

(Cut courtesy Register-Guard)

MRS. THACHER . . .

Mrs. Thacher to Offer Piano Recital Tonight

Appearing before a Eugene audience for the first time in more than two years, Jane Thacher, professor of piano, will present a varied recital program at 8:15 tonight in the music auditorium.

Mrs. Thacher's power of playing and well-rounded tonal quality have always made her concerts a source of pleasure. The program, consisting of three sonatas, affords the pianist an opportunity for artistic interpretation.

Johannes Brahms' romantic "Sonata in F-minor" will open the program. The sonata consists of three movements: the allegro maestoso, conceived as a romantic ballad; the andante espressivo, a lyric nocturne; and the concluding scherzo.

Mrs. Thacher's second presentation will be Chopin's "Sonata in B-flat minor," based on a legendary Polish epic. As her concluding number, the pianist will play "Sonata in F-sharp," by Alexander Scriabin.

The public is invited to the concert.

Houses to Submit Mother Name List

Living organizations where students' mothers will need housing for Junior Weekend and Mothers Weekend May 9, 10, and 11, are asked to submit lists of mothers' names to Beryl Howard, housing chairman, this week.

Miss Howard urged all women's living organizations to accommodate as many of the mothers of the girls in the house as possible, and names of those whom they cannot care for are to be turned in to Miss Howard at the dean of women's office from 8:30 to 10 a.m. Wednesday and Friday, and from 2 to 4 p.m. Tuesday and Thursday.

All names of mothers of University men planning to attend are also to be submitted to Miss Howard at those times so housing can be worked out for them.

SU Heads Meet To Plan Campaign

The vice-presidents of each living organization, who will head their houses in the Student Union campaign, will meet for dinner at the Anchorage cafe tonight at 5:30.

The purpose of the dinner is to acquaint the chairmen with the details of the coming drive and to clarify the aims of the houses. Walter Darling, campaign director of the entire drive, will speak to the group, and the members of the SU committee on the campus will give a synopsis of the drive.

The campaign, which will open officially April 24 in McArthur court, will be on a contest basis, each living organization working to raise the most funds. On May 10 during the Junior Prom, the winners of the drive will be announced and a floor model radio-phonograph console is to be awarded to both the men's and women's living organizations hitting the highest mark.

Miss A. Thompson Injured Sunday

In an attempt to avoid an oncoming car while crossing the street to the Anchorage cafe Sunday afternoon, Miss Anna M. Thompson, assistant professor of Romance languages, stepped back and fell on her side, causing her to be taken to Sacred Heart hospital.

"Although she is in quite a bit of pain, it is believed that no bones are broken," said Dr. R. P. Bowen, head of the Romance language department. Further X-rays are being taken, he added.

A veteran teacher of 26 years at the University, Miss Thompson returned this term to teach after a year's absence from the campus.

Two University Professors Die Over Weekend

W. R. B. Willcox, professor emeritus architecture, and Dr. Thomas M. Joyce, head of the University medical school department of surgery, died over the weekend.

Willcox, 77, associated with the University since 1922, died at his home in Eugene early Saturday morning. Dr. Joyce, 62, a nationally known surgeon, succumbed in Portland Friday while he was waiting for a class to convene at the Multnomah county hospital.

Recognized nationally for his skill in surgery, Dr. Joyce was also well known for his skill in teaching others.

Willcox was born in Burlington, Vt., August 2, 1869, and received his academic training at Kalamazoo college, Mich., and the University of Pennsylvania, Philadelphia.

After a year of travel and study in Europe, Willcox established his practice in Seattle in 1908 and was in active practice there until he came to the University in 1922.

In 1943 he was retired to emeritus status.

He was a member of the Seattle and the Eugene planning commissions and a member of the American Institute of Architects.

Marriage Series Continues Tonight

"A Protestant View of Marriage" will be discussed tonight in room 3 Fenton hall by Rev. Wesley G. Nicholson, pastor of the Congregational church, in the fourth lecture of the current "Youth and Marriage" series.

The speech, to begin at 7:15 p.m., is sponsored by the general extension division and the E. C. Brown trust. An open discussion period will follow the talk.

Six other prominent Eugeneans and University professors are scheduled to participate in the series which ends June 3. Lectures will be held each Tuesday evening at the same time and place.

Dean of Men to Air GI Pay Regulations

Changed policies affecting subsistence payments to all GI students of the University will be explained at a meeting in McArthur court at 4 p.m. today, George Hall, acting dean of men, announced yesterday.

New regulations covering leave during the summer months or student continuation in summer school will be discussed. Without the veteran's specific application for leave or continuation, his regular checks from the government automatically will be suspended with the end of the school year in June.

Other announcements of general interest to veterans will be made at the meeting, and an official from the veterans administration will answer any questions concerning national service life insurance.

The dean of men's office and the University veterans' office will sponsor jointly the meeting

Kildeer Commands ATO's Left Field

"Watch out! That isn't second base you're stepping on."

Just mosey down to the lower intramural softball field any afternoon and you'll hear the vilest language a Kildeer can command.

A cute Kildeer solved the housing shortage by building its nest in short left field, and is guarding that patch of ground like a dimaggio.

The ATOs tried to play a practice game, and she chased the left fielder out of her domain. The umpire tried to chase her off the field for unladylike conduct and abusive language but she just cussed him out in no uncertain terms and then plopped back down on her nest.

The last reports state that she's still there telling every one off. What would Happy Chandler do in a case like this?

Spring Exam Sked Released

See Schedule Page 3)

The schedule of spring term final examinations, which has been approved by the various department heads of the University, was released by the registrar's office yesterday.

The general plan of this term's slate has been to follow that of winter term. The schedule of the tests has been reversed in order to equalize the advantages or disadvantages enjoyed or suffered by students under the arrangement of the previous term.

The plan has been modified by the need for immediate listing of grades for prospective June graduates following examinations. The exam in Survey of English Lit is placed at the end of the week because few seniors are enrolled in the course.

The exam programs for winter and spring terms, following unsatisfactory innovations attempted in the fall, mark a return to the previous scheme for a special schedule of finals distributed over an entire week.

Weekend Tradition Enforcement Assured by Strong-arm Crew

(This is the first of a series of articles explaining the Junior Weekend traditions.)

By BARBARA GILBERT and DIANA DYE

Enforcement of tradition brings to the minds of the average college student a string of arguments, pro and con, but nevertheless with the coming of spring and the plans for Junior Weekend, thoughts of traditions pop into heads all over the campus.

Al Popick and his committee on traditions are planning to enforce all of the customs which have grown through the years at Oregon.

Order of the O will punish those who violate during the week before Junior Weekend, the unwritten laws by smoking on the old campus, failing to say hello on Hello Walk between Fenton and Villard halls, walking on the grass of either campus, sitting on the senior bench, walking on the Oregon seal, and, for freshman girls, failing to wear green ribbons.

ART JOHNSON . . .

Frosh Dance Nears Reality

Arrangements for the Frosh Glee, annual all-campus dance, sponsored in the spring by each freshman class, are nearing a climax, according to Art Johnson, president of the class of 1950 and general chairman of the event. The Glee should offer some first class entertainment, Johnson stated, as the fine band of Freddie Keller, an enchanting theme, and some fine entertainment will be provided.

Tickets went on sale yesterday at $1.60 a couple and may be secured from any of the members of Jim Bocchi's committee which is handling ticket sales. Members of the committee are Charles Johnston, Dionne Doree, William Davis, Joan Nichols, Marie Newman, William Green, Sally Waller, Don Londer, Mary Stadelman, Robert Harkins, Marguerite Johns, Jim Howard, Diana Bayly, Jeurine Boylen, and Wallace Turnidge.

Under the leadership of Wes Nicholson, Mac Epley, and Marilyn Turner, decorations following the "Dancing in the Dark" theme are nearing completion.

Special traditions will be enforced during the all-campus picnic and the violators will be dunked during the picnic.

No white of any sort is to be worn to the picnic and women and men are not to speak until after the coronation.

Student violators are not to give their names to anyone other than members of the Order of the O who are wearing lettermen's sweaters as the committee does not wish to have any unfair punishment given.

Freshman men will paint the O on Skinner's Butte and will scrub the Oregon seal in front of Villard hall. The traditional tug of war between the freshman and sophomore men will take place during the weekend.

Traditions were a dominant part of Junior Weekend before the war, Popick said, and in the near future when things are completely back to normal, they will play as big a part as they ever did. The committee asks that all living organizations cooperate and see that the Oregon customs are not violated.