

DUCK TRACKS

Friday and Saturday, the 21st annual Oregon high school track and field meet will be held at Bell field, Corvallis, with preparations being made for some 400-odd cinder stars. Both A and B schools will compete marking the first time this has been done.

Preliminaries in all events except the 880-yard run, the mile, high jump, and pole vault will be held Friday, and the finals are to come off the following Saturday afternoon. Individuals participating will be limited to three events and the relay, with 19 entrants competing in each event.

Defending titlists are the Bend Lava Bears, who nosed out Ashland by a half-point last year. Favorites for this meet seem to be centered around the southern Oregon schools of Medford, Klamath Falls, and Grants Pass, with Eugene, Cottage Grove, and Jefferson and Washington of Portland as outsiders.

Fullerton Out to Crack Record

George Fullerton, outstanding Ashland miler will be back to defend his crown and take a shot at breaking his own record of 4:24. Strongest competition for him will come from Benson's Indian runner Jim Newcomb, who turned in a 4:34 mile last weekend.

In the dashes, Bill Brainerd of Grants Pass and John Freeman of Salem in Portland have both turned in 10:1 in the 100. Freeman was clocked at 22:6 in the 220, and in addition throws the shot 49 feet or better.

Washington's Ben Newcomb has the best pre-meet record in the shot put with a heave of 50' 1/4" in the Portland finals, while Pat Duff of Grant can toss the iron ball 48 feet. Lyle Dickey, Lincoln, is still unbeaten in the pole vault, having turned in a best this season of 12' 2".

Grants Pass Strong in Relays

The Grants Pass relay team of Parsley, Walsell, Reeter, and Brainerd has been clocking off the best time in the state for the 880-yard sprint, turning in a 1:32.7 at Medford last Saturday. This is even better than the mark of 1:33.2 which they set at the Hayward relays this spring.

Warren Windnagle's record of 1:56.2 in the half mile which has stood since 1912 stands little chance of being bettered, Werner of Medford having the best time this year at 2:01.1. Another powerful point-man for the Black Tornados is Singler in the 200-yard low hurdles. He set a new meet record at Medford in his last outing, clearing the barriers in 22.9.

His strongest competitor in the hurdle events will probably be from Hillsboro's Jerry Doyle, brother of Oregon's trackster Jack Doyle. Jerry has been practically a one-man team for the Spartans this season in the dashes and hurdles events.

Huskies Wind Up Spring Football

From Seattle, word comes that Pest Welch wound up spring football practice last Saturday with a "white team," holding most of the backfield power, trouncing the "purples," who had the line strength, 27-6.

The Husky coach used his veterans sparingly, with the result that some of last year's reserves showed plenty of promise. Standouts included backs Dick Ottele, Fred Provo, and Sam Robinson, and linemen Mel Davis, Chuck Olson, Ernie Stein, and Gail Bruce.

Finishing the northern division schedule with no losses in four matches, Oregon's golfers will begin preparations for the finals to be held at Moscow, Idaho May 24. The Duck Divoters won all of their dual meets by comfortable margins, including a 17 1/2-9 1/2 win from the runnerup Washington team.

Today, the sputtering Oregon baseball team will hit the campus with their chances for their fifth straight division pennant definitely faded. The diamonds seemingly hit the fan after winning their first road game from Washington State, as they lost the finale to the Cougars and then dropped their next game to Idaho.

They momentarily broke the streak to level the Vandals 11-2, as the Duck bats awoke, but the Huskies quickly applied the cooler, winning two straight. All of the Webfoots' hopes now rest on the final of the two-game Washington-WSC series, and the contests which the Cougars and Huskies have remaining to play with the lowly, yet dangerous Idaho nine.

Howard Hobson's squad opens its four-game series with the Beavers next Saturday at Corvallis, with the next Eugene game slated for Howe field Monday, May 19, against the Staters. Washington plays Idaho Friday and Saturday and then opens their all-important series with the Cougars Monday and Tuesday at Pullman.

Delts, Sig Eps, Minturn, K. Sigs Notch Wins as Field Narrows

YESTERDAY'S RESULTS

Delts 1, Hunter 3
Sig Eps 10, SAE 6
Minturn 15, Sherry Ross 9
Kappa Sigs over Omega hall by forfeit

The Delts won the right to participate in the IM softball semifinals yesterday afternoon as they notched up their fourth straight victory of the season at the expense of Hunter hall, 7-3. In opening games the Sig Eps capitalized on their hitting power and numerous SAE bobbles to win a 10-6 decision, and Minturn hall came from behind to swamp Sherry Ross, 15-9. The Kappa Sigs won by forfeit when Omega hall failed to appear.

Delt Hurler Wild

Despite an occasional streak of wildness, ace Delt Hurler Chuck Larsen kept eight Hunter safeties well scattered, as his teammates successfully defended their unblemished record by a score of 7-3.

Jeb Smith and Bob Kehrli honored to pace the victors, who collected three runs in a third inning splurge.

Chaney Connects

The Sig Eps opened their encounter with the SAEs in rousing fashion by combining two singles, a walk, and a double by Swede Carlson for a trio of runs in the initial inning.

In the second the losers narrowed the SPE lead to a single run, but were unable to keep pace for the remainder of the game, as the Sig Eps pushed across seven more runs in the final frames. Bob Chaney connected for a round-tripper in the fourth for the only circuit blow of the loosely played affair.

Homers Not Enough

Minturn hall overcame a two-run deficit in its final time at bat and, aided by several Sherry Ross miscues, succeeded in putting six tallies across the platter. Dick Reiner and Woody Carson clouted round-trippers for Sherry Ross in the final frame but could not overtake the Minturn hall sluggers.

Two IM Games Friday

Two make-up games are scheduled for Friday afternoon, winding up the regular IM season. Hunter hall will meet Stitzer at 4:00, and the Betas and Campbell club will play at 5:00.

DU, Phi Delt Netmen win

The Du and Phi Delt netmen garnered quarter-final positions in the intramural tennis tournament yesterday by downing the Sigma Chi and Theta Chi squads.

In the DU-Sigma Chi clash Herb Tainer bested Warren Carlin, 6-1, 6-0, in the singles match, and the DU doubles team of John Weisel and Doc Payne put down Dave Waite and Bob Hammel of the Sigma Chis, 6-8, 6-4, 7-5, for the margin of victory.

The Sigma Chi doubles team of Marsh Gloss and Don Gassaway won over Larry Holden and Jim Nelson of DU, 6-3 and 7-5.

Jim Thoburn, Phi Delt singles man, defeated Theta Chi's Whizzer White 6-3 and 6-3 while the Phi Delt doubles squad of Don Noel and Tom Davis were slipping by Tom Collie and John Coursey 6-2, 2-6, 6-3. The third match was not finished.

Other tennis squads still in the running for play-off berths include SAE, Fijis, Betas, Kappa Sigs, SAM, Sig Eps, Sigma hall, and ATO.

Library Names Contest Champs

Prizes for the Library Day contest, held annually to commemorate the establishment of the University library, were announced Saturday.

Winner of the undergraduate specialized library division was J. Arnold Shotwell, senior in natural science.

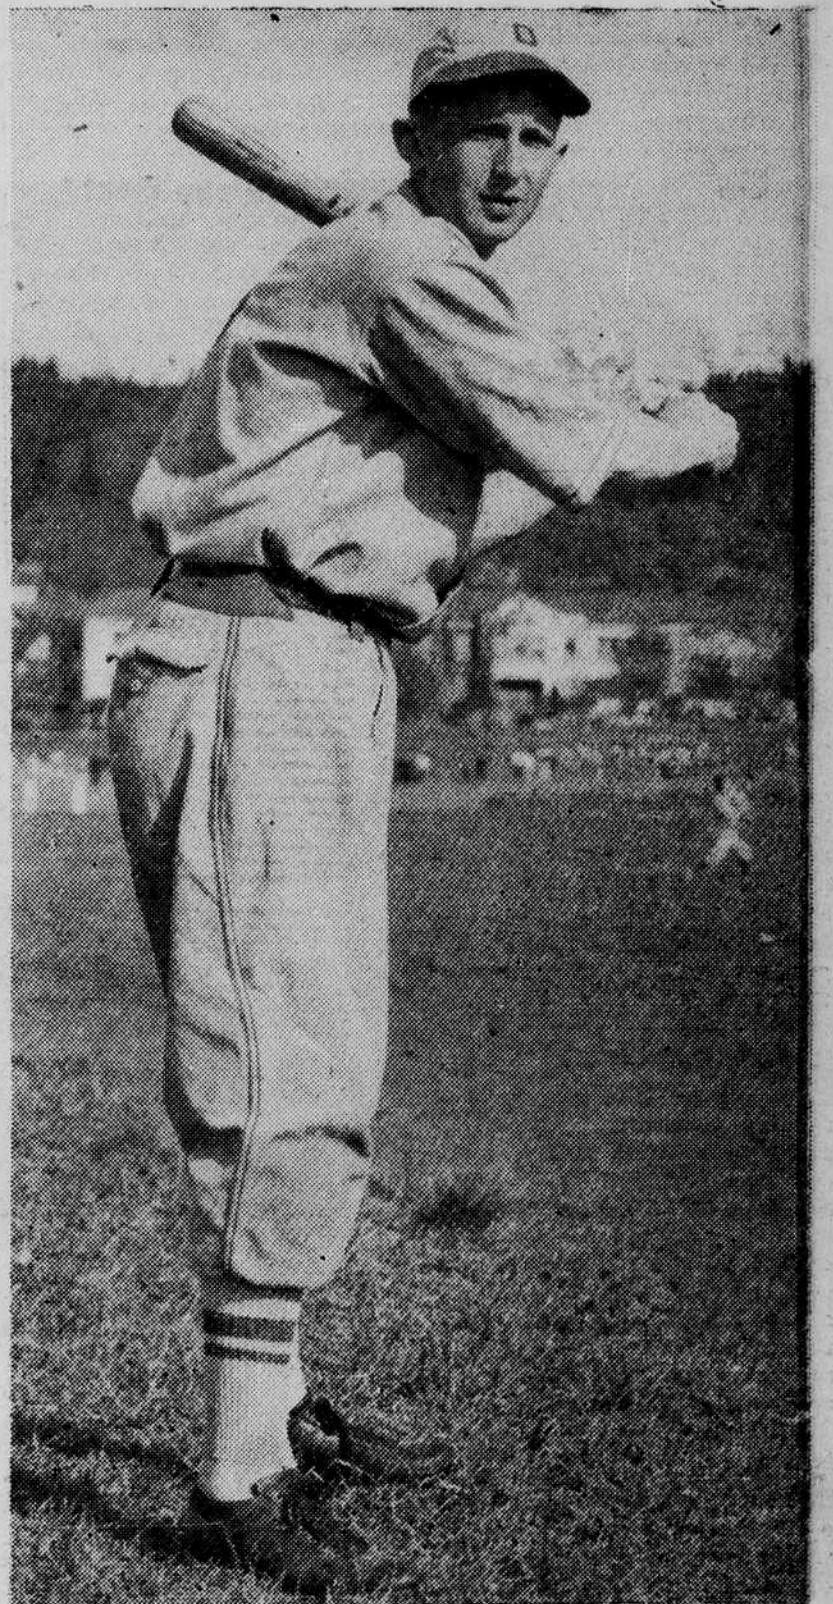

Second prize went to Borys Malkin, junior in anthropology, and third to Phyllis Wells, senior in physical education.

In the undergraduate general library contest, sponsored by the Association of Friends and Patrons of the Library, first prize was awarded Leland Huff, sophomore in chemistry.

Second and third prizes were given to Wesley Waters, sophomore in liberal arts, and Patrick R. Connor, sophomore in pre-law.

Awards for the graduate student libraries went to Bettie Mae Payne, graduate in Romance languages, first; Frederick Waller, graduate in English literature, second; and Howard K. Zimmerman Jr., graduate in chemistry, third.

Golf originated when the Scot shepherds amused themselves by batting rounded pebbles across the moors with their shepherd's crooks.

DICK WHITMAN... the "Bird Dog," this year sports the uniform of the Montreal Royals of the International league. Whitman was a baseball star at Oregon before the war and then graduated to the Big Time. Last year he played with the Brooklyn Dodgers but this year was farmed to Montreal as the season opened.
