

Oregon 'Dames' Schedule Business Meets, Parties

By SHIRLEY MACK

"Campus marriages make members."

So goes the membership motto of the University of Oregon Dames, an organization of University students' wives. With such a simple qualification for membership into this chapter of the national organization, the chances for increasing its size are very favorable. The current number of wives attending the semi-monthly meetings totals around forty, with the peak attendance at sixty.

Sharing similar housing difficulties and humorous accounts of domestic perplexities, the young wives have many common interests. The alternate business meetings and social gatherings afford them ample opportunity to meet and make new acquaintances or compare observations on food prices, linen shortages, etc. Husbands are often included in the social meetings, such as the box social scheduled for April 4.

The club regularly meets the second and fourth Tuesday of each month at 8 p. m. in the YMCA building on the campus. One of their pet plans for the future is to locate a new room for use as a permanent meeting place.

Haugen Heads List

Heading the list of officers for the coming six-month term is Betty Haugen, who was elected as president in a recent election. The other officers are Betty Jane Hatheway, vice president; Marjorie McClintic, secretary; and Billie Pederson, treasurer.

Sponsors of the club are Mrs. H. K. Newburn, Mrs. V. D. Earl, Mrs. R. V. Mills, Mrs. O. J. Hollis and Mrs. Alice B. Macduff.

The club has taken part in a variety of activities since they organized in the spring of 1945, including pot luck dinners, picnics, dances, holiday festivities and skating and swimming parties. During their membership drives they have held teas at Gerlinger or in a sponsor's home.

Community Work

Many of their undertakings have been beneficial to the community, such as helping to install a sewing room at the campus YMCA and a nursery at the Central Presbyterian church. The latter is a cooperative day service for the children of veterans attending the University. A number of the "Dames" have volunteered for Girl Scout work.

In line with the club's entertainment program falls the necessity of keeping the treasury well-supplied. This is done by various means, such as sponsoring skating parties and rummage sales or serving at luncheons.

Their future plans include sponsoring a junior weekend float; giving a membership tea; locating a permanent home; and carrying out various money-raising activities. This spring's social calendar includes four business meetings, a box social, and parties on Easter (April 8), and May Day (May 13).

Campus Clothes Vogue for Mixer

Admission price for either individuals or couples is 60 cents. The dance is the first of a series to be held this term in the gym and sponsored by the various honoraries on the campus. One of the prime purposes of the dance is to provide entertainment for students living off campus.

Reserve Quota Lags in Eugene

Eugene is behind in its quota for the naval reserve, according to Victor C. Hayes, who is recruiting men in the physical education building until the end of this week. The original national quota is one million men, of which 600,000 had been signed up till April 1.

Any men without previous service, between the ages of 17 and 40, who can pass the physical examination, are eligible. Men from any branch of the service can enlist in the pay grade in which they were when discharged.

Included in the advantages are the training courses available for self-improvement, advancement while on active duty and naval cruises offered in the summer.

Members may be discharged at any time they desire. The only obligation in that members send notice of change of address to the commanding officer of the 13th naval district in Seattle.

If the men take part in any of the training, payment from $2.50 to $10 a night, according to rank, is offered.

Positions Open At Crater Lake

C. W. Fyock, president of the Crater Lake national park company, will be at the student employment office in the YMCA building April 11 from 1 to 5 p.m. to interview applicants for summer employment.

Mrs. Lucille Parsons, manager of the campus USES, urges that students interested in this or other summer employment complete their registration as soon as possible so that congestion and confusion may be avoided when employers are interviewing applicants.

Information recently received by the student employment office indicates that Yosemite park and Curry company jobs will be available only to students living in those areas.

Only students who are residents of California will be considered for positions with the Sequoia and Kings Canyon national parks.
