

Pastures' Ducat Sale Underway

By AL ENGLISH

Playgoers are keenly anticipating the University Theater's spring term spectacle, "The Green Pastures," first postwar McArthur court production and successor to the 1942 junior weekend extravaganza, "Of Thee I Sing." Advance notices had already brought in a sprinkling of reservations and cash receipts before Thursday's public announcement that mail orders would now be accepted.

Holders of University theater season tickets find themselves in a fortunate position—they may exchange their stubs for any seats in the house. Postcard notices to this effect were mailed out Thursday.

Mail Orders First

Mail orders from season ticket holders will be filled during the next few days before other sales are made. Other mail orders will then be honored in the order they are received.

Reserved seats are selling at $1.80 and $2.40, with balcony front rows and center section of the main floor commanding top prices. A general admission price of $1.20 will be charged for bleacher and side balcony seats. High school and University students will be admitted for 60 cents.

Specify Section

All mail orders should specify balcony or main floor seats and be

Chemical Society Meet Scheduled in May

May 2 and 3 are the dates for the annual regional meeting of the American Chemical Society, according to Dr. P. Van Rysselberghe of the chemistry department, who with nine other faculty members and graduate students is planning to attend. The University of Idaho at Moscow will be host to the meeting on Friday, May 2, but on Saturday the group will move to Washington State College at Pullman.

This is the second annual meeting since regional meetings were organized, Dr. Van Rysselberghe pointed out. It will be attended by representatives from the Oregon,

Puget Sound, and Washington-Idaho border sections, as well as interested chemists from British Columbia.

The student discipline committee is fair and reasonable but firm and not inclined to be moved by smooth lines or sad tales.
