

Coed Groups Complete Weekend Preparations

Campus women's organizations have just completed preparations for the one and only "rush weekend" of the term. The weekend starts this afternoon and ends on Sunday.

Houses have cooperated in confining rushing to one weekend by planning a series of entertaining events, designed to give the high school seniors a "preview" of college life. The high school seniors will arrive this afternoon and tomorrow morning, and students with cars available during this time are asked to be on hand at train and bus depots.

Houses to Meet Girls

The women's organizations are responsible for meeting the high school girls as they arrive, and taking them to Gerlinger hall to check in. The Nickel Hop, Friday evening, is an all campus affair which is being reinstated for the first time this year, as part of post-war activities.

NICKEL HOP ROLLS

Starting the festivities of the AWS Weekend, the Nickel Hop will be held from 9 to 12 tonight. The price is five cents for fifteen minutes of dancing. The dance will be held at every living organization except Kappa Kappa Gamma. Refreshments will be served at each woman's house at 10:30 p.m.

All men attending the dance are asked to visit as many houses as possible in the course of the evening. Two records albums will be awarded to men's organization whose individual members have participated most in the dance, and to the Women's house which has collected the most money. The albums have been donated by the Jaquith Music company.

The campus tours on Saturday morning will be an opportunity for the visiting seniors to see all of the departments in which they may have interest.

WAA Plans Program

The museum will be open for the guests from 1:30 to 4:30 on Saturday afternoon. The Women's Athletic association has planned a special program for Saturday afternoon, consisting of a water pageant given by the Amphibians, and a dance concert by Orchestis.

Features on the entertainment program of the Saturday afternoon tea are a fashion show given by University freshmen, and a brief program "emceed" by Bob Moran.

"Green Pastures" Scheduled

The living organizations will take the girls to see "Green Pastures" Saturday night—the first all campus production in McArthur court given since "Of Thee We Sing." The campus YWCA has planned a short program and fireside immediately following it.

A rally send off Sunday afternoon concludes the first attempt at a rush weekend of this sort ever planned by Oregon women. The AWS cabinet, headed by Barbara Johns, is acting in a body, as general chairmen for the weekend.

Victims of Spring Occupy Infirmary

If you don't want to end up in the infirmary, don't go wading ahead of the season—at least not in a drain pipe. Annie Bennett, Hendricks hall, learned this the hard way and is now in the local health resort nursing an infected left foot.

The mumps are holding James White in bed for the second week, while in a nearby ward Virginia Davis and LaVerne Spears are suffering from poison oak.

Veteran Opens Post Exchange

Similar to a proposed student union feature is the "snack bar and general store" introduced on campus last week by Thomas L. Burbee, navy veteran and sophomore architecture student.

Location of the enterprise is the northwest lounge of the second veterans' dormitory, which opened last February.

It's something for the boys in both dormitories, according to Burbee. Immediately dubbed "px" (military post exchange) and "ship store" by veterans, the business will promote the pursuit of "snack happiness" with a stock of cookies, potato chips, canned fruit juices, milk, soft drinks, and ice cream.

All cabinet work and installation was done by Burbee during spring vacation. Store fixtures, which were constructed of knotty pine to harmonize with the lounge walls, including shelving, counter, glass-case, and panels which enclose the entire 12 square feet of floor space Burbee is president of Nestor hall, one of five independent men's living groups in the second veterans' dormitory. He attended the University in 1940-41 and returned last fall.
