From here on in, red-eyed Webfoots will be stirring their morning coffee with an Econ book instead of an Emerald. Assignments are piling up to the point where many will reluctantly be forced to put business ahead of pleasure; you'd think this was a university or something. This issue is the last of the fall series. Weary shackrats will be able to take at least a cursory glance at a book for a week or two. To all you bright people who will get 1.5's and won't be with us next term . . . don't think it hasn't been nice having you.

Players on the University stage are scrambling around in frantic last minute efforts to get located properly. Pi Phi's cute little de-icer, Sally Mueller will make her last move of this term anyhow, when she heads for the Millrace section. Jim Boechi, the JVs curly-headed el capitano will escort her to the Phi Psis Tondelayo dance Sat. eve. People are getting engaged like mad around here. Alpha Chi's Marge Slater announced her engagement to Ralph Johnson Mon. eve., and Phi pledge Jean Swain is going whole hog. She'll marry S-Nu Bob Phipps Dec. 21st. Theta Becky Fish is now officially ringed by Bob Strayhorn, OSC toff. DZ's lovely Veda Nichols still has swarms of men hanging on the ropes; SAE's Don Wells seems to be doing quite well. Kappa's Lewayne Engwall has a real chummy arrangement with the Theta Chis. She's dating Dick Cramer Fri. eve, and Bob Kingsbury Sat (the Sat. eve deal is a double date with the aforementioned Dick Cramer and an unnamed gal completing the foursome. Pi Psi Barbara Herr announced her engagement to Phi Psi pledge Dick Rinde Wednesday. Hank Steers and Jim Dunnahoo both making the mad dash for the petite Martha Cleveland.

Jean Dodson, G-Phoo, happy about the Xmas to be spent with OSC's Bill Weber (they'll make the arrangement permanent this spring). "Curly" McEachern and "Knobby" Scofield giving an Army-

Navy version of the Souse Amer. Samba . . . Elaine Taylor and Don Schaffer, slow but steady . . . Delt Pinky Person wishing his pledge pin could be planted; Jerry Dostalik is anxious too . . . The not-so-shy Bob Rasmussen will squire the exciting Julianne Chevrier Sat. eve. . . Ken Roberts, trying hard in the Iancy Lausman league saving her exuberance for the DU dessert this week; next week the Fijis get a break . . . Apologies Dept.; the Hazel Roake-Dan Didi combo has not broken up yet . . . K-Sig Jim Snyder, back on the trail of De Be Groneman.

Arty Dave Stone and bubbly Kan Hinshaw back at it again . . . Dan Fry, the apparent victor in the fifty man scramble for Ky Strong . . . Chi O's Johnny Campbell and Tom Kennedy, in the oh-so chummy stage. . . An attractive foursome that were enjoying more than the game the other eve was Alpha hall's Nancy Berwick and Louise Hastrup with S-Nu's Howdy Steers and Jim Berwick. . . Dick Hawes wants well-wishers to know that he's saving his charms for the lucky Pi Phis come winter term . . . Ray Gannet, the center of an interesting Jada Fanchere-Mary Naftel triangle (Miss Naftel was quoted recently as saying she was all out for Ray) . . . Pat Mauney and Ty Lovelace, not finding Eugene over the holidays so lonely after all.

When is Beta Rod Woodworth going to get around to a pin-planting with Carol Becker? . . . Jerry Fraser in a mild spin over Chuck Ruffner. . . Who's the delectable French gal John Hemphill raves on about . . . Jimmy George, cutting into the Ginny Bratfisch league. Chub Watson, being stubborn . . . Sally Timmons giving Tommy Ray just one more chance . . . Hank Vedeberg, still batting .500 with Marge Cowlin . . . The very cute Mavis De La Mare, losing a pair of blue booties on the train en route to Lewiston . . . Tom Collins and Joan Smith, steady as rain . . . Jane Carson, commenting that John Halbert is the most attentive man (hmm. Jim Schiller, Marc Brown, and Bill George took no time off over Thanksgiving; their trip to Portland with Charlotte Johnston, Pat Davis, and Alla Loomis took ten hours.

Hal White, upset because Tri-Delt Sara Bjorset is going out with some one else (for the chaplain's office, call 773) . . . Paul Souers, not a little interested in Jean Graves . . . Has Dick Wilkins managed to find Ramona Abrams yet (the date with LaVonne Mobley just one of those sandwiched-in-between affairs no doubt) . . . Jean Foster and Reed Nelson, one-night standing in Salem last week . . . Gloria Stanard and Carl Miller, getting steady lately . . . Dottie Wightman, stepping up the tempo with Has Haight.

Is Leo Rubstello really a woman-hater, or is the going just too rough for him? . . . Miki Metcalf, wistfully denying rumors that she'll be married soon . . . Jean Simmons asking me to make nasty cracks about the Women's Page (is that so hard?) . . . Pat Ebert and mountainous Lou Robinson, all set to come to the Tondelayo dance as leopard man and woman (woof!) . . . Joan Rambo and Don Koberg, "that way" . . . Robin Ackley, sending Evelyn Dana a Xmas tree . . . Nancy Peters and Bill Cobb, oblivious . . . The off-again, on-again Dave Hayes-Barbara Blaesing combo, on again . . . Marie Lombard and Dale Brooder, in the thrilled stage. Comes the blue pencil, so we'll end it here. Lotsa' luck on the finals. Hope not too many of you will be among the missing in action.

YWCA to 'Baby-Sit' For Student Mothers

The community service group of the YWCA has announced its intentions of providing for the care of children of students of the University while their mothers attend classes next term.

According to Dorothy Rasmussen, chairman of the group, the service will be free of charge. Anyone interested in donating their time, or wishing to take advantage of the offer is to call the YWCA between 9 and 12 Tuesday, Wednesday, or Thursday of next week.
