclosed Monday by Registrar C. E. Avery. The new system is designed to eliminate the congestion, confronted on a single registration day, by spreading the work over part of the preceding term.

All students now enrolled in the University who plan to attend next term will begin their registration during the week of December 2 to 7, and will complete it on or before December 21.

Registration material will be issued to each student during the first week in accordance with a scheme which will utilize the serial number on each student's ASUO card. A complete schedule of this procedure will be found below. Each student begins his registration routine by presenting his ASUO card at the information window on the main floor of Johnson hall at his appointed time. If a student has classes at this time, he should go first to the class and then report to Johnson hall during free time.

At the information window each registrant will be issued

New Committee Formed to Boost Student Union Building Campaign

Promotion Group Will Raise Funds

The first definite steps toward raising the needed funds for the student union building have taken the form of a committee which will handle all promotional work on the campus, Wally Johnson, student union chairman, has announced.

The committee consists of Nancy Bedingfield, junior in journalism; Jim Luckey, freshman in law; Gloria Grenfell, sophomore in journalism; Robert Aiken, senior in economics; and Nancy Peterson, sophomore in journalism.

The main purpose of the committee is to keep the student body conscious of the movement, and to make it apparent to the alumni that the students are working toward the student union goal, Johnson said.

At the present Ernest Haycox, president of the Oregon Alumni association, and his committee are contacting all Oregon alumni for student union pledges. No definite drive will be conducted on the campus as yet, except for securing student breakage fees, which are

Lauritz Melchior Presentation Sunday Commended by Student Music Critic

By MARY DUNDORE

Lauritz Melchior, famed Wagnerian tenor of the Metropolitan opera, was enthusiastically received by a large audience gathered in McArthur court last Sunday.

Directed by Otto Seyfert, the orchestra, which accompanied Mr. Melchior throughout the program, opened with Sibelius' "Finlandia." Discrepancies in the horn section, badly marred this number.

Warmth and Beauty

Mr. Melchior, then beginning his first group of songs, sang "Stille mit Hjerte" by Hannikainen. The tenor's warmth and beauty of tone lent itself well both to this and to the "Der flyver saa mange Fugle" by Andersen which followed.

In spite of a slight tightness in these first numbers, the entire program displayed only that rich, satisfying quality of tone that has made his voice so outstanding. With vigor and spirit, Mr. Melchior closed his first group, singing, "Drick" by Jordan. An encore, Henriques' "Danish Spring Song" was beautifully interpreted.

Strings Good

The orchestra played once again, this time "Overture to 'Merry Wives of Windsor'" by Nicolai. The strings were good in this lilting selection. Mr. Melchior's next group was devoted to the operatic arias: "Grahlszahlung" from "Lohengrin" by Wagner, and "M'Appari" from von Flotow's "Martha." The Wagnerian aria was the more outstanding of the two, since it demanded and received the singer's best capabilities.

One does not often hear a voice like Mr. Melchior's; when one does, it is particularly satisfying to hear sung, those things which to less dynamically gifted artists are impossible. The "M'Appari," however, as

All-Campus Christmas Sing Cancelled by Religious Council

The All-Campus Christmas sing, tentatively planned by the University religious council, has been cancelled, according to Beverly Pitman, student member of the council and chairman of the affair.

The sing would have been given during the closed-week of finals, and would have conflicted with study regulations. It would have also conflicted with caroling groups from the various living organizations.

Vespers Being Cleared

Winter and Spring dates for the vesper services, also sponsored by the council, are now being cleared through the dean of women's office and will be announced soon.

The purpose of the organization is to afford some type of religious expression, in addition to the regular functions of the organized churches, which would be representative of the social, intellectual, and spiritual life growing out of the special society formed by the University.

Membership Diverse

The membership, composed of both students and adults, includes workers from the various denominations, YWCA and YMCA secretaries, representatives of the Eugene Ministerial association, and members of the faculty committee on religious and spiritual agencies.
