

German Club To Schedule Party

A merry Christmas party, including a banquet, community singing of German folksongs, a tree and exchange of gifts, is planned for December 12 for members of Deutsche Gesellschaft, German society formed by returned veterans in the University of Oregon, according to Walter Freauff, Portland, president.

Freauff said the new organization, formed to supplement classroom activities, will inform members of German life, culture, and everyday modes of living. Semi-monthly meetings will feature movies, skits, songs, and works of art, he added. Dr. A. J. Ziegleschmid, acting professor of German here, is adviser for the new group.

joring in English. Serving three years in the Quartermaster corps, particularly in Germany, Foster was active in the special service work doing several performances in the famed 7th army club "Stardust."

On campus he appeared in "Eve of Saint Mark," "Of Thee I Sing" and several other productions.

When asked how he felt about the dual role idea, he explained that it was a good idea, for it enabled each of them to watch the actual scene in which they played.

Alan is a staunch backer of "Rit," all purpose dye, explaining that for the play he must change the color of his hair to black, an outstanding feature of the character. Many of the costumes in the play are black and one whole weekend was spent by Shirley and Foster in dying army suntans to black.

Foster and Shirley discuss the possibility and outstanding features of Richardson and Birney's play. "Dark of the Moon" is full of quality and possesses a heavy mood. In some scenes delightful comedy comes to light.

The production is under the direction of Horace W. Robinson, director of the University theater. Dates which the play will run have been set for December 4, 6, 10, 11, and 12 with a matinee on the afternoon of December 7.
