Quiet Assembly Upset By Single Darkhorse

Pre-Announced Candidates Nominated; Twenty-Five Students to Vie Tuesday

By BOBOLEE BROPHY

Only one "dark horse" candidate appeared on the election slate at the nominating assembly in McArthur court last night. He is Steve Gann. Nominated by Jerry Williams, Gann entered the race as a candidate for yell king.

All other nominations went off as scheduled in the slates released to the Emerald last week. Gann's name will not appear on the ballot and must be written in, Gil Roberts, first vice-president of the ASUO, announced last night.

Craig Nominates

Wilbur Craig nominated Stan Williamson as the ASA candidate for ASUO president, and Howard Lemons, ISA, was nominated for the same position by Warren Miller.

Jeanne Simmonds received the ISA nomination for the second ASUO position, and Bobbie Fuller was nominated for this position on the ASA ticket. They were nominated by Catherine Crombie and Hazel Trollinger, respectively. Miss Fuller did not appear to give her acceptance speech due to illness.

Council Nominees

Curtain to Rise Tonight for 'Joan'

Formal Opening for Player's Play Scheduled for 8:30 in Guild Theater

A "first night" audience will witness a unique play-within-a-play tonight as Maxwell Anderson's successful "Joan of Lorraine" opens in the Guild Theater. The curtain will rise at 8:30, according to E. L. Clark, director of the production.

Robert Over, box office manager, said late yesterday that a few seats were still available for tonight's presentation. Res-

Dance Concert Slated Tonight

Orchesis Honorary To Present Dance

Members of Orchesis, national women's modern dance honorary, will present their annual dance concert tonight beginning at 8 o'clock in Gerlinger hall. A dance festival, the concert will feature modern, square, and folk dancing. Participating in the program will be members of both junior and senior Orchesis.

Members of the sophomore, junior, and senior professional physical education classes will participate in some of the square and folk dancing numbers.

All of the modern dances have been composed by Orchesis under the direction of Miss Rosamond Wentworth, assistant professor of physical education and adviser for the group. A major part of the program is modern dance, supplemented by the square and folk dancing numbers. Besides the new dances composed this year, repeated dances from last year's concert will have new variations in movement and floor pattern.

Beverly Bennett, publicity chairman for the concert, has announced that there is limited seating space and those desiring good seats should come early. No charge will be made for admission and the public is invited, Miss Bennett said.

Oregans Ready Today At McArthur Court

Oregans will be distributed at McArthur court starting at 8 o'clock today. Mrs. Robbieburr Courtney announced yesterday afternoon. Only 475 books arrived from Portland, Mrs. Courtney pointed out, so it will be a matter of "first come first served," she said.

ervations must be made by phoning university extension 216.

The production, which will also be presented May 24, 28, 29, 30, and 31, stars Mary Hoch and Bill Countryman, both of whom are well-known to Theater Guild audiences.

Tonight's opener will be formal. Men should wear dark suits and women are asked to wear formals.

The play, which recently starred Ingrid Bergman in a successful presentation in New York, tells the story of a Broadway company's rehearsal of a play about Joan of Arc. All members of the cast play two parts in the unusual drama.

Others in the University production are Gene Deutschmann, Peggy Randall, Nina Sue Ferniman, Gene Gillard, John Moore, Elton Allen, Bob Cockburn, Ken Chapman, Duff Young, Louise Clouston, Mary DiLoreto, Paul Bender, Irving Steinbock, Norman Weekly, Alan Button, Dick Rayburn, Keith Cockburn, Bill Duhaine, Ken Lomax, and Elton Allen. Marilyn Wherry is assistant director.

All presentations after tonight will begin at 8 p. m.

Emerald Dinner Set Tonight at 6

The traditional Emerald banquet, held annually to honor the present editor, the new editor, and the year's Emerald workers, will be held tonight at 6 in the east dining room of the Eugene hotel. Guest speaker will be W. Verne McKinney, editor and publisher of the Hillsboro Argus.

Emerald "O" pins for two years work on the paper, and certificates for one year's service will be awarded to both news side and ad side members of the staff.

Bob Frazier, the new editor and Bob Chapman, the new business manager, will be introduced at the dinner, and they will reveal their staffs for the 1947-48 year at that time.

ASUO Nominees

STANLEY WILLIAMSON

HOWARD LEMONS

BOBBIE FULLER

JEANNE SIMMONDS

ASA Platform

Stan Williamson, ASA candidate for ASUO president, announced in his acceptance speech last night that he would regard the responsibility of president above that of a member of the basketball team if elected.

"I will not, under any conditions, tolerate a basketball government, and if necessary, I will discontinue athletics to discharge the duties of this position," he announced.

Planks in his platform included the building of a student union, development of the Oregon federation, consolidation of student contributions into one drive, and the restoration of the millrace.

Speaking of the necessity for a student union building as a focal point for student activities, Wil-

ISA Platform

Howard Lemons, ISA candidate for ASUO president, in his acceptance speech announced his intention of making the executive council more of a voice of the students.

He revealed his plan to notify house presidents when applications for positions are being considered and have them inform the students so that all who are interested may petition.

Lemons said that he regarded the chance to be student president an opportunity to restore prestige to the executive council. He blamed much of the lack of faith in it upon political squabbling when the interests of the student body should have been considered.

"While ASA and ISA have battled, the administration has lost

ASUO Sets Polls At Mac Court, 'Y'

ASUO polling places will be open Tuesday from 8 a.m. to 6 p.m. in the YMCA and McArthur court, Gil Roberts, first vice-president of the ASUO, said yesterday.

Registration cards will be the only accepted identification for voting students. Upon presentation of the card, the name will be checked from the poll books and the cards will be stamped, Roberts said.

Ballot counting will begin immediately after the polls close and should be completed by 9:30 p.m. Roberts, Dick Williams, educational activities manager, and George Hall, dean of men, will be in charge of the tabulation and will be assisted by 24 others.

Summer Group To Total 1500

One out of every five to six students now enrolled in the University is expected to register for summer classes when advance registration is held next Monday through Thursday, according to the results of a recent poll conducted by members of the journalism and public opinion class under Warren C. Price, associate professor of journalism.

The estimated enrollment for the first summer session is somewhere between 1500 and 1700 students, with around 500 of these entering the University for the first time, according to D. E. Clark, director of the summer sessions. These figures are slightly larger than the enrollment for last summer.

Advanced registration for the first summer session, June 17 to July 25, will begin at 8 a.m. Monday, May 26 and close at 5 p.m. Thursday, May 29. Students not registering during this four day period will have to wait until June 17 to enroll for summer classes.

Registration material will be issued from the registrar's office in Johnson hall. The registration procedure is the same as for spring term, with the exception of the method of filing class cards, which will be left at the registrar's office instead of with the individual instructors.
