

Oregana Reported Ahead of Schedule

Two-thirds of the 1947 Oregana are now at Irwin Hodson company in Portland being lithographed, Editor Roy Paul Nelson stated Wednesday. "Due to the splendid cooperation of the editorial staff, the book is way ahead of schedule, and as far as the staff is concerned, that part of the Oregana now in Portland is finished," he added.

The living organization section is one of those completed. "Prospects for those people who have not had their pictures taken look mighty dim," Associate Editor John Beneth declared.

This year's Oregana will have 440 pages plus three full color double-page spreads of campus scenes. Activities will start with spring term of 1946 and will continue until the end of this winter term.

A few more copies of the book are still available and those desiring to purchase them may do so at the educational activities office in McArthur court.

Business Manager Robbieburr Courtney asks that all campus honoraries which have bought space in the Oregana pay for it as soon as possible.

In 1901, the appropriation for the Eugene summer school for teachers was $400.

Sororities Pledge Six

Additions to the sorority pledge list released by the dean of women's office include the following six names: Joanne Peterson and Pat Williams, Alpha Gamma Delta; Marguerite Fox, Alpha Omicron Pi; Betty Jones and Dorothy Orr, Alpha Xi Delta; and Nancy Smith, Zeta Tau Alpha.

The University music school as founded in 1866.

As the rush period is not completed, but will continue throughout the remainder of the term, this is not a final list. Sororities may entertain girls for any type of date, inviting the rushee by telephone. A girl on the rush list may be pledged by a house after a minimum of three dates.
