

YMCA Secretary To Speak Monday

Choosing as his topic, "The Veteran and the New American Campus," Edward Carroll, national student secretary of the YMCA, will speak at the YWCA bungalow Monday at 8:15 p. m.

Carroll will be presented jointly by the YMCA, YWCA and the One World club. A veteran himself, Carroll's work with the YM concerns veterans, and he is acquainted with problems which may confront veterans. He is travelling throughout Oregon next week.

Following his speech, an informal discussion period will be held. Students and faculty members are invited to attend.

Arrangements for his stay in Eugene have been made by the YMCA, and he will be their dinner guest Monday. Tuesday noon Carroll will lunch with the YWCA cabinet.

Red Cross Requests Slogans for Campaign

All campus living organizations are requested to submit a slogan for the University Red Cross drive next month, according to Barbara Johns, co-chairman of the drive.

Slogans must be turned in to either Diane Meade, at the Gamma Phi Beta house, or Harriet Vannatta, at the Kappa Kappa Gamma house, not later than 5 p.m. next Tuesday.

A record album will be awarded to the living organization which submits the winning slogan.

Conference Sidelights

Coos Bay Harbor; Douglas Mullarky, Burns; W. Glen Chandler, John Day; Henry N. Fowler, Bend Bulletin; Alan Torbet, Coos Bay Times; Earle Richardson, Dallas Itemizer-Observer; Joe C. Brown and Mary Conn Brown, Redmond Spokesman; Earle E. Voorhies, Grants Pass Courier; Senator Merle Chessman, Astorian-Budget; Don Dill, reporter, Salem Statesman; Robert E. Pollock, St. Helens Sentinel-Mist.

Students of the school of journalism attended the conference sessions Friday to the extent that they were able to find seats in old 105 journalism.

Robert K. Allen, advertising agency proprietor from Seattle, and his wife ("Dusty" Farnham) flew down from Seattle to attend the conference. Both are school of journalism graduates. Bob is a son of the late Dean Eric W. Allen.

Walter and Roy N. Vernstrom, Oregon alumni, were down from Portland. Both are Portland advertising men. Walter's wife (Marge Finnegan) also is an Oregon grad.

Nat L. Pieper, public relations man from San Francisco, who has been coming to conferences for more than ten years, dating from the time when he was an FBI man, was shaking hands among the publishers. In those earlier days Nat used to be mistaken for an upper-class student.

In 1901, the appropriation for the Eugene summer school for teachers was $400.
