

Pat Frizzell Visits Campus

Pat Frizzell, Emerald sports editor of a decade ago and now a major in the army, returned to the campus last weekend for a visit with University and Eugene friends, and to watch again a Hobson-coached basketball team in action.

Major Frizzell, who headed the Emerald sports staff in 1936-37, is at present on leave from Washington, D. C., where he is stationed in the research and development division of the war department general staff. He will return to Washington late this month.

Before his graduation from the University in 1940, Major Frizzell, besides working on the Emerald, was for a year and a half sports editor of the now-extinct Eugene Daily News, and served as a news writer on the Eugene Register-Guard from 1938 until his graduation in 1940.

From 1940 until he enlisted in the army air forces in January of 1942, Major Frizzell did sports reporting for the Portland Oregonian. In September of 1942 he received a second lieutenant's commission from (AAF) administrative officers' candidates school at Miami Beach, Florida.

Major Frizzell saw overseas duty from November, 1942, to April, 1946, serving in England, France, Germany, and other smaller European countries. While in England, he married a girl whom he met while stationed in London.

Major Frizzell, while in Eugene, visited many old friends, including George S. Turnbull, dean of the school of journalism, from whom he once took classes as an undergraduate student, Leonard Jermain and Paul Deutschmann, Emerald editors during years when Frizzell was at the University, Thomas Wright, junior in journalism, and Frank Evans, Emerald linotype operator.

Major Frizzell expects to be discharged soon, after which he will return to newspaper work.

Manpower Needs Told

Old Oregon advertising staff members will hear winter term plans for the publication at a meeting called for Thursday at 6:30 by Gloria Grenfell, business manager.

Present members of the Old Oregon advertising staff and students interested in advertising are asked to attend the meeting.

Student Art Requested

A page of student drawn cartoons will appear in this year's Oregana, according to Mark Dan Mindolovich, art editor of the Oregana.

Students wishing to submit material are asked to send cartoon roughs this week for editorial approval to Mindolovich. Those accepted will be done in ink.

Annual Photos Set Thursday

Photographs of 11 activity groups will be taken for the Oregana on the steps of Chapman hall starting at 3 p.m. Thursday, according to a schedule announced Tuesday by John Benneth, associate editor. The schedule is as follows:

- 12:00 noon—Order of the O.
- 3:05 — University Religious Council.
- 3:10—House librarians.
- 3:15—WAA cabinet.
- 3:20—Student Union committee.
- 3:25—Emerald editorial staff workers (including reporters, copy desk and night staff members).
- 3:30—Emerald business staff.
- 3:35—Oregana editorial staff (including writers, artists, and general workers).
- 3:45—Old Oregana staff (editorial and business).
- 3:50—Senior Six.

Open Rushing Resumes

Sorority rushing will be resumed on January 20, according to a statement issued Monday by Billy John, Panhellenic rushing chairman. All girls who are interested in rushing and who have not previously signed up for it should leave their names at the dean of women's office as soon as they receive their grades. Girls whose names are already on the list but who made grades lower than 2.00 average should withdraw their names from the list, Miss John said.

Music Pupils Plan January Recitals

Three recitals will be held in the music building auditorium this month. They will include voice, violin, organ, and woodwind soloists. The first group, made up of students, will be presented at 8 p.m. Thursday. Participants are Margaret Holm and Shirley Gay Williams, clarinet, Jeanette Grant, oboe, and Albert Marshall, flute.

Rex John Underwood and William Shisler, freshmen in music, will present several violin solos and a duet Tuesday evening, January 14. They will be accompanied by Aurora Potter Underwood, of the music school faculty.

The music school is also presenting Donald W. Allton, organist, and Herman Gelhausen, bass-baritone, in a faculty recital this month. Sylvia Killman will accompany Mr. Gelhausen.

The public is invited to attend these recitals. Admission is free.

Old Oregon magazine is the campus' only monthly publication and provides news and features for students, faculty, and alums.
