

GI Pay Campaign Gets UO Support

This week's postcard campaign soliciting congressional support of legislation to raise GI educational subsistence pay netted response from over 20 per cent of University of Oregon veterans, Jack Compton, chairman of the drive, revealed Wednesday.

At the conclusion of the three-day campaign more than 600 voluntary postcard appeals had been mailed to representatives in Washington by members of the student committee backing H. R. 870, a bill introduced by Congresswoman Edith Nourse Rogers (R., Mass.), chairman of the house veterans affairs committee.

The campus drive was sponsored by the University chapter of the American Veterans committee, assisted by non-affiliated veterans of World War II.

The unusual timeliness of the appeal was pointed up by news reports of the introduction in the senate of a new measure, also designed to boost subsistence allotments.

Morris, Nelson to Leave For St. Louis Meetings

Dean Victor P. Morris of the school of business administration, and Lyle Nelson, director of information, will leave the campus next week for St. Louis, where they will represent the University at annual meetings of organizations in their respective fields.

Dean Morris will attend sessions of the Collegiate Schools of Business and University Schools of Business, and Nelson will attend the meeting of the American College Public Relations association.

The departure of Dean Morris is scheduled for May 12, and Nelson will leave on the following day.

"This college has turned out some great men," wrote the freshman to his parents after he had received his midterm grades.

Retreat Scheduled For Wesleyans

May 16, 17, and 18 is the weekend set for the annual Wesley Foundation retreat at Bar View, Methodist camp near Seaside, Bob Yost, retreat chairman, announced yesterday.

Reverend Owen Beadles, pastor of Centenary-Wilbur Methodist church in Portland, will be guest speaker.

First event on the program will be the Friday night bonfire and weenie roast on the beach.

Saturday morning discussion groups will plan Wesleyan activities for the coming year. Swimming in the lake or ocean, riding, hiking or just sunning will highlight the afternoon.

Communion service will be held Sunday morning, followed by breakfast and outdoor worship in Lake-side chapel.

Students planning to attend are asked to register by Sunday, May 9. The group is limited to 100.

Cost for the weekend, including meals, lodging and transportation is $5.
