

Guidance Clinic Theme for Sixth BA Conference

Schedule Varied; All Students Invited

A tentative program for the sixth annual student business conference to be held on the campus next Tuesday, Wednesday, and Thursday, was released yesterday by R. D. Millican, publicity chairman for the event.

Fields to be covered in the three-day conference include public accounting, real estate, foreign trade and shipping, traffic and transportation, advertising, office management, banking, retailing, wholesaling, production management, and personnel management.

Guidance Clinic

The conference will be held in the form of a "guidance clinic" to assist business students in their fields. Approximately 25 business men from various parts of the state will be on the campus for the conference.

The conference will be held every afternoon of the three days, from 2 until 3:15 p.m. and 3:30 to 4:45 p.m. Phi Chi Theta, business honorary, will serve coffee in the break between conferences.

The first 20 minutes of each conference will consist of a talk by the business men, who will give an explanation of his particular field of work, listing qualification, opportunities, advantages, and disadvantages. The conference will be then thrown open for discussion between the students and the business representatives.

Tuesday Schedule

The schedule for Tuesday, April 15, will be as follows: from 2 until 3:15 p.m., public accounting conference. (Please turn to page three)

Pertinent Fooch Pipes Protests

Dr. E. C. A. Lesch, professor of English, was passing out an examination to his Wednesday morning Shakespeare class. As he got about half-way down the aisle, he was interrupted by the sudden yelp from a dog which had been languishing silently near the rear of the room.

"What's the matter with him?" Dr. Lesch quickly shot back, "He hasn't even seen the exam yet!"

Saturday Last Opportunity To Inspect Army Exhibit

Saturday is the last day that the military equipment will be on display in the front hall of the ROTC building, in connection with the celebration of army week which is being held over the nation this week.

According to the department, the weapons on exhibit include the newest ones that have been manufactured. Comment was also made on the new equipment that has been arriving recently at the University ROTC department for class instruction.

Small Arms

Included in the "small arms" group of guns that are used by all of the ground forces are: a 45 cal. pistol, the Rocket Launcher (sometimes known as the "bazooka"), a 43 cal. submarine gun (which is the newest of its type out), a 30 cal. carbine, a Browning automatic rifle, and the new 30 cal. rifle, which is now being used by the military students in their drilling.

Several machine guns are on display, too, and among these are: the 50 cal. machine gun which is now used by every unit of the services, a 30 cal. machine gun that is water-cooled, a 30 cal. machine gun with tripods that is air-cooled, and a 30 cal. model with bipods that can be fired from the soldier's hip.

Mortars Shown

Two mortars are in the group, one a 60 mm. and the other a 81 mm. The radio equipment includes the

Theme For Frosh Glee Chosen by Fete Heads

"Dancing in the Dark" has been chosen the theme for the annual Frosh Glee dance scheduled for McArthur court April 26. The song-theme was announced by the Glee committee, headed by Art Johnson, freshman class president yesterday after consideration of appropriate themes. Elaborate plans are now underway by the first-year men to tie in special lighting and decoration effects for the dance.

The novel theme was chosen because it allows wide use of imagination by the dance planners and dancing couples, according to Wes Nicholson, chairman of the decoration committee. Special ideas along a "Hollywood" motif are under consideration in order to transform the large court into a fantasy of color.

Entertainment before the dance is planned by Grace Hoffman, head of the entertainment committee. The best of freshman talent will be presented to the school at the shindig.

Tickets and programs are scheduled for printing as soon as a band is contracted for the Saturday night event. Replies are expected from Southern California agencies notifying the committee of the possibility of a large nationally known band playing here. The definite selection will be announced shortly.

Freshmen interested in working with the glee committee and who have not been contacted yet because of the telephone tieups are requested to inform the heads of the committees that they want to work.

Caricatures, Widmer Highlight "Foul Ball"

Caricatures of the baseball team and Coach Hobson will highlight the decorations for the first annual Foul Ball to be held in Gerlinger tomorrow night from 9 to 12 p.m.

Herb Widmer and his orchestra will play for the informal dance, which will celebrate the opening of the baseball season. Admission prices have been set for 60 cents a couple and 50 cents for stags. Entertainment is being planned by the Webfooters, under the direction of Sam Gillette.

Pi Mu Epsilon Meets

Versatile Actor Plays Moses

By JANICE KENT

With the University theater presentation of "Green Pastures" at McArthur court, April 19, Alan Foster will portray Moses as his third major role of the year. Foster played Wu Hu Git in the recent production, "The Yellow Jacket" and the witch boy in "Dark of the Moon."

The role of Moses in the coming play Foster believes to be an outstanding study of character and its development. Moses is first seen in "Green Pastures" as a middle-aged, kindly, sympathetic man.

He lives in seclusion in the hills of Midean county, having been driven out of Egypt by the Pharaoh for killing an Egyptian in defense of a countryman. God appears to the shepherd Moses and convinces him

Outstanding Education School Planned by Newly Elected Dean

By WARREN COLLIER

Dr. Paul Jacobson, dean elect of the school of education, still busy getting settled and acquainted, emphasized yesterday that he intends to build a nationally known school of education here in the Northwest.

Dr. Jacobson's wife and 15-year-old daughter will arrive here July 1, the date he will start his administration. At present the family is in Davenport, Iowa, where he has been superintendent of schools since 1944.

Prior to that time he did other administrative work, taught at Syracuse university, and at Columbia university. From 1936 to 1944 he

Artists to Present Combined Recital

A joint piano-clarinete recital combining faculty and student talent will be presented Tuesday night at 8 p.m. in the music school auditorium. Francis Bittner, associate professor of piano; John H. Stehn, associate professor of music and clarinetist, Mrs. Maude Stehn, pianist, and Margaret Holm, sophomore student clarinetist, will perform.

Bittner, a newcomer to the University music school faculty this year, will solo in a series of three numbers which he arranged for the left hand alone. Previous to his years of service in the army air corps, Bittner taught at Marin school, a private school in San Anselmo, California. He obtained his B.M. degree at the Cincinnati conservatory and his M.A. degree at New York university.

Mr. and Mrs. Stehn will play Weber's "Duo Op. 48" and will also play, with Miss Holm, Mozart's "Trio in E Flat." Bittner will solo on Beethoven's "Rondo in G. Major, Op. 51, No. 1," and two Bach numbers, chorale-prelude, "Fervent Is My Longing," and "Chromatic Fantasy."

was with the school of education at the University of Chicago, holding the principalship of its University high school.

Famous Oregon rain didn't surprise or impede Dr. Jacobson, but the telephone strike and the housing shortage provided a momentary problem. He luckily got quarters with E. G. Daniel, professor of business administration, and said he was delighted to find "a splendid house that just fits our needs."

"The campus is beautiful," he commented. "The students look like those at the University of Chicago, though fewer in number. I think my daughter will go wild over beautiful Oregon."
