

Extension Benefits Stressed for Vets

Students can earn as many as 60 hours to be applied toward a degree through the auspices of the general extension division, Miss Mozelle Hair, head of correspondence study, announced.

Miss Hair stressed the benefits to GIs who are unable to take full benefit of the GI bill in regards to education at the present time. Through a contract with the veterans' administration, veterans may register under the GI bill, receive full benefits for tuition and other educational expenses, and only lose one fourth of the schooling time to which they are entitled.

Dean Announces Reference Booklet

Dean George S. Turnbull of the journalism school announced that a five-page mimeographed booklet listing primary reference works for newspaper offices was being distributed this week to Oregon newspapers.

The booklet, "The Editor's Workshelf" was compiled by William M. Tugman, managing editor of the Eugene Register-Guard, and issued by the Eric W. Allen Memorial Fund of the University's school of journalism. Copies of the work were also presented to delegates attending the Oregon Press Conference here last week.

ferred, in the fields of architecture, astronomy, aviation, engineering, geography, geology, history, home economics, journalism, library, mathematics, languages, physics, political science, psychology, secretarial science, and sociology.

This work may be done during the summer or started at any time of the year as this office operates continuously. The general extension division is a separate branch under the directorship of the Oregon state board of higher education. This office, located on the second floor of the general extension and radio studio building, is the only correspondence department of higher education sponsored by the state.

About 260 ex-GIs have registered during the past year.

Urban League Offers Social Fellowships

The National Urban league for social service among Negroes is offering two fellowships for study in social work and economics for the school year of 1947-48. The fellowships are available to Negro graduates of accredited colleges whose majors are in social sciences.

The two fellowships are: the Ella Sachs Plotz award for $1200, including remitted tuition from the New York School of Social Work, Columbia University, and an $1100 award from the University of Pittsburgh for graduates in sociology and economics.

Applications must be made by March 15 to the National Urban League, 1133 Broadway, New York City.

KORE to Present Talk, Original Play

"Ballad for Tolerance," an original radio play by Shirley Peters, junior in journalism, will be presented over radio station KORE at 10:30 a.m. Thursday, as an introduction to the talk on racial discrimination to be given by Edwin Berry, executive secretary of the Portland Urban league, March 3 at the YWCA bungalow.

Berry's talk will concern the bill soon to be introduced to the Oregon legislature equalizing the economic status of Negroes to that of the white race, and making it a misdemeanor to deny employment to any person because of the race or color.

Members of the cast of the radio play, which will be produced and directed by Eloise Rockwell, are Paul Ryman, Theo Feikert, Don Stewart, David Waite, and Helen Nelson.

Mrs. G. H. Good of Eugene is in charge of the meeting.
