

No Check Delay for University Vets

Eagle Flies on Schedule; Vets Aid Bill to Up Pay

Subsistence Payments Not Stopped in Oregon

Student veterans in Oregon will receive their subsistence checks on schedule this month, according to an Associated Press story from Portland received here last night.

The story followed an earlier release from Washington, D.C., which stated that the Veterans Administration would be unable to send out monthly checks due today to more than 2,870,000 veterans receiving unemployment or educational allowances.

The later story, which quoted Charles Langdon, veterans administration manager in Portland, said that the checks in the Oregon area would be sent on schedule. Some checks, it said, were already in the mail.

The story from Washington said that the Veterans Administration had announced that funds which congress appropriated for making the payments had been exhausted.

"The delay," the story added, "is expected to be of short duration since additional funds for the purpose are carried in the deficiency appropriation bill currently before congress and should be available within a few days."

'Co-op Capers' Dance Theme

"Co-op Capers" is the theme of the annual semi-formal Co-op dance, which will be given Saturday, May 3rd, from 9 to 12 in Gerlinger, to the music of Herb Widmer and his campus dance band.

This year, alums of the men's co-ops are being invited. Jim Robson, social chairman of Campbell club, says "it is hoped that the 'Co-op Capers' may become the annual spring dance of the Co-op houses—a traditional social get-together of members, friends interested in the development of the Co-op movement, and alums."

On the dance committees, each co-op has provided one member for each committee. Jim Robson is general chairman; the following are committee heads: Ken Whitlock, Campbell club, decorations; Zabelle Dohanian, Highland house, refreshments; Margaret McKinrick, Rebec house, programs; George Schafer, Campbell club, clean-up, and Lee Lewis, University house, chaperones.

Bob Fowells, president of Campbell club, worked on alum contacts, assisted by Lloyd Stutsman, Don McNeil, and Si Ellingson.

Twisties Tonight's Featured Dessert

"Twisties" go on sale today under the direction of freshmen Helen Sherman and Carol Becker, sponsored by Phi Theta Upsilon, junior women's honorary. Booths will open at 8 a.m. honoring the twisties doughnuts for five cents each.

Goal of the committee has been set at two twisties to every student on the campus, with the proceeds going to Phi Theta for a scholarship fund.

Wednesday night is to be "Twistie" night on the campus with all living organizations urged to serve twisties for dinner dessert. The sale will continue through booths until 5 p.m. Thursday.

AVC Campaign Spurs Vet Allowance Boost

In accordance with the national planning committee's platform supporting additional increase in subsistence for GI students, the local chapter of AVC began a campaign Monday to support a bill now in congress which, if passed, will raise the veterans' subsistence allowance.

Jack Compton, legislative chairman for AVC, has asked for the cooperation of all students on the campus who are interested in aiding the drive.

Leaders of the AVC feel that the problem is particularly critical at this time because of the recent announcement of rises in dormitory rates, to become effective at the end of this term.

According to Mrs. Genevieve Turnipseed, director of dormitories, increases in board and room have been made by the state board for the following reasons.

1. The cost of raw food per student has increased to seven dollars, and in order to procure the proper food, rates must be increased $4 per person.

2. All state employees are being placed on civil service with increased incomes.

3. The new retirement fund for those over 65 which requires the employee and state to contribute five per cent.

With these added operating expenses, she explained, it is impossible for the University to keep rates at spring term costs. Expenses for the summer session will be $144 for both sessions.

Fall term board, to be computed on a monthly basis, will be $40, and room, to be computed on a

Music Festival Attracts Talent

Winners of the all-campus sing contest will give a special request performance during the Sunlight Serenade scheduled for May 11, according to Dale Harlan, chairman of the event. The annual Sunday afternoon feature of the Junior Weekend will feature the best talent from the music school and outstanding musicians from the various living organizations.

Plans are still in the blueprint stage at present but call for refreshments during the windup program of Junior Weekend. Punch and cookies will be served to all those attending the event.

Besides the special Sunlight Serenade committee headed by Harlan, three music honoraries are helping to make the event an outstanding success. Phi Beta, Mu Phi Epsilon and Phi Mu are all collaborating their

Mother's Week-end to Relive Old Traditions

By BETH BASLER

Exactly 20 years ago a small group of mothers gathered for Mothers' Day on the University campus, encouraged by Arnold Bennett Hall, then president of the University. Their purpose was to see just exactly what was going on in the school, the work their children were doing, where and how they lived, and how they spent their leisure time.

They had such a good time, and

Students to Show Mothers Festive Oregon Weekend

SETTING THE EXAMPLE

Beverly Carroll, Mothers' Weekend chairman, sends today's special mother's edition home to Mom. Students are mailing the papers home today from the Co-op, as a special invitation to mothers to attend the weekend May 9, 10, and 11.

Hello, Mom, Welcome to Oregon THE COMMITTEE THE ADVISER

This year we are especially looking forward to meeting you Mothers whose sons are now back in school. This is your first big opportunity of the year to view the place we now call "home," to meet the people, and to see the many places we know so well.

We've planned everything of interest for you, and extend to you the hospitality of the whole University. You may have to put forth a bit of effort, but please don't miss this weekend.

This is the 20th Mothers' Day at the University. There could be Mothers here this year who helped to welcome Mothers to the campus those first Mothers' Days in 1927 and 1928. During these years Oregon Mothers have done much for the University. The Oregon Mothers scholarships and their emergency loan fund, which have been their chief interests in recent years, have helped many a fine student to come to the University, or to stay,

Planned Events Jam Calendar

Approximately 1,000 mothers of University students are expected to visit the campus during Mothers' day festivities, held in conjunction with Junior Weekend, May 9, 10, 11, according to Beverly Carroll, chairman of Mothers' Weekend.

Highlighting the events held for Mother is the tea to be held in Gerlinger hall from 2 to 4:30 p.m. Saturday. The float parade will continue past Gerlinger to enable the mothers to see it without the necessity of going to Thirteenth street following the tea. Serving at the tea will be members of the AWS and the YWCA.

Other events exclusive for Mom include the Mothers' executive board meeting on Friday at 2:30 p.m., and the business meeting for all Oregon mothers Saturday morning at 9:30 in the Guild theater. In addition to these events, Mothers will have a chance to see the highlights of Junior Weekend.

Registration will be held in Johnson hall from 11 a.m. to 12 noon and from 2:30 to 5 p.m. Friday. Since the picnic has been scheduled for 12 noon Friday, mothers wishing to participate should be in Eugene before Friday noon.

All students, especially men, are urged to ask their mothers down for the festivities. Housing is provided for all who wish it, according to Beryl Howard, in charge of housing. Either the students or their mothers may contact Miss Howard.

Students assisting Miss Carroll are: David Dimm, promotion; Laura Olson, publicity; Nancy Peterson, registration; Ann Burgess, hospitality; Beryl Howard, housing; Don Dole, decorations and campus preparations; and Nila Desinger, social affairs. Dean Karl W. Onthank is faculty adviser.

'Cotton Frolic' Set On Saturday Night

The "Cotton Frolic," a dance for the benefit of the PNCC delegates, will be presented Saturday night in the Persian room and the east dining room of the Eugene hotel. Formals or sport clothes are in order.

The Eugene junior chamber of commerce, in a statewide drive to raise money to send the two Pacific Northwest College congress delegates to Lake Success, New York, will sponsor the dance and an intermission fashion show, Ray Foster, chairman of the dance and vice-president of the junior chamber, announced. The Junior Weekend court will model cottons for the fashion presentation.

Bob Hays and his six-piece orchestra will play at the event, and Bob Moran, junior in liberal arts, will be master of ceremonies. Kwamas will sell tickets in the Co-op this week.
