

Vets Forum

Education officials, leaders of vets' organizations, and representatives of government, industry and labor conferred Thursday in Washington in an attempt to agree upon legislation to be submitted to congress to increase subsistence allowances paid to veteran attending school under the G. I. Bill of Rights.

It is a foregone conclusion that the conference will recommend an increase in the subsistence allowance to our new 80th congress. The amount of the increase will be based on the results of a cost-of-living survey conducted by the American Council of Education at 132 schools of various kinds which covered some 270,000 GI students.

The cost-of-living of the council on education showed only the nationwide minimum monthly costs to veterans—and did not consider the many incidental costs to which all people are subjected—such as laundry and clothing.

The figures, which were obtained from a wide cross section of American schools of higher education, showed that the living costs for veteran students have risen 26 per cent in the past 15 months.

This average monthly costs for room and board are:

Unmarried students living on campus—$53.33; living off campus—$64.13; married students living on campus—$79.86; living off campus—$105.19; married student with one child living on campus—$99.68; living off campus—$130.77; and with more than one child, living on campus—$106.53; living off campus—$140.56.

It is expected that the conference will include a recommendation for a sliding scale of allowances for married vets with children. This recommendation will probably contain provisions for so much per child, over and above the basic allowance.

Of further interest is the fact that the survey showed only 34.05 per cent of the unmarried students surveyed were living on the campus and 18.83 per cent of the married.

All men who received below 1.5 grade fall term and consequently had low grade warning notice please consult the dean of men. They can do this at their own convenience but it must be done sometime this term.
