Paul Robeson Explains Why He Left Stage Negro Singer Hopes To Advance Liberalism

By MARGUERITE WRIGHT

Paul Robeson, word-famous American Negro singer, actor, and athlete, yesterday told a group of Hendricks hall women why he had chosen to abandon his career on the concert stage to devote his time to the cause of liberalism and democracy.

Robeson stopped briefly on the campus to visit a young friend, Trudy Chernis, sophomore in journalism, and found himself surrounded by students as he chatted in the Hendricks livingroom. He was persuaded to sing several Negro spirituals, including "Old Man River," and a Russian folksong, to a rapt audience of coeds and housemothers. The only payment he exacted was their attention to a short talk.

"This is a good illustration of what I shall be doing when I've finished my concert tour," he explained. The tall massive Negro said he was working with the National Negro congress and the Progressive Citizens of America, of which Henry Wallace is a member.

America's Responsibility

"I am doing this because I feel that America faces a very important time in its history," he said, "I feel that we have the capacity to shape the world; in one direction we can go backward (to a world half slave, half free) or we can help the forces which will free the world."

America has the ability and background to create a true de-

Quota Club Offers Tuition Scholarship

Quota club international will award a tuition scholarship of $37.50 to a sophomore student for spring term on the basis of scholarship, personality, and need. Application blanks may be obtained at the dean of women's office and must be turned in by March 7, the deadline set by Dr. Marion Hayes, chairman of the Quota Club committee.

The winner will be selected on the basis of the written application, personal interviews, and counsel of the dean of women. Students who rank high in scholarship, who are in need of financial assistance, and who show professional promise are eligible to apply, according to information on the application blank.

Winners of this sophomore spring term scholarship in 1945 were Shirley Louise Multhaupt, Niron Odile King, Barbara Radmore, and Lois Roeder.

Beavers to Present Assembly To Usher in Final Oregon Game

Oregon State will present their traditional exchange assembly at 7:30 tonight in McArthur court. Planning the program are Tom Moyer, OSC student body president, and Chuck Dunham, OSC rally chairman. ASUO President Tom Kay will preside.

Yell King Tom Hazzard emphasized that the assembly is to be strictly entertainment. University of Oregon basketball lettermen seniors playing their last game Saturday night, including George Bray, Ken Hays, Roy Seeborg, and Bob Wren, will be honored. Coach Hobby Hobson is to speak and present the basketball team, which will play OSC Saturday night.

Half-Grassed Campus Grows Up—No Mowers

Oregon students will soon be holding their picnics right on the campus, if the height of the grass is any indication of a picnic area.

The campus lawn mowers were burned beyond repair in the warehouse fire two weeks ago, and the physical plant has been unable to secure any to cut the flourishing grass these spring-like days.

According to C. K. Weidner, superintendent of the physical plant, two power driven triples—the largest the University owns—and one small power mower, as well as two hand mowers, were destroyed. They will be replaced as soon as possible, but in the meanwhile, the grass is becoming knee deep, and it is rumored that the shepherders of eastern Oregon have been scouting the campus for potential pasture.

Master of ceremonies for the assembly is Kurt Cutsforth. Both the OSC and Oregon rally squad are to appear.

The assembly is a follow-up on the Oregon assembly at OSC yesterday. Master of ceremonies at the exchange at OSC was Bob Moran. A quartet, consisting of the exchange at OSC was Bobwards, and Norm Henwood, sang "For Sentimental Reasons," "Swing Low, Sweet Chariot," and "Sweet Sue." They also gave their interpretation of what a radio program should be, bringing in Walter Winchell and the man on the street. June Johnson sang two classical songs.

Nominee Introduction Program Slated For Women's Pre-Election Meet Today

The nomination slate of candidates for offices in the Associated Women Students, Young Women's Christian association, and the Women's Athletic association will be introduced in a pre-voting assembly from 12:30 to 1 p. m. today in the Gerlinger gym.

Voting is scheduled from 1 to 5 p. m. in the hall outside the dean of women's office with members of Mortar Board, Phi Theta Upsilon, and Kwama assisting in the balloting.

All University women are urged to remember to take their ASUO cards, YWCA, and WAA membership cards with them when they attend the AWS-YWCA-WAA elections this afternoon. While all women are members of AWS, their ASUO cards must be punched before they can vote for their officers.

Only members of the YWCA and WAA may vote for officers in those organizations.

Candidates' Names Withheld

Until the candidates are announced and introduced at the assembly, only the nominating committees of the three organizations will know who the candidates are.

AWS officers to be elected will succeed Bea King, president; Dorothy Davis, vice-president; Barbara Johns, secretary; Ann Burgess, treasurer; Trudi Chernis, reporter; and Prudy McCroskey, sergeant-at-arms.

Reorganization Planned

New AWS officers will put to work the reorganization plans provided by this year's cabinet, with the aid and advice of Mrs. Golda Wickham, dean of women.

"There is a great need on this campus for women's activities, even more so with men resuming their old jobs. It is absolutely necessary that all women get behind the AWS,

Robert Daggett, Barbara Fullmer To Organize Spring Term Function

Following the precedent set by the sophomore class in the handling of its own class functions, the junior class officers yesterday announced that they would take over the reigns of their own Junior Weekend.

Bob Daggett, president of the junior class, announced that he and Barbara Fullmer, secretary of the class, would work together as co-chairmen of the event, scheduled May 9, 10, and 11, and that Jeanne Simmonds, vice-president, and Joyce Neidermeyer, class treasurer, would also take active parts in the Junior weekend arrangements.

Sophomore First

This decision was announced after officers of the class of '49 chairmanned their Sophomore Whiskerino, and will precede the freshman plan of the class officers taking charge of the Frosh Glee.

Daggett, junior in business administration, and member of Druids, and Miss Fullmer, junior in psychology and Phi Theta Upsilon president, are calling for petitions for committee heads and workers, it was announced yesterday.

Positions open include: promotion, prom, all-campus sing, terrace dance, all-campus clean-up, luncheon, sunlight serenade, finance, traditions, publicity, and coronation.

Petitions Due

Students are encouraged to petition for the chairmanships and places on the committees, and although only junior class members may serve as committee heads, students from all classes may work on the committees. All petitions must be submitted to Daggett, at the Sigma Chi house, or Barbara Fullmer, at the Alpha Omicron Pi house by 6 p. m. Monday.

Musicians to Give Woodwind Recital

A music school recital composed of woodwind solo numbers will be given tonight at 8 p. m. in the music school auditorium. Clarinet and bassoon numbers will form the major part of the program.

The recital is free to the public, and is under the direction of John Stehn, associate professor of music.

Program

Musette and Scherzo (Leclair) Margaret Holm, clarinet; Wilma Jeanne Wilson, piano.

First Movement, Sonata (Hindemith) Jean Hudspeth, bassoon; Ailene Wendt, piano.

Staccato March (Maganini) John Stehn, clarinet; Jean Hudspeth, bassoon.

Sarabande and Allegro (Haendel-Waln) George Warner, clarinet; Thad Elvigion, piano.

Concertino (Guilhaud) Gladys Stone, clarinet; Louise Robson, piano.

Piece Lyrique (Mawet) Shirley Gay Williams, clarinet; Lucretia Prentiss, piano.

SDX Meeting Today

Sigma Delta Chi, journalism fraternity, will hold a meeting in room 104 of the journalism building at 4 p. m. today for the nomination of officers.

UO Miss Vogue To Show Today

A silver tea and college fashion show will be presented this afternoon for all University students, students' wives, high school seniors, and faculty wives, by Theta chapter Theta Sigma Phi, women's national professional journalism fraternity. The show, which will feature the naming of Miss Vogue, is scheduled from 4 to 5:30 in alumni hall, Gerlinger.

Fashion commentator will be Jane Ellsworth, junior in journalism, who will introduce each model and observe fashion points about each outfit. The coeds, chosen by their houses to appear in the show, picked their own costumes, and the fashions will range from pedal pushers to formals, Marilyn Sage, president of the group and chairman of the show, promised.

Miss Vogue, who will not be notified of her honor until the show this afternoon, was picked from 15 finalists. She was chosen as a representative of Oregon's well-dressed, well-groomed, poised coed, and will
