

Pianist Brailowsky to Appear In European Concert Recitals

By LAURA OLSON
Staff Writer, The Emerald

Arriving in Eugene early Tuesday morning, Alexander Brailowsky was accompanied only by his wife. He had left his dogs at his home in Dobbs Ferry, New York, since it was rather difficult to travel with them when the mode of transportation is the train.

Brailowsky said that he plays compositions of both classical and modern composers; that he has no one favorite, but usually plays what and how his instinct tells him. "I can practice for months in my own home," the pianist continued, "but it is only when I have played the number before two or three audiences that I can give it that last little sparkle."

European Tour Set

April 9, Brailowsky sails for Europe, which will be the first time he has been there since the beginning of World War II. He is scheduled to appear in Paris, Brussels and other European cities.

Although he is now in Seattle, Brailowsky left Eugene with one thought in mind: that of returning some time in the future, finding a place to stay in the mountains nearby and absorbing "the wonderful weather of the Willamette valley."

The Tuesday afternoon luncheon given for Brailowsky by G. E. Gaylord, director of the Eugene Civic Music Association, turned out to be reunion time. Theodore Kratt, dean of the school of music and the Brailowskys have many mutual friends in the United States and Europe which necessitated a trading of information. Also attending the luncheon were Ann Connell, of the Register-Guard, and Earl Pallett, assistant to the president of the University.

Government Policy Symposium Topic

"What Should be the Policy of the Government Toward Management and Government?" will be the topic of the symposium program presented at Oregon City high school Friday morning. Team members include Tom Powell, freshman in law; Walter Mead, sophomore in liberal arts; and Warren Miller, junior in journalism.

A program will also be presented at the Junction City grange Friday night, with the topic, "Do the Public Needs of Oregon Require a New Method of Taxation?" Speaking on this team will be Dedo Misy, junior in business; Carrell Bradley, junior in law; and Winston Carl, junior in law.

Forensic Group Slated For Thursday, KOAC

The weekly program of the forensic section of the speech department will be presented Thursday at 8:15 p.m. over KOAC. The topic will be "Shall the Ball-Taft-Smith Bill Be Enacted into Law?"

Speakers will be Ralph Teters, sophomore in journalism; Barbara Bozorth, sophomore in business; and Beverly Carroll, senior in general social science. The group is under the direction of R. D. Clark, associate professor of speech and drama.

BA Students to Hear Oregon Businessmen

Victor P. Morris, dean of the school of business administration, has announced that the school is sponsoring a student business conference on April 15, 16, and 17. Business men throughout Oregon, representing various types of businesses, have been invited to the conference.

Each of the men will discuss problems, qualifications, and such elements involved in his field of work. This conference gives the student a chance to deal directly with the field in which he is interested, Dean Morris said.

Initial 1947 Issue Of 'Shacrat' Out

The first 1947 issue of the Shacrat, tri-annual publication of the school of journalism, made its debut yesterday. The mimeographed 8-page magazine contains news of the school of journalism, the Emerald, and of former Shacrats, and is distributed to journalism students and alumni.

Those working on this issue of the Shacrat were: Bert Moore, editor; Dagmar Shanks, business manager; Dan Mindolovich, art editor; Jim Banks and Doug Seymour, news editors; Mary Ann Miller, assistant business manager; Leonard Bergstrom and M. W. Wright, contributors.

Five hundred copies of the magazine were published, according to Bert Moore, editor.

Completing the hour will be an interview produced by John Tasnady, and 15 minutes of popular music produced by Lee Petrsek.

OSC Art Groups View Campus Museum, Art

A group of 30 students and faculty members from Oregon State college visited the University campus Wednesday afternoon on a field trip, primarily to view the Feininger art exhibit in the little art gallery of the art school, and the Oriental art museum.

According to Miss Maude Kerns, associate professor of art, several groups from OSC have visited the art school during the year as part of their art work in Corvallis.

Miss Wasson, instructor in house planning and fashions, accompanied the Oregon State group.
