

Huskies Nip Ducks 60-58

By BERNIE HAMMERBECK
Sports Editor

The University of Oregon's stuttering Duck fell short again last night as the invading Washington Huskies stalled out a 60-58 win at McArthur court. It was the first win for the Huskies on their four-game swing through the Oregon country and firmly entrenched them in the third spot of the northern division race.

The Huskies led through a majority of the game after taking over the lead at the 8-7 mark when Forward Sammy White connected for a lay-in. From there the Huskies commenced to romp as Bill Vandenburg hit on another lay-in and Guard Bobby Jorgenson, high-point man for the evening with 17, connected with a pair to bring the score to 14-7 for the winners.

Northern Division Standings

	W.	L.	Pct.
Oregon State	7	1	.875
Washington State	7	3	.700
Washington	6	5	.545
Oregon	3	6	.333
Idaho	0	8	.000

The Huskies dominated the first half play, as early in the contest they split the Oregon zone defense and then continued their offense with equal success when the Ducks shifted to a man-to-man. They stretched their lead to 26-16 at the 14:50 mark and retired at the half on the long end of a 34-25 score.

It was a revitalized, scrapping Webfoot five that took the floor in the second half, as they rallied to knot the count four different times in eight minutes only to falter miserably in the final three minutes.

Ken Hays started the first Oregon rally as he canned three field tosses and Al Popick added one before the Huskies could hit for a second half field goal. Then the scoring leveled off until the 7:30 mark when the Ducks hit again with Dick Wilkins, Stan Williamson, and Popick dunking from far out to knot the count at 45-all.

The Washington quintet bounded back into the lead each time the Webfoots evened the count, however, with the score tied at the 48, 50, and 52 marks.

A long howitzer by Wilkins at the 17:00 mark brought the Ducks to within one point at 57-56, but there the Washington quintet steadied to stall out to victory.

The lemon and green Ducks had their final chance to tie the count with a minute to play as they twice took the ball out of bounds—on Washington fouls. Their final effort went awry as Popick's pass hit Hays in the face and the Huskies took over.

A one-hander by Jorgenson and a long set shot by Ed Dick brought the count to 60-58 as the game ended.

The Huskies' Jorgenson was high for the evening with 17, fol-

Geology Article Printed

"Steens Mountain," an article by Warren D. Smith, head of the geology and geography department, was recently published in the Annual of the Mazama Mountain, known to all Oregon geologists, is located in the southeastern corner of the state. Dr. Smith emphasized the controversy among geologists over the structure of the mountain, summed up their various views, and presented his own.

Night Staff:

- Jane Clark, night editor
- Mary Stadelman
- James Vitus
- Bep McCourry
- Bob Pearson
- Keith Baird
- Chloe Wright

lowed by White with 13. Wilkins topped the Webfoots with 13, followed by Hays and Williamson each with 12.

The summary, including shots attempted, follows:

Washington (60)
	Sa	Fg	Ft	Pf	Tp
Vandenburg, f	17	5	0	2	10
White, f	7	6	1	5	13
Shaefer, f	6	1	2	2	4
Nichols, c	13	3	3	3	9
Mallory, c	2	0	1	0	1
Taylor, g	10	1	0	1	2
Eathorne, g	7	2	0	0	4
Jorgenson, g	14	7	3	2	17
Totals	76	25	10	15	60
Oregon (58)
Wilkins, f	15	6	1	4	13
Seeborg, f	1	0	0	0	0
Hays, f	11	5	2	2	12
Dick, f	11	1	1	1	3
Bartelt, f	5	2	0	2	4
Wiley, c	6	1	0	0	2
Williamson, g	20	6	0	2	12
Popick, g	15	3	1	1	7
Berg, g	7	2	1	3	5
Totals	96	26	6	15	58

Free throws missed—Washington, White 2, Nichols 1, Jorgenson 1. Oregon, Wilkins 2, Hays 2, Dick 2, Wiley 1, Berg 2. Officials—Lee and Eustis.

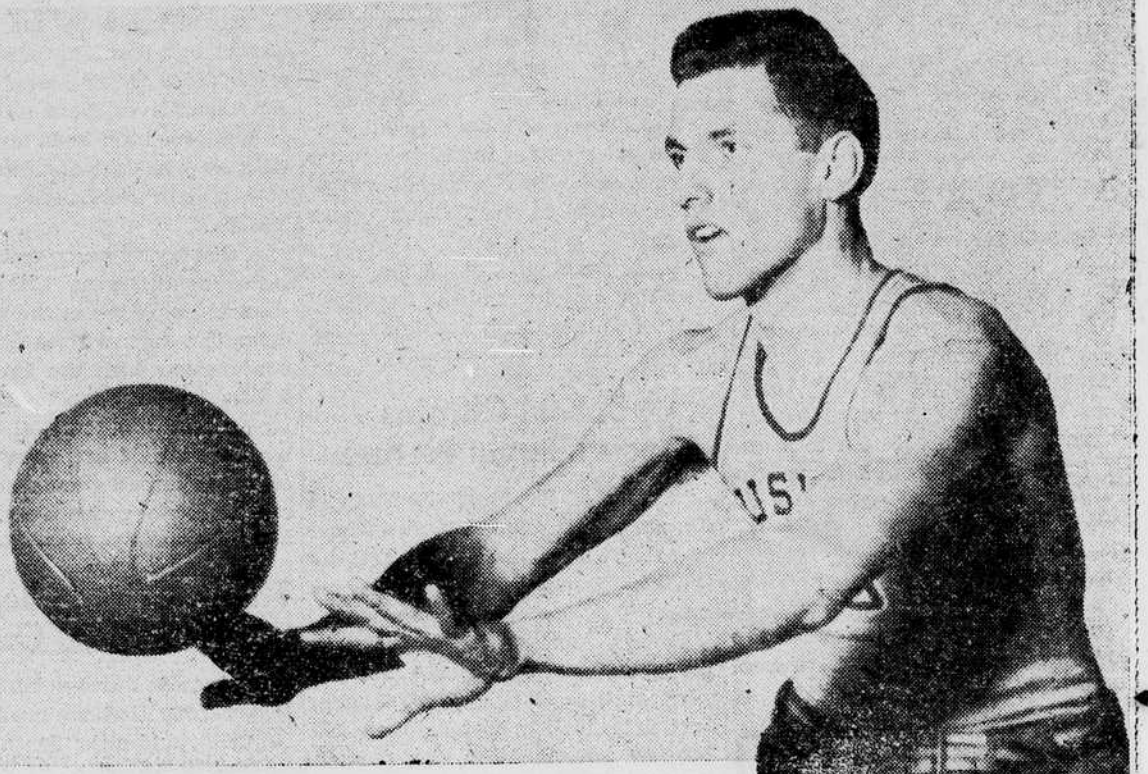

Broyles' Boys Bumped by Advisers

Wendell Broyles (shown at right in typical form) and his Husky Hotshots turned bottoms-up to the Hobson Advisers in a rugged hoop contest yesterday afternoon, the invaders being on the short end of a 40-36 score.

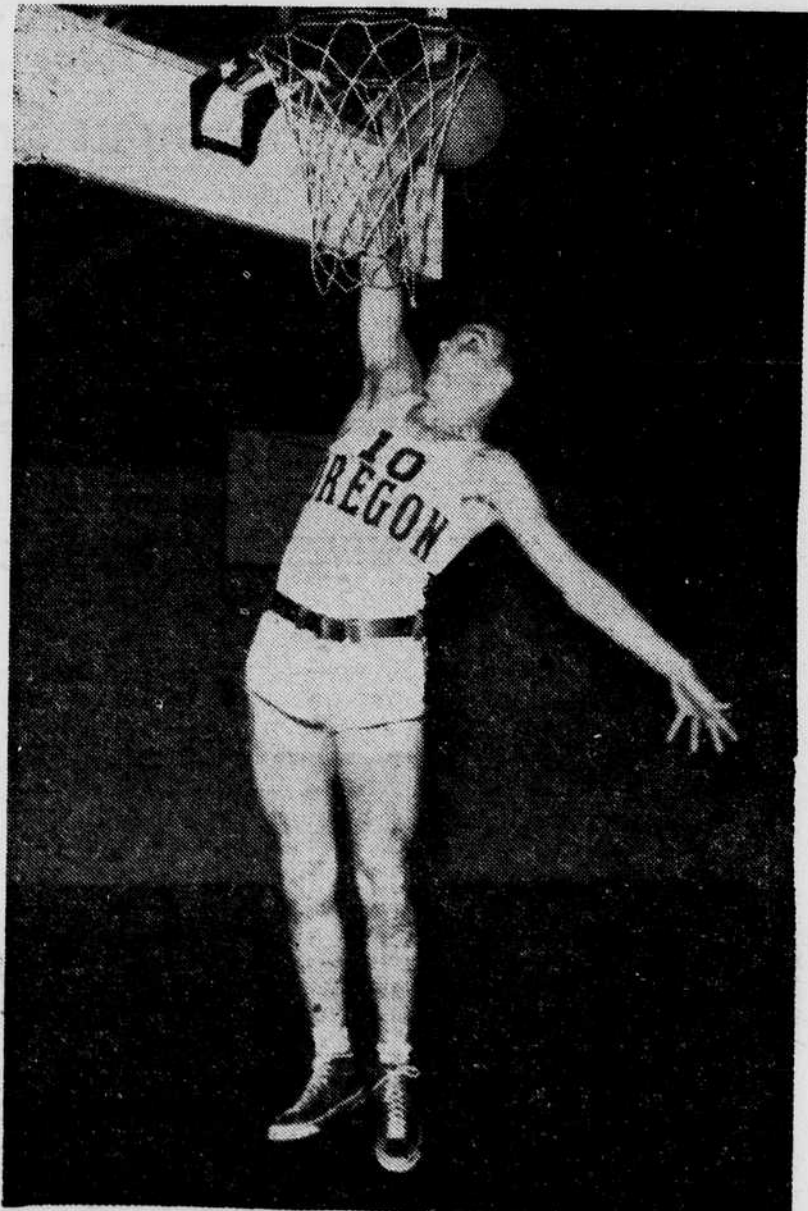

Backbone of the invading Washington club were Broyles, publicity director for the University of Washington; Phil Taylor of the Seattle Star; and Eddie Styer, also of Seattle.

Playing for the winning Hobson men were Art Litchman, University of Oregon publicity director; Laurie Champman of the Post-Intelligencer; and Bernie Hammerbeck, Emerald sports editor. Champman was loaned to the Adviser club by the Hotshots when Adviser starter Wally Hunter, assistant sports editor on the Emerald, refused to play when he discovered it involved a physical workout.

Jack Nichols . . . towering University of Washington center who tossed in a total of nine points as the Huskies outlasted Coach Howard Hobson's Webfoots at McArthur court. The six-foot, six-inch, 210-pounder who hails from Everett, Washington, battled it out with Oregon's Ken Hays under the backboards. He attempted 13 shots at the hoop, and connected with three field goals and a like number of free tosses.

Dick Wilkins . . . high-flying Webfoot forward who found his eye again last night. Wilkins led all Oregon scorers with a total of 13 points. He tied with Washington's Sammy White in taking over second place honors in scoring. Bob Jorgenson of the Huskies was high with 17 counters. Out of 15 field goal attempts Wilkins dropped 6 and managed to swish one free throw, for this 13-point total.

Aiken to Visit Alumni Groups

Newly-appointed Grid Coach Jim Aiken, Line Coach Dick Miller, and Les Anderson, secretary of the alumni association, are leaving shortly for a two-week tour of the state, during which they will contact alumni groups in Oregon.

With the purpose of bringing to the public's eye the athletic program of the University, the three will speak specifically on football prospects for next season. Coach Aiken will outline his general system of coaching, and tell what he expects to accomplish.

How fathers can assist in building up the teams of the school will be emphasized, in connection with approaching Dads' day.

PUPPIES

pleading for a master
Sparkling GOLDFISH
Beautiful CANARIES

LOVE BIRDS

for your selection at the

OREGON TRAIL PET CORRAL
35 W. 11th Phone 3284