Weary Ducks Bumped Again by Huskies, 3-2

By ASSOCIATED PRESS

The University of Washington moved into first-place tie with the Washington State Cougars in the Northern Division baseball scramble Tuesday at Seattle by making a first-inning three-run cluster good for a 3 to 2 victory over the University of Oregon. Although outhit eight to six, Washington's Huskies bunched their blows to better effect while Al Goot was keeping the Oregon bingles scattered. Goot stumbled in the fifth inning when he walked the first man, and dealt up a hit to Catcher Bill Burgher. The two men were moved up on a sacrifice hit and Walt Kirsch's single, which got by Left Fielder Jelley Anderson, chased home both Oregon tallies.

The Washington Counters had come on doubles by Bill Gissberg and Sammy White, capped by Boody Gilbertson's triple. Shortstop Al Cohen's muff of a short ground ball hit by Anderson sent Gilbertson home with what proved to be the winning tally.

Harry Walker, who started on the hill for Oregon and was charged with the loss, bowed out for a pinch hitter in the sixth and Washington could not buy a hit from his successor, Hal Saltzman. The score:

Trackmen Want Final Win for "Colonel Bill"

By AL PIETSCHMAN

With one win and two losses to their credit, Colnoel Bill Hayward's track and field men prepared yesterday for their last home stand . the big test with Oregon State Saturady on Hayward field.

The Beavers will journey to Eugene for the annual meet beween the two rival schools this year. After an impressive preseason start, the Orange team has slid downhill, but Coach Grant Swan will be out to again to defeat Hayward's crew.

Colonel Bill hasn't won from the psky Staters since 1943 and is planning plenty of trouble for Swan. point. The two coaches are friendly enemies, and both respect the other's losses in conference meets last year. ability to produce top track men He remembers the pasting the and unexpectedly to come up with Ducks have taken for two years in a winning team.

Both Coaches Sang Blues

Last year both Hayward and Swan bemoaned the fact that they didn't have good teams. Swan was talking with his tongue in his cheek; Hayward stating the truth. In the Duck-Bevo clash the Beavers romped home victors on the strength of showing of their shot putters and discus tossers.

Rated slight favorites in the northern division meet, the Swancoached cinder team eked out a victory and brought the track and field crown home to Corvallis.

Hayward surprised everyone. His underrated team, defeated in all conference dual meets, pulled the Colonel Bill remembers those the Oregon-OSC relays. This year the Webfoots faltered when they were doped to win.

In a special meeting of all the trackmen Monday afternoon Hayward stressed that the Staters could be beaten. He admitted that they were strong and that the meet would be close, but claimed that if every man turned in his best performance Oregon

The message took hold. Yesterday the cindermen were running without any words from Hayward. They hit the track early and remained late.

Still Tries Javelin

Sprinters were pack in their fold.

Jake Leicht ripped fof a couple of speedy dashes. Dave Henthorne got the starter's gun from John Warren for practice starts. Carl Maxey was moving down the track at a fast clip. Wally Still churned his legs for more speed and even picked up the javelin for a couple of practice tosses.

High jumpers were bounding over the bar. Bill Beifuss got his leaps in early and jogged around track a couple of times. Wyn Wright practiced on the jump and also worked on speed for his hurdle events.

Shot Put Weak

The boys were hustling in every event. They were training for a meet that meant a lot. Oregon fell to State in football, basketball, and once in track. The meet Saturday is the big question mark.

Weak spot for the Ducks now. according to Hayward is the shotput. Chuck Elliot was cut from the squad last week and this leaves a big hole to be filled.
