

Beavers Blast Out 71-57 Win

Oregon State's high-flying Beavers soundly trounced Coach Hobby Hobson's Oregon Webfoots again last Saturday night as they walked to 71-57 win over the Lemon and Green at the men's gymnasium in Corvallis.

And walk was just what it was, as the team in black and white (Hal Lee and Hal Eustis) came to life with a whistle-tooting exhibition that made even the classiest Beavers look like second-raters.

The win put the Beavers three-up on the Webfoots for the 1947 season with the Lemon and Green yet to score a victory. By winning the Saturday night affair the Aggie team registered its first series win since 1942 when it won three and the Webfoots one. Last year the series was split.

OSC Leads Early

The Orange lead was never in doubt as Guard Morrie Silver opened with a cinch shot, the Ducks tying the count, and the Beavers then going ahead to stay when Cliff Crandall hit with a long hay-pitcher from midcourt.

The first half continued at a fairly fast pace with the sputtering Ducks trying vainly to click. An occasional fast break shook Hobsonmen clear, but for the most part the Beavers slowed the game down considerably with Guard Lou Beck showing spurts of speed to add variety.

Several times the Ducks were on the verge of clicking but suddenly fell apart again, as the Beavers surged back with an attack of their own. Coach Hobson opened with his expected five of Ed Dick and Dick Wilkins, forwards; Ken Hays, center; and Stan Williamson and Reedy Berg as guards.

Before the contest was over the bench had been cleaned with a smooth-working five still unfound. High spot of the game for the losers was undoubtedly the work of Vertebrate Bob Wren, who entered the game in the second half and tallied eight points on three field goals and a pair of free tosses.

Key Hays High

High for the Ducks was Center Ken Hays with 14 points on four field goals and six free throws. Hays fouled out of the game in the final minutes of the whistle-tooting contest.

The Beavers took the floor at the start of the second half with a 39-28 lead and proceeded to romp, boosting the margin up over the 20-mark. It was at this stage of the game that the officials, Lee and Eustis, moved into the limelight.

Early in the first half they had called four quick ones on Beaver starter Alex Peterson, and had built up large figures behind the PF column of another half dozen on each team. Then OSC's Red Rocha left the game with a bad ankle and Doug Martin came in. The procession was really on.

There was little chance for offensive play as the striped-shirt pair found repeated occasions for tooting fouls in the back court. It was a continual parade from one foul line to the other as the minutes ticked off.

54 Fouls Called

By gun time Martin, Peterson, and Andy Anderson of the Beavers and Hays and Wilkins of the Ducks had all been waved to the bench via the five-foul rule. And with Rocha on the bench with a bad ankle, the tallest man on the floor for the Orangemen was 6-2 Cliff Crandall.

Fouls totaled 59 with 29 against OSC and 25 against Oregon. Lou Beck captured top scoring honors from his driving post at guard as he canned six field goals and a like number of free throws for an 18-point total.

4-in-5 Trips Out

SEATTLE, Feb. 10—(AP) The four-games-in-five-days trips of Washington basketball teams to Oregon and eastern Washington and Idaho are thnigs of the past, Athletic Manager Harvey Cassill said today. With basketball the tough game it is, such trips take too much out of the men, he explained.

Workouts Stepped Up For Webfoot Trackmen

Track and field men swarmed over the Hayward field oval yesterday in the first of a regular series of workouts. Colonel Bill Hayward, track coach issued the order Friday that workouts would be daily instead of thrice weekly and that all aspirants for positions would have to be on the track by 3 p. m. daily.

Besides the activity of the trackmen, the field was covered by student workers getting it ready for the coming track season. The track had been in poor shape and rollers and scapers were used, giving it a smoother surface.

Another crew readied the field, rolling the football scarred sod with a heavy iron roller and generally putting the turf back into good condition.

OSC Meet April 5

Oregon is starting the training program for tracksters early enough to enable returning service men to iron out kinks in their legs and to have all hands ready for the first run-for-show race against Oregon State on April 5.

Track experts and prognosticators point to Oregon as a team to watch for top honors this year, as the Ducks will have one of the

Warrenmen Easy Winners, 59 to 16

The Oregon paddle squad made it two in a row over the luckless Beaver swimmers Saturday afternoon at the Oregon pool, as they defeated their performance of three weeks ago, and pounded the Aggies 59-16.

The Ducks allowed their opponents only one first place in the entire meet. The diving contest saw a bad dive by otherwise steady Tom Corbett enable Beaver Ray Staub, a classy little diver, to annex top position by a scant four points, with Benny Holcomb of Oregon taking third.

Get Early Lead

Oregon lost no time in forging ahead as the Webfoots grabbed first place in the initial event, the medley relay, with the team composed of John Miller, backstroker; George Anderson, breaststroker; and George Moorhead, free-styler.

Both freestyle distance events, the 40 and 220, were a neck-and-neck duel between Webfoots Don Rush and Bob Hiatt. Rush hauled in the first place in the 220 with Hiatt pressing him all the way, and in the 440 the situation was reversed with Hiatt finishing strong to outlast Rush by several yards.

George Moorhead was the only double winner in the meet, copping both the 60 and 100-yard freestyles. Most opposition for the rangy sprinter was furnished in the shorter event, as Dick Hazard, outstanding frosh performer, matched him stroke for stroke for the first two lengths, but tired in the home stretch.

ters respectively, had little difficulty in fashioning out victory in their events. Don Kessler, Oregon's number three man in the back, outdistanced both OSC paddlers to take a second spot, and breaststroker George Lipp came up fast to grab runner-up in that race.

Midway in the program team manager Bill Abbey and Diver Benny Holcomb staged a comedy diving exhibition, that provided plenty of chuckles for the rafter-packed house.

The Oregon freestyle medley squad composed of Pug Mayer, Bill Ferris, Alden Sudlie, and Paul Thompson wound up the one-sided meet in rousing fashion, winning by a comfortable margin.

Summary:
300-yard medley relay—Won by Oregon (Miller, Anderson and Moorhead). Time 3:26.4.
220-yard freestyle—Won by Rush (O); second, Hiatt (O); third, Church (OSC). Time :32.
