

Weekend Princesses to Model Dresses at PNCC Benefit Dance

The smartest thing in spring styles has been chosen for the Junior Weekend court to model at the style show at the "Cotton Frolic" Saturday night, according to Ray Foster of the Eugene junior chamber of commerce, chairman of the dance.

The girls, Nina Sue Fernimen, Sallie Timmons, Jean Baringer, Pat Davis, and Janis Peterson, met yesterday to pick out their garments.

Included in the show will be a cotton evening formal, an afternoon formal, cotton afternoon dresses, and a bathing suit of the latest style.

Advising the modeling is Mrs. Wilson of Sears, who has had previous experience in putting on such shows.

Benefit For Delegates

The dance, a benefit for PNCC delegates, will be held in the Persian room and east dining room of the Eugene hotel from 9 to 12 p.m. Saturday, with the entertainment commencing at 10:30. Bob Hays and his six-piece orchestra will furnish music for the event.

Bob Moran, well-known on the campus as a master of ceremonies, will conduct the intermission entertainment.

Joan Williams, Kwama president, announced that the sophomore women's honorary would handle ticket sales through the remainder of the week in the Co-op. Walt McKinney, freshman in journalism, is handling campus promotion.

Geologists Plan Trip

A field trip to the coast for all geology students has been scheduled for May 3 and 4 by Dr. Warren D. Smith and Dr. L. W. Staples of the geology department.

This trip will be a study of all features of the Coos Bay area and the coast with special emphasis on paleontology and the stratigraphy of fossils.
