

Huskies Bump Ducks 60-58

OREGON Daily EMERALD

VOLUME XLVIII UNIVERSITY OF OREGON, EUGENE, TUESDAY, FEBRUARY 4, 1947 Number 75

A SURE FIRE WELCOME . . .

—EMERALD photo by Don Jones.

is promised all dads attending the campus festivities February 15 and 16. Chairmen heads guaranteeing a good time are, left to right, (front row): Marvin Rasmussen, basketball; Bob Matteson, housing; Dedo Misley, hospitality; Bob Wallace, general chairman; Ann Burgess, invitations; Barbara Borrevik, publicity; and Al Pietschman, publicity. Back row: Dale Harlan, promotion; Gloria Grenfell, registration; Pat Webber, awards, and Nat Adams, decorations.

The Old Man Deserves a Break; Webfoots Plan 'Vacation' for Dad

"Welcome Dads", to the Oregon campus! This greeting will be extended to all Oregon dads on the weekend of February 15 and 16 when the University will honor dads at programs, luncheons, meetings and open houses.

The weekend will be planned especially for dads, beginning with Saturday's registration at Johnson hall and at the Eugene and Osborn hotels, and ending with Sunday dinner at

Portland Speakers Top OFCL Meet

Mayor Earl Riley of Portland and Rev. John Delauney, dean of men at Portland university, have been scheduled to speak when the Oregon Federation of Collegiate Leaders convenes February 7 and 8 at Portland University.

The meeting of 20 schools of higher education in Oregon includes discussion groups dealing with inter-collegiate athletics, the student council's relations with the administration, student politics, student publications, campus clubs and honoraries, and the relation of the campus to the college community.

ASUO President Tom Kay has been asked to lead the discussion of the student council's relations with the administration.

Oregon delegates accompanying Kay to the meeting will include Dave Fortmiller, Harry Glickman, and Beverly Carroll.

living organizations. Dads are urged to register early to obtain their basketball tickets and to aid the houses in their contests for having the most dads participating.

Personal Vacation

This year's Dad's day has been planned as a personal vacation for all dads attending the campus. A luncheon for dads and their sons and daughters is planned for Saturday and tickets may be obtained through the office of Dean Karl W. Onthank, executive secretary to the Oregon Dads.

Highlighting the luncheon will be a talk by Dr. Paul C. Packer, chancellor of the Oregon state system of higher education, and the introduction of Jim Aiken, new University football coach, by President Harry K. Newburn.

Basketball

Saturday evening the Oregon vs. Idaho basketball game in McArthur court will highlight with pre-game and halftime entertain-

(Please turn to page two)

Sugar for Daddy

There's been a change in collegiate fad,
And the coeds prefer older men;
So come on down to the campus,
Dad,
And play the role of the 'pigger'
again.

—D. F. S.

Weekend Program To Include Drama

Entertainment during Dads' day weekend will be augmented by the production of John van Druten's Broadway stage success, "I Remember Mama" which will complete its run February 15.

University theater boxoffice will open Tuesday from 10 a.m. to 12 noon and 1 to 5 p.m. for season's ticket holders. The boxoffice will open Wednesday for the general public. Students who wish to bring visiting fathers to the production are urged to reserve seats in advance.

This warm, human story of a Norwegian family's heartaches and happiness is set in San Francisco during the early 1900's. It was adapted from Kathryn Forbes' book, "Mama's Bank Account," and will be directed by Horace W. Robinson, director of the University theater.

Webfoots Unable to Break Up UW Stall in Last Two Minutes

University of Washington squeezed out a 60-58 victory over Oregon's cagers in a Northern Division game last night in McArthur court before a crowd of 6,500 fans. The teams meet again tonight.

The Huskies held a 34-25 advantage at halftime, but Oregon came back in the final period to knot the score several times. With two and a half minutes remaining to play in the game, the Washington crew pulled an effective stall that the Ducks couldn't break up.

Ed Dick tossed in a two pointer for Oregon with 15 seconds remaining, but time ran out before the weary Webfoots could steal the ball from the equally weary Huskies.

Bobby Jorgenson was high scorer for the evening with 17 points. Other high point makers were Sammy White with 13 for Washington, Dick Wilkins with 13 for Oregon, and Ken Hays and Stan Williamson collected 12 apiece for the Webfoots.

The contest was a fast, race-horse affair from the starting gun. Both teams used the fast break, but their percentage of shots made good was low.

See story also on page 4.

Morse Deplores Pressure Politics

By BILL YATES

Grave concern over growing pressure groups in congress was sounded last Saturday morning by Oregon's junior senator, Wayne L. Morse, in a speech before faculty members and students of the law school in Fenton hall.

"No honest politician," the former dean of the University law school declared, "can serve you honestly if he tries to adjust his vote to pressure groups."

Greatest Threat

Calling pressure groups the greatest single threat to American self-government, Senator Morse urged that intelligent Americans correct this fault at the ballot box. The evil of lobbying and pressure groups, the senator said, is not in the men who lobby, but is to be found in the men sent to congress who lack what he called "intellectual honesty."

"Don't expect your congressmen to always vote as you want them to," Senator Morse said. "Instead," he asked, "know why he voted as he did on a measure and then evaluate his reasons."

Armed Service Stand

Senator Morse, who returned recently from Europe, said that he was not in favor of any legislation which would cut the expenditures for armed services. He expressed a belief that unless the armed forces of the United States are kept at the present strength in Europe chances for peace will be remote.

Senator Morse was introduced by Orlando Hollis, dean of the law school.

Dad's Day Schedule

Friday, Feb. 14, 8 p.m. — Oregon vs. Idaho in McArthur court.

Saturday, February 15, 8 a.m. to 5 p.m. — Registration at Johnson hall, Eugene hotel, and Osburn hotel.

Saturday noon — Luncheon at John Straub hall.

Saturday, 2:15 p.m. — Business meeting in the University theater.

Saturday, all day — Open house of all schools and departments.

Saturday, 7:30 p.m. — Oregon vs. Idaho and pre-game program including presentation of coaches, Dads' association president, and awards to organizations winning Dads' day contests.

Sunday morning, February 16 — Special services at Eugene churches.

Sunday afternoon — Open house at all student living organizations.

Student from Rome to Speak At Halftime Tonight for WSSF

Giovanna Ribet, Italian student from the University of Rome who will speak at the Washington-Oregon basketball game tonight, is a ground resistance during the war. She has recently resumed her long-interrupted medical studies.

Miss Ribet will also speak at various living organizations during the week to promote the World Student Service Fund drive, Beyrl Howard, chairman of the speakers' committee, has announced.

In Fascist Italy Miss Ribet was active in the anti-Fascist struggle, working with a group of students sending food parcels to political prisoners. After the collapse of Fascism and during the German occupation, she worked in the resistance as a member of the Anti-Fascist Student association, and for the Assistance Committee of the Committee of National Liberation, giving help to Italian political prisoners and to English and American ex-prisoners of war. She was also a member of the Winter Help committee to care for abandoned children.

Miss Ribet is active in International Student Service and in student relief in Italy. She attended the World Conferences of International Student Service in England, and of World Student Relief in Geneva during the past summer.

GIOVANNA RIBET