Stassen, Taft Clash on Labor

WASHINGTON, Feb. 7.—(AP) Two leading Republican presidential possibilities for 1948 collided sharply today on labor legislation.

Harold E. Stassen went before the senate labor committee and proposed a secret majority vote of workers as the last step before a strike.

Committee Chairman Taft (R., O.) called Stassen's suggestion "trivial."

Stassen told Taft that "if you believe in the democracy of workers, you must have confidence" in a secret ballot.

Taft argued that in such a vote the workers "do not go against their leaders."

Marshall Reports Need For Military Training

WASHINGTON, Feb. 7.—(AP) In his first major policy declaration as secretary of state, Gen. George C. Marshall today called for universal military training to back up American foreign policy with real power.

He made clear that he intends to follow the foreign policy of former secretary James F. Byrnes, and hit these high points of great issues he faces in his own career:

Universal Training—Marshall said the United States will not have any real, positive military power to back up its foreign policy unless it has universal military training. He called the present system impractical and ineffective.

Disarmament—Marshall said it is difficult to see how "any real disarmament," or even any substantial reductions of armament can take place until peace treaty solutions acceptable to the great powers have been reached.

State Department—Marshall disclosed he had rejected the resignations of assistant secretaries Benton, Spruille Braden and Willard Thorp and those offered by all other top officials.

Pacific Islands—The United States sees no reason to postpone creating a United Nations trusteeship under American administration.

China—Marshall reaffirmed the policy he developed as President Truman's special envoy. He said the withdrawal of marines from China was automatic after it was decided to end mediation efforts.
