

Beauty on the Spot

By MILDRED V. STOOKEY

"Your Beauty on the Spot article is due at the Emerald office by Monday noon." That announcement meant 300 words on any subject. "Beauty" was really on the spot.

What had I been thinking about all these years that would interest the majority of the readers of the Emerald? Perhaps it has been a good thing to be presented with this problem of what to write. It has resulted in a regular house cleaning in the file department of my mind.

With a jolt I found the file cabinet cluttered with thoughts that could readily be discarded. Some of the folders were refilled pending further pertinent data. The more important jackets had been sadly neglected and were, like Mother Hubbard's cupboard, quite bare. The most dog-eared folder was the one on education. It had plenty of use during my two years in the navy.

I realized more than ever during that time what education meant to me. As in civilian life, bigger jobs were available for those who were better equipped for them. Many times the fact was driven home to me that I could have done a better service to my country had my educational background been broader. This fact filled me with the determination never to be caught short again.

The opportunity to fulfill my educational desires came when congress passed the G. I. Bill, the benefits of which included ex-service women. After my discharge from the navy, I lost no time in making application to attend college.

Since I am so eager for this delayed education, I have been too impatient. I must realize that education is a slow process. Through constant application and continued keen interest I will leave this university not only with a degree but a richer, better-equipped personality.

(Photo by Don Jones) MILDRED STOOKEY ...

Next week's Beauty on the Spot will be Joan Sears, junior in Romance languages. Her 300 word article will be due in the journalism building Monday noon.

Jobs Needed for Students Resort Offers Work

Mrs. Lucille G. Parsons of the campus branch of the Oregon state employment office said Monday that she hopes that prospective employers will send postal cards to her office or call in person because of the current telephone strike.

There are many students listed for lawn jobs and other part-time jobs.

Job Hunting Talks Terminate Confab

"Getting in Touch With a Job" will be the subject of the concluding session of the sixth annual student business conference to be held this afternoon at 3:30 at the YMCA recreation room. Dean Victor P. Morris of the business administration school will give a talk and lead the discussion.

From 2 to 3:15 p.m. the following two conferences will be held: wholesaling and sales management conference, led by Paul Lafferty and Son, Eugene, will take place in 105

Commerce, with N. H. Comish presiding; and banking conference, led by Victor P. Morris as the faculty representative. These conferences, which will terminate the three-day conference, are open to all students.

Twin Sweater Deal
Cable Knit

Buy One — Receive the second for $1.00
Blue, Beige, Green

This week and next

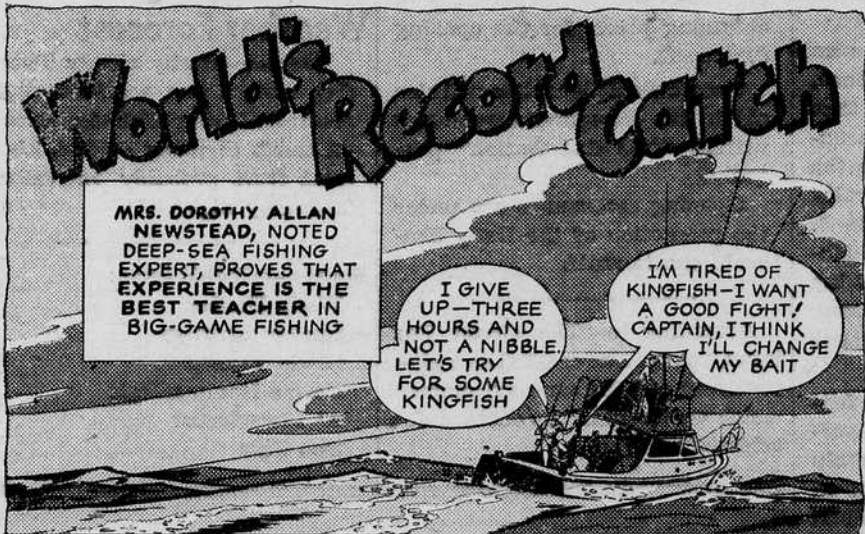

April 19

"The GREEN PASTURES"

Get your ticket now at Box Office. A cast of 100 and featuring Eugene High School's A Cappella Choir in McArthur Court. Mail orders accepted at University Theatre. Enclose stamped self-addressed envelope.

Center balcony and center main floor	$2.40
Side balcony and side main floor	1.80
General admission	1.20
STUDENTS	.60

HOGAN'S GROCERY and COOK'S MARKET
544 E. 13th Phone 2066

R. J. Reynolds Tobacco Company, Winston-Salem, North Carolina

YOUR "T-ZONE" WILL TELL YOU...

T for Taste...
T for Throat...

that's your proving ground for any cigarette. See if Camels don't suit your "T-Zone" to a "T"

MORE PEOPLE ARE SMOKING

Camels

THAN EVER BEFORE

Holder of the International Women's All-Tackle Record for Cobia